Tolstoi Was Unable to Answer.

Once in Moscow, near the Borovitch-skaia gate, he (Count Tolstoi), saw a persistent beggar, asking alms, who exclaimed: "A little penny, brother, in the name of Christ."

A police officer approached; he was young, martial, and wrapped in the regulation sheepskin. At sight of him the beggar fled, bolting away in fright and haste.

"Is it possible," said Tolstoi to himself, "that people are forbidden to ask charity, in Christ's name—in a Christian land?"

"Brother," he said to the policeman, "can you read?"

"Yes," said the officer, politely, for Tolstoi has a grand air.

"Have you read the Bible?"

"Yes."

"And do you remember Christ's order to feed the hungry?"—and he quoted the words. The policeman was evidently troubled; he turned to his questioner and asked:

"And you, sir—you can read?"

"Yes, brother."

"And have you read the police regulations?"

"Yes, brother."

"And do you remember that begging in the main streets is forbidden?"

Schools Jews.

"It is ignorance and race prejudice that lead immigration restrictionists to classify Jewish immigrants among the undesirable," declared a Chicago banker of the race. "There is no such thing as a grave Jewish problem in this country. Statistics show that the accession of hundreds of thousands of 'ignorant' and 'Russian' Jews by immigration in recent years has not burdened the rich Jews. On the contrary, it has helped to make them and the country as well richer and more prosperous. As to the differences between the liberal Americanized Jews and the newly arrived orthodox Jews there is nothing to be examined over. For instance to quarrel occasionally is but natural. But no matter how bitter the attack of the orthodox Jew on the liberalized Jew, the tenets of strict orthodox Judaism command that all differences between Jew and Jew must be forgiven and forgotten on the eve of Atonement day. No scene can be more impressive than that in Jewish homes and in orthodox synagogues on the eve of Kol Nidre, when those who have happened to quarrel during the year tearfully extend the hands to one another, earnestly praying forgiveness."

Feeling in His Art.

The singing teacher was visiting the school, and as this was an important event in the district, the pupils had been instructed to memorize a verse or two to recite for the entertainment of the visitor.

During the delivery of his lines, one small boy was especially noticeable for the action with which he accompanied his words; so much so that the teacher, surprised at his efforts, commended him highly on the ease with which he spoke and the apparent practice which he must have put on the piece.

"It was fine," she exclaimed, in closing, "and shows a large amount of rehearsal! But Johnny, where did you get the gestures?"

"Taint the gestures," replied the young genius, with a twist, "'taint the gestures; it's the lines."

IN THE NATIONAL HALLS OF CONGRESS

Monday, January 22.

Washington, Jan. 22.—The question of regulating railroad rates took practically all of the time of the senate today, notwithstanding that no bill with that end in view has been reported from the interstate commerce committee. The discussion of the subject was in connection with Clary's speech. Aldrich, Foraker, Bailey and Newlands being the principal participants in addition to Clay himself.

Clay advocated the passage of a bill which would give the Interstate Commerce commission power to regulate rates, when complained of, and said that, if there was no legislation along that line, the country might count upon agitation of the question of government ownership. In that connection, he referred to the large vote given Mr. Hearst in the late New York municipal election as an indication of the popularity of municipal ownership of public utilities.

Washington, Jan. 22.—With a point of order pending, the eight-hour clause of the Panama canal item in the urgent deficiency bill was buffeted about in debate during the greater part of today's session of the house. The debate was general and the point of order which will be made by Hogg of Colorado, or by Williams, the minority leader, can only be made when the section is considered for amendment.

While the eight-hour provision of the Panama part of the bill is what is objected to most strenuously, speeches were made for and against the administration's canal policy. Williams, the minority leader, declared the work of digging ought to be done by contract. De Armond, of Missouri, immediately contended that this could not be done successfully, and Burton, of Ohio, urged that congress should scrutinize appropriations. Hepburn, of Iowa, urged the necessity of centralization in responsibility, and wanted the president held responsible for the work.

Saturday, January 20.

Washington, Jan. 20. — The cry of graft raised in the house of representatives this afternoon caused the defeat of an amendment to an urgent deficiency bill appropriating $10,000 to supply an express deficiency in the fund used for the payment of transportation charges on silver from the subtreasury to trade centers. The amendment was proposed by General Kieler, Rep., and was opposed by Representatives Tawney, Minn., Smith, Ia., and Hill, Conn. Representative Hill raised the point of order against it. He bet. Hill charged that the appropriation was a species of graft for the express company. Smith joined in the declaration that it was no longer necessary for the Federal government to continue the appropriation, and that if the transportation of silver was not made so profitable the coin would remain in circulation longer.

Washington, Jan. 20.— Murmurings are heard in the senate of a possible revolt by the beet sugar m n against the Philippine tariff bill, taken up today by the committee of Philippines for consideration. The opposition of the beet sugar industry to the Cuban reciprocity treaty developed a strength among the Republicans of seven votes. This was enough to defeat the ratification, a two-thirds vote being necessary. The same strength could not defeat the Philippine bill, which only requires a majority.

Friday, January 19.

Washington, Jan. 19. — Reform in the matter of making deficiency appropriations agitated the house today, and the entire time was devoted to its discussion, with the exception of a sort speech for free hides by Perkins, of New York. The urgency dificiency bill was being considered under general debate order, and Littauer, of New York, in charge of the bill, set the pace by pointing out the failure of the legislation of last year to curb the heads of departments in their demands for deficiency supplies.

Thursday, January 18.

Washington, Jan 18.—There was an echo of yesterday's stormy session in the senate today, when Tillman presented his resolution directing a senatorial investigation into the removal of Mrs. Minor Morris from the white house. The resolution provoked no debate, and Tillman contented himself with a brief statement, in which he said that he would not have introduced the resolution but for the taunt of Hale. When he concluded, Daniel moved that the resolution be laid on the table, and this disposition was made of it by a vote of 54 to 8. The remainder of the day was devoted to speeches on the pure food and merchant marine bills, McCumber advocating the food measure and Mallory opposing the shipping bill.

Washington, Jan. 18.—After paying a tribute to the frigate Constitution today and ordering an investigation in order to ascertain the annual amount necessary to preserve the ship, the house devoted the day until 5:45 to the perfection and passage of a bill providing for the final disposition of the affairs of the five civilized tribes in the Indian Territory. With one or two minor amendments, the bill was passed subsequently substantially as it came from the committee. The bill provides for concluding the enrollment of Indians of the tribes and the allotment of land to them. The enrollment and allotment is made the subject of many restrictions and provisions.

Wednesday, January 17.

Washington, Jan. 17. — The recent forcible removal from the white house of Mrs. Minor Morris was made the subject of emphatic denunciation by Tillman in the senate today. His remarks called out remonstrances from Hale, Hopkins and Daniel, and led to the very abrupt closing of the doors and the sudden adjournment of the senate in the middle of the afternoon. The speech abounded in Tillman's peculiar expressions, and was characterized by many severe and exceptionally personality thrusts at the president. At times he wept over what he regarded as the indignities to the lady, and his voice and eyes were full of tears when he declared, in the face of protests from his fellow senators, that he would demand an investigation of the white house incident.

Washington, Jan. 17. — In response to the Sulzer resolution passed by the house Secretary Metcalf, of the department of Commerce and Labor, today sent to the house the report of Special Immigrant Inspector Marcus Braun, which deals at great length with the character of the immigrants coming to this country and the attitude of the European governments upon the matter. Mr. Braun declares that he has incontrovertible evidence that, while the number of aliens shipped to this country who are legally inadmissible due to disease is diminishing, immigrants inadmissible for other reasons are constantly brought into the country in large numbers "by the concerted action of some European governments and steamship agencies, by bankers and schemers of all sorts."

Tuesday, January 16.

Washington, Jan. 16. — The Philippine tariff bill was passed by the house today substantially the same as it came from the ways and means committee. The vote was 258 to 71. Rice was made subject to the same tariff as sugar and tobacco — 25 per cent of the Dingley rates — and one or two changes were made as to the language.

Washington, Jan. 16.—Unexpectedly the senate today found itself considering the railroad rate question, which was precipitated by Fulton's taking the floor to make a brief speech in explanation of an amendment offered by him to the Dolliver bill, giving to courts of justice authority to modify orders of the Interstate Commcerce commission imposing an unreasonable rate. He had not proceeded far when he was switched from a general explanation of the terms of the provision to a defense of the principle which it seeks to establish, and a general debate of the bill followed.

The merchant marine bill was then laid before the senate and Gallinger urged early attention to this subject. Scott spoke in support of the bill.

The pure food bill was then taken up and a number of committee amendments were agreed to. Hepburn gave notice that after the conclusion of the routine morning business tomorrow he would ask the senate to fix a day for taking a vote on the bill.

Continue Black Sand Experiments

Washington, Jan. 18.— The reported urgent deficiency appropriation bill today carries $80,000 to continue the investigation of mineral lands in Alaska; also $25,000 to continue the investigation of black sands at Portland.

Hague Delegates Chosen.

Washington, Jan. 22. — Secretary Root today announced that the American representatives to the approaching conference to be held at The Hague will be Joseph H. Choate, formerly ambassador to England; Horace Porter, former ambassador to France, and Judge Rose, of Little Rock, Ark., ex-president of the American Bar association. Besides these delegates there may be others, the number being conditional upon the Russian representation, and there will also be a number of secretaries, stenographers and interpreters.

Favors Alaskan Home Rule.

Washington, Jan. 16. — Senators Piles, Lodge and Allison and unofficial delegate S. S. Ryan, of Alaska, today called on the president and elicited from him a promise that Alaska should have home rule. Lodge and Allison, the two strongest men in the senate, said they favored this move, and the president heartily promised to give it his support. As a cornerstone for the new regime, he promised to appoint an Alaskan as governor to succeed Brady, who will soon resign because of the indiscretions.

Depew Will Hang On.

Washington, Jan. 22. — Discussing the rumor that Senator Depew intends to resign, Senator Platt, his colleague, said: "Of course Depew is depressed by the wild charges affecting him that have been made in the recent past, and it is very possible this depression has had some effect on his health. He will be in his seat this morning to greet his friends and face his enemies and in the senate he has lots of the one and mighty few of the other. There will be no doubt either of the warm cordiality of his reception."

Irrigation Engineers Confer.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Irrigation engineers of the department of Agriculture, under the direction of Elwood Mead, are in conference in Washington to outline the work for the coming season. A. P. Stover, of Oregon, and H. O. Raechbacher, of Idaho, are attending the meeting. These engineers are not connected with the Reclamation service, but make a special study of water resources, the use of water and drainage problems.

Stevens Testifies on Canal.

Washington, Jan. 16.—Chief Engineer Stevens, of the Panama Canal commission, appeared before the senate investigating committee today. He talked of conditions on the isthmus, discussing sanitary, labor difficulties and questions of like character, dealing with the administration of canal affairs, with greater detail and freedom than in his published report. He denied the stories being circulated of alleged importation from the United States of women into the canal zone for immoral purposes.

Proposes Assay Office.

Washington, Jan. 16.—Senator Fulton today introduced a bill authorizing the establishment of an assay office at Portland. The bill provides for an assayer and melter at $2,350; chief clerk at $1,400, and authorizes an annual expenditure of $15,000 in payment of salaries to assay employes, including the officials named. No specific appropriation is made for the office, as it is customary to make these appropriations in regular appropriation bills.

RIGHT WAY TO DRINK TEA.

Chinaman the Only One to Do It Properly—Quality Counts.

Tea drinking a la Chinese has recently become one of the amusing little fads of fashionable life. Russian tea, with its accompaniment of lemon, has given place to that delightful fragrant infusion which tourists visiting the oriental eating places of the Chinese quarters marvel at and pay fancy prices for, but which can be made quite as successfully at home if one knows how. This does not mean that only the Chinese brand of tea may be used, although to a cultivated taste it is undeniably superior, but rather that it is made as tea should be made, and it is served with all the attending customs and accessories of the flowery kingdom. The poorest Chinese laundryman or vegetable peddler, says Leslie's Weekly, drinks tea of a quality far superior to that served in the most elaborate homes or the most expensive hotels. "Melicans him boil tea—alle same medicine," once observed Toy, our Chinese cook; and one day, when speaking of the cream-and-sugar habit with tea, he scornfully remarked: "Heap, heap—tea cost hap dollar; one dollar alle same—cost fi' dollars alle same—no one can tell." Most lovers of the cup that cheers will agree with him that adding cream and sugar to very fine tea seems almost a sacrilege, and, too, that the usual method of tea-making in the average American home is bound to spoil the flavor of the very best tea. The Chinese laborer drinks tea at intervals of every half hour or so, and the beverage seems to impart an impetus for unflagging labor.

SORES THAT DO NOT HEAL

Whenever a sore or ulcer does not heal, no matter on what part of the body it may be, it is because of a poisoned condition of the blood. This poison may be the remains of some constitutional trouble; the effect of a long spell of sickness, which has left this vital stream polluted and weak, or because the natural refuse matter of the body, which should pass off through the channels of nature, has been left in the system and absorbed into the circulation. It does not matter how the poison became intrenched in the blood, the fact that the sore is there and does not heal is evidence of a deep, underlying cause. There is nothing that causes more discomfort, worry and anxiety than a festering, discharging old sore that resists treatment. The very sight of it is abhorrent and suggests pollution and disease; besides the time and attention required to keep it clean and free from other infection. As it lingers, slowly eating deeper into the surrounding flesh, the sufferer grows morbidly anxious, fearing it may be cancerous. Some of those afflicted with an old sore or ulcer know how useless it is to expect a cure from salves, powders, lotions and other external treatment. Through the use of these they have seen the place begin to heal and scab over, and were congratulating themselves that they would soon be rid of the detestable thing, when a fresh supply of poison from the blood would cause the inflammation and old discharge to return and the sore would be as bad or worse than before. Sores that do not heal are not due to outside causes; if they were, external treatment would cure them. They are kept open because the blood is steeped in poison, which finds an outlet through these places. While young people, and even children, sometimes suffer with non-healing sores, those most usually afflicted are persons past middle life. Often, with them, a wart or mole on the face inflames and begins to ulcerate from a little rough handling; or a deep, offensive ulcer develops from a slight cut or bruise. Their vital energies and powers of resistance have grown less, and circulation weaker, and perhaps some taint in the blood, which was held in check by their stronger constitutions of early life, shows itself. It is well to be suspicious of any sore that does not heal readily, because the same germ that produces Cancer is back of every old sore and only needs to be left in the circulation to produce this fatal disease. There is only one way to cure these old sores and ulcers, and that is to get every particle of the poison out of the blood. For this purpose nothing equals S. S. S. It goes down to the very bottom of the trouble, cleanses the blood and makes a permanent cure. S. S. S. enriches and freshens the circulation so that it carries new, strong blood to the diseased parts and allows the place to heal naturally. When this is done the discharge ceases, the sore scabs over and fills in with healthy flesh, and the skin regains its natural color. Book on Sores and ulcers and any medical advice desired will be furnished without charge.

I have, therefore, great faith in S. S. S. and gladly recommend it to all needing a reliable blood medicine.

WHAT JOY THEY BRING TO EVERY HOME

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.
