CHRONOLOGY OF 1905.

BRIEF RECORD OF YEAR'S PRINCIPAL EVENTS.

Internal Disturbances in Russia and Independence in Norway—Gloss of the War in the East—Many Great Names in List of Dead.

Most significant of the events of 1905, because it indicates unmistakably the inexorable advance of mankind toward high ideals of liberty, justice and perfect civilization, is the political and economic upheaval now taking place in Russia. Wearying under a load of taxation, rendered well-nigh unbearable by added burdens imposed by the prosecution of a disastrous war, the peasantry and common people started a revolt against the tyrannical aristocracy, and have been able to force from their unwilling ruler many concessions tending toward a free citizenship. Massacre and rapine, in which the Jews were the chief sufferers, are part of the price paid for the advantages gained. Another impressive proof of civilization's advance is the bloodless revolution by which Norway has dissolved its political connection with Sweden and seated a king upon its long unoccupied throne. The recent exposure of graft and fraud in high financial circles and last summer's labor troubles in Chicago are only incidents of the constant conflict being waged for the establishment of justice and fair treatment between man and man.

The Russo-Japanese war, after a brilliant series of land campaigns, during which one after another of the strongholds of the Russians in Manchuria fell into the hands of their opponents, and a decisive battle on the sea of Japan, that is said to have been one of the greatest naval contests of all history, has been brought to a close, and largely, we believe, by American influence.

The completion of the great Simpson tunnel was the accomplishment of another great engineering feat, and the Lewis and Clark Exposition in Portland, Ore., presented to the world a record of achievement in all lines.

Great disasters have been fewer than usual, though tornadoes in Oklahoma and Kansas destroyed more than five hundred lives, and earthquakes, fire and railway wrecks have done their dread work.

The year's list of famous dead contains the names of many men and women noted in the arts, statecraft, philanthropy and business.

The principal events of 1905 are briefly summarized below:

- 1—Opening of Lewis and Clark Exposition in Portland, Oregon. Earthquake in Montenegro. Two hundred drown in wreck of steamer in Princeton, N. H.
- 2—Japan shaken by earthquake.
- 3—Crown Prince Frederic William of Germany marries Princess Marie of Schleswig-Holstein. Norway declares her independence of Sweden.

Several years ago my blood was bad and I had in addition a dreadful case of Catarrh. My nose was stopped up, my head ached, my ears rang, my eyes were sore and I felt as if I were being attacked from all sides. I was recommended the use of S. S. S. on the recommendation of a friend, and in a short time I was cured and sound and well. I put my blood in good condition and I have never had the slightest return of the Catarrh since that time.

Self-Supporting Park.
Following the example of many European cities, Los Angeles, Cal., will turn Griffith Park, with an area of 3,000 acres of brush land, into a commercial forest. Four experts, with a view to converting this practically waste piece of land into a productive forest, made a comprehensive planing place for the trees, which will not only pay for its cultivation and care through the sale of mature timber, but will prove a constant source of pleasure and recreation for the citizens of Los Angeles. Los Angeles is the first American city to adopt this plan, but it is predicted that other municipalities in this country will soon follow in its footsteps.

Controlling Nature.
Everybody knows that of late years natural forces have been wonderfully subjected to man's need. We are dazzled by the spectacular achievements in steam and electricity, but are likely to forget the less noisy but no less marvelous conquest of animal and plant life. Horses are swifter and cheaper, cows give more milk and sheep finer fleeces than in days gone by. In plants the transformation is even more marked. People now living can remember when the number of edible fruits and vegetables was far less than at present and even those that could be grown were vastly inferior to what we now have. For example, our parents knew nothing of the tomato, except as a curious ornament in the garden. Sweet corn was hardly better than the common field sorts. All oranges had seeds. Celery was little known and poor in quality. In the flower bed the magnificent pansy has replaced the insignificant heart's ease from which it was developed, and the sweet pea in all its dainty splendor traces its origin to the common garden vegetable.

This progress has been made in spite of the great tendency manifested in all plants and animals to go back to the original type. It is indeed a battle to keep strains pure and up to the standard and they have already attained, let alone any improvement. The practical results are accomplished by men operating largely for love of the work, like Luther Burbank, in California, and Eckford in England, as well as by the great seed merchants, D. M. Ferry & Co., of Detroit, Mich., who are not only eternally vigilant to hold what ground has been gained, but have a corps of trained specialists, backed by ample means, to conduct new experiments. The results of their experiences can be found in their 1906 Seed Annual, which they will send free to all applicants.

Professional Jealousy.
"Mr. Dustin Star says he isn't going to endow any more libraries."
"But I thought he was devoted to literature. He has written books himself."
"That's the trouble. The people let the dust lie on his books and stand in line to get 'Maxie's Wooling' and 'When True Love Was in Bloom' and works of that character."—Washington Star.

CATARRH ANNOYING-DANGEROUS

Catarrh is usually regarded as nothing more serious than a bad cold or slight inflammation of the inner skin and tissues of the head and throat, when it is, in fact, not only a vexatious and troublesome disease, but a complicated and dangerous one. It is true that Catarrh usually begins with a cold in the head, but when the poisons, which are thrown off through the secretions, find their way into the blood, it becomes a constitutional trouble that affects all parts of the body. It has more annoying and disgusting symptoms than any other disease. There is a sickening and offensive discharge from the nostrils, a constant buzzing noise in the ears, headaches and pains in the eyes are frequent, while filthy, tenacious matter drops back into the throat requiring continual hawking and spitting, and in certain stages of the disease the breath has an odor that is very offensive. Catarrh is worse in winter, because the cold weather closes the pores and glands, and the poisons and unhealthy vapors which should pass off that way are thrown back on the tender linings and tissues, causing the inflammation which starts the unhealthy secretions to be absorbed by the blood. When the blood becomes diseased with this catarrhal matter all kinds of complications may be looked for. As the blood circulates through the body the foul matter finds its way into the stomach, ruining the digestion and producing chronic dyspepsia, or Catarrh of the stomach. It also affects the kidneys, bladder and other members of the body, while the general health is weakened, appetite lost and the patient feels despondent and half sick all the time. But worst of all, if the trouble is not checked the lungs become diseased from the constant passage of poisoned blood through them, and Catarrh terminates in Consumption, the most fatal of all diseases. You cannot get rid of Catarrh by treating it with sprays, washes, inhalations, etc., because they only reach the membranes and tissues, while the real cause of the trouble is in the blood. These relieve the annoying symptoms for a time, but the poison is all the while getting a stronger hold on the system and when they are left off will manifest itself in worse form than before. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and when it has cleansed the blood, this pure, rich stream circulates through the body, carrying healthful properties to the diseased parts. Then the inflamed membranes and tissues begin to heal, the discharges cease, the general condition of the system is strengthened, every one of the annoying and disgusting symptoms pass away, and the patient is left in perfect health. S. S. S. is the best remedy for Catarrh. It goes right into the blood and removes all effete matter and catarrhal poison and cures the disease permanently, and at the same time builds up the entire system by its fine tonic effect. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy—non-injurious to the system and a certain, reliable cure for Catarrh. Catarrh sufferers will find our free consulting department helpful in advising local agents to be used with S. S. S.

"Are you Hungry?" "Yes, Sam."
"Well, come along; I'll fix it."
Downtown—How did Binkers, the architect, become so poor? Uptown—He built a house for himself.
Dressmaker—And would you have leg-of-mutton sleeves, madam? Customer—Most certainly not. I am a vegetarian—Punch.
Teacher—Can you tell me the difference between "like" and "love"? Small Boy—Yes, ma'am. I like my father and mother, but I love pie.
Conductor—Why don't you get up and give that lady a seat? Passenger—She might say, "Thank you," and I have a weak heart.—Pittsburg Dispatch.
Ethel—And are you sure you love me, George? George—Sure? Ask my boss. He says if I don't stop this dreaming all day long he'll discharge me.—Puck.
"Yes, old man, we're fixing to go to housekeeping; what has been your experience with servant girls?" "Hush! Come over here where my wife can't hear."—Houston Post.
"Papa," said Ruth after her first day at school, "I don't want to go to school until I learn more, for to-day the teacher asked me ever so many things I didn't know."
Neil—Oh, my! Here's a telegram from Jack of the football team. Holl—What does it say? Neil—It says: "Nose broken. How do you prefer it set—Greek or Roman?"
Widow Wife—You'll think of me sometimes while you are away, dear? Fond Hubby—Not likely. Didn't the doctor say I was to go away for my health and avoid all worry?—Scraps.
Cholly Callow—At my rate the fortune-teller said I had the make-up of a gentleman about me. Miss Snapper—About you? Then why in the world don't you put the make-up on?—Chicago News.
"Wonderful thing—this eddiction," said the old man. "In what way?" "In this way: John knows just enough Latin, an' Greek, an' French to know nothin' at all about makin' a livin'!"—Atlanta Constitution.
"Haven't you ever thought of going to work?" asked the farmer's wife of Sauntering Sam. "Yes'm," replied the veteran tramp, "I thought of it once—but I was delecterous at de time."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
Meeks—My wife called me up on the phone six times to-day. Weeks—What for? Meeks—The last five times were for the purpose of calling me down because I didn't answer the first time she called me up.—Philadelphia Inquirer.
"Have you 'The Art of Making Up'?" asked the lady of the clerk in the book store. "I don't think I have, ma'am," replied the young man. "I quarreled with my wife a week ago, and I can't get her to say a word to me."—Yonkers Statesman.
"See here!" snapped the landlord, who had responded to the tenant's hurry call for a plumber. "I thought you said the water in your cellar was two feet deep. It's only a few inches." "Well, that's as deep as my two feet," retorted the tenant, "and that's too much."
"I don't see what a man wants with two wives!" snorted Mrs. Enpeck, as she threw down a paper containing an account of the Smoot case. "I don't either," said Mr. Enpeck fervently. "It must have been the way he said it that made Mrs. Enpeck so mad."—Louisville Courier-Journal.
"There are great things in store for you," said the fortune-teller to the young man; "but there will be many obstacles to overcome. There is a woman continually crossing your path, a large woman with dark hair and eyes. She will dog your footsteps persistently." "Yes—I know who that is." "Ah, you have seen her?" "Yes; she's my washwoman."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

It was the wedding day, and the unfortunate bridegroom was making his exit with the usual accompaniment of rice and old boots. He snatched his hat from a peg, seized an umbrella from the door, when the bride's father called after him: "You've taken my umbrella, Henry. Bring it back at once. I've six daughters, but only one good umbrella."
"Doctor," said the patient, "I believe there's something wrong with my stomach." "Not a bit of it," replied the doctor. "God made your stomach, and He knows how to make stomachs. There's something wrong with the stuff you put into it, maybe, and with the way you stuff it in and stamp it down; but your stomach is all right." And immediately the patient discharged him.
"Honesty of the Modern Kind."
"And now, my son," said the bank president, "on this the threshold of your business life I desire to impress one thought upon you. Honesty, ever and always, is the policy that is best."
"Yes, father," said the young man. "And, by the way," appended the graybeard, "I would urge you to read a little corporation law. It will amaze you to find how many things you can do in a business way and still be honest."—Minneapolis Journal.

WONDERFUL HOME TREATMENT

Start the New Year Right!

Start the new year with a clean mind and a clean body! Most people are very neat and clean in their outward appearance, but how about the inside? Are you clean inside? And if not, how can you face the New Year with clean thoughts, clear intelligence, a fair, just, and bright mind, and your full share of capacity for work and enjoyment.

The holidays are over and everybody's had a good time—perhaps a little too much of a good time. Over-eating and over-drinking have been the rule ever since Thanksgiving Day.

Many people get little exercise in winter and breathe much stuffy, over-heated inside air.

At the same time they eat too much rich and indigestible food, while fresh fruit and fresh vegetables are scarce in the market. So stomach and bowels are liable to be over-taxed.

Clog up, stretch and paralyze the large intestine by over-stuffing it with undigested food, so it can't carry off the useless refuse, and it "backs up" the sewage, and compels the small intestine to absorb the poison of decaying matter, instead of wholesome nourishment.

That's what must happen. Isn't it plain as day?

What's the result? Nearly everybody "gains in flesh" in the winter time, but it's pussy fat—not healthy flesh and muscle. The liver gets inactive; the bile doesn't "work off"; the eyes get yellow; the skin gets dead like putty and pale like dough, with boils, pimples, blackheads, liver-spots to break the monotony.

Dizziness, headaches, blurred vision, foul breath, sleeplessness and a temper like a wild cat make such persons very
