If Marriage Had Been a Failure.

If marriage had been a failure this civilization would not be here.

So many men are brave after the event.

Many compensations have come in life that are not included in our pay.

One of the very best remedies for unpleasant conversation is to stop talking.

Pardoned.

"Who is that distinguished-looking man?" asked the stranger.

"Dat man save me a good deal of trouble once," replied the man on the corner. "He interrupted me in de middle of a sentence and——"

"Ah, I see. You were going to say something improper and——"

"Naw! I wuz in de penitentiary an' he wuz Governor of de State at de time."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Present-Day Philosophy.

These fellows who are eating brain food in the hope of finding brains are too late.

It is better to be a man with a hoe than a rake.

Never undervalue yourself — the worl dwill do that for you.

It is within the scope of any man's fancy to be as big an ass as he pleases.

No permanent good comes out of any public movement that is inspired by malice.—American Illustrated Magazine.

The Man on the Steps.

They were going to the matinee. She was up in her boudoir putting on finishing touches, and he was sitting impatiently on the front steps.

"George," she called down sweetly, "just one minute more until I find my gloves."

Fifteen minutes passed.

"George," came from above, "wait another second. I've lost my pin."

Twenty minutes slipped by.

"George," she continued, "don't go. One moment. A button just jumped off my shoe."

Long silence. Then George calls wearily:

"Hurry a little, Ethel. If you get down in another five minutes we can make the evening performance. Matinee's over long ago."

The Real Definition.

"The legitimate drama!" said the playwright, scornfully, as Manager Fiasco handed him back his rejected manuscript. "I hear nothing but 'the legitimate drama!' What is the legitimate drama, anyway?"

"The legitimate drama," said Manager Fiasco, coldly, "comprises all those plays which their authors being dead, may be produced without the payment of royalties."

Feminine Attraction.

Dolly—Yes, the prettiest girl in our Sunday school sold kisses at 99 cents each to help along the church fair. Somehow the young men were shy about taking them at that price.

Dick—No wonder. You must have been trying to attract the girls. Young men are not looking for 99-cent bargains.—Chicago News.

Rubbing It In.

Old Skinem—Huh! So you want to marry my daughter, eh?

Young Man—Well, I guess that's about the size of it.

Old Skinem—Um—yes. Can you support her in the style to which she has been accustomed?

Young Man—I can—but I'm not mean enough to do it.

No Need of It.

"Can't I sell you a painless corn cure, madam," said the peddler.

"No, you can't!" snapped the woman of the house. "I have no painless corns."

Then the door was shut with a sudden slam.—Chicago Tribune.

The Difference.

A. H. Kirkland of Boston is conducting a fight against the moth. He has imported from Zurich a great quantity of moth parasites, and with the help of the little creatures he and the people of Massachusetts hope to obliterate the moth completely.

"Our work may succeed," said Mr Kirkland recently, "or we may err somewhere, and it may fail. It must succeed if we make no mistakes—but then, you know, mistakes are common.

"Mistakes are common everywhere. I heard a lawyer and a doctor taunting one another this afternoon about them.

"'You make a good many mistakes, I suppose,' the lawyer said.

"'You too, no doubt,' said the doctor.

"'But doctors' mistakes are often buried deep under ground,' said the lawyer.

"'Yes,' said the doctor, 'and lawyers' mistakes often swing six feet in the air!'"

Fallacy About Jewelers.

Jewelers, when watches are with them for repairs, are frequently insulted with the remak:

"I trust there is no danger of crystals being substituted for the jewels in the works of my watch."

For a great many persons think there are dishonest jewelers who make a practice, with "full-jeweled" watches, of substituting crystals for the jewels at an enormous profit.

As a matter of fact, there is no truth in this suspicion. A jeweler, no matter how dishonest, could not steal the jewels in a watch, for they are valueless; they only cost 10 cents apiece.

In antique watches the jewels were often costly. In modern watches they are never worth more than $15 a gross.

He Was Looking Ahead.

In a cozy chair Mr. Trouble Hunter sat in front of a big warm stove, but looked sad as the smoke curled from his clear Havana cigar.

His lovely wife placed her arm on the top of the chair back and with the other hand stroked his troubled brow.

"Has something gone wrong in business, dear?" she asked.

He remained silent.

"You've been disappointed over something?"

He remained silent and on his face care brooded.

"What on earth is worrying you, dear?" she asked with tears in her voice.

"I was just thinking," he said sadly, "of the approach of spring, when I'll have to take the stovepipe down."—Indianapolis Star.

Bricks from Sand.

A correspondent of Cardiff, Wales, reports that great sand dunes extend for miles along the north coast of the British Channel. These, in addition to being utterly worthless for all purposes, are also a menace to the narrow strip of lowlands between them and the hills. A company of business men have determined to put the sand to some use, and if their works prove profitable an industry will be built up on the dunes. The plan is to manufacture bricks from sand. The experiment has proved a success on the continent where the bricks are produced in several colors and take a glaze satisfactorily. Some experts claim that these bricks made of sand and lime will be the building brick of the future in Wales and the United Kingdom.

Makes a Difference.

Dwellers in apartment houses sometimes seem to forget that conversations in the entrance halls may be overheard by other tenants. This was the greeting which a belated husband received at the door of his apartment recently:

"Don't talk to me! I know very well what you would say! But I know—you have been off playing poker and lost all your money!"

"No, I didn't, my dear; I won twenty dollars," was the conciliating answer.

The other voice suddenly modulated. "Well, perhaps after all we women are a little too severe—a man should have a little recreation now and then."

Reform Needed.

"Senator," asked the reporter, "is there likely to be any reform legislation in the near future?"

"Probably not," answered the eminent statesman, "but the conviction is growing that there ought to be a change in the form of administering the oath in courts of justice."

"In what respect?"

"Well, it is felt that a witness should be sworn merely to tell the truth and nothing but the truth. Telling the whole truth is not only unnecessary in most cases, but is sometimes highly injudicious."

IN THE NATIONAL HALLS OF CONGRESS

Monday, May, 14.

Washington, May 14.—The session of the senate today passed without an exciting incident and without the adoption of a single amendment to the railroad rate bill, notwithstanding that measure was under consideration practically all the time from the hour of convening, 11 o'clock, until adjournment at 5:15 p m. The most characteristic feature of the day was the rejection of amendments. This was accomplished either by direct vote or by the process of laying on the table and one followed another in rapid sucession.

Among the provisions thus adversely disposed of were several intended to fix the liability of railroad companies for injury to employes. The presentation of provisions intended to accomplish this purpose had the effect of bringing out a practically authoritative statement that the committee on interstate commerce will report the independent house bill on that subject which is now pending before it.

When the senate adjourned, the eighth section, regulating the personnel of the Interstate Commerce commission, was under consideration and adjournment was secured at a somewhat earlier hour than usual in the hope that there could be prepared a more acceptable provision covering that subject than has heretofore been presented.

Washington, May 14. — The house had under consideration today bills relating to the government of the District of Columbia. It completed the bills reorganizing the Washington public school system, then adjourned in the absence of a quorum, postponing action on the bills under consideration. These bills will be taken up tomorrow.

Saturday, May 12.

Washington, May 12. — The senate proceedings today were devoted exclusively to the consideration of the railroad rate bill, and they included many interesting and some sensational features. The actual accomplishments of the day consisted in the completion of the consideration of the Allison amendments, covering the question of review by courts of the orders of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

There were several of these provisions and all were accepted as presented or suggested by the Iowa senator, showing an almost perfect agreement among Republican senators. Indeed, one of the noteworthy features of the day was the practical unanimity of the Republicans. They not only voted almost solidly for the Allison amendments, but were just as nearly united against opposing propositions. When an adjournment was reached, there was still prospect of the continuance of the debate for next week.

Friday, May 11.

Washington, May 11.—After passing 320 pension bills, the house today devoted much time to considering a point of order made by Tawney against an appropriation for a new steel floating drydock, provided in the naval appropriation bill. The chair held the point of order well taken, in a carefully prepared opinion.

Hepburn, of Iowa, made a vigorous attack on the court martial system of the navy, especially criticising the officers responsible for the accidents that have happened to ships of the navy.

A point of order against the appropriation for the naval training station at Lake Bluff, Illinois, was pending when the house adjourned until Monday.

Washington, May 11.—Bailey's non suspension amendment, applying to orders of the Interstate Commerce commission as covered by the railroad rate bill, which has occupied so much of the attention of the senate in connection with that bill, was today adversely disposed of by the decisive vote of 23 to 54, practically a party vote.

An amendment by Rayner confining the court review to constitutional questions was also voted down. A number of other amendments were rejected.

An amendment limiting to two years the life of the commission's orders was adopted.

Thursday, May 10.

Washington, May 10.—In connection with the consideration of the railroad rate bill by the senate, La Follette today attempted to secure the imposition of imprisonment for violations of the provisions of the Interstate Commerce law. He proposed terms from one to five years, in addition to fines from $1,000 to $20,000 for unjust discrimination, for false representation to secure business at less than the established rate.

After much discussion an amendment was adopted restoring the penalties of the old law.

Washington, May 10.—Shells and projectiles for the Navy department will, after June 30, 1906, be purchased by the bureau of Ordnance in the open market, instead of, as now the practice, in secret markets from firms engaged in the manufacture of these articles. This change in existing conditions was brought about through the efforts of the chairman of the appropiations committee, Tawney, of Minnesota, who offered an amendment to the naval appropriation bills which the house had under consideration today.

Wednesday, May 9.

Washington, May 9.—The senate spent the greater part of the day again in the consideration of the question of divorcing the production of coal and other commodities from their transportation, and closed that branch of its work by adopting a modified provision formally offered by Elkins, but originally suggested by McLaurin. There was again much sparring over parliamentary points, but there was at no time as much confusion as on Tuesday, and, when the coal question was finally closed, the progress was so rapid that the first section was entirely disposed of before the senate adjourned. Other amendments were also adopted, but a long-and-short-haul provision suggested by LaFollette was voted down by practically a party vote, all but two republicans voting against the amendment.

Washington, May 9.—Nearly the entire time of the house was today taken up by two propositions—first, whether the navy department should go into the open market and purchase anchors, chains and cordage, or continue to manufacture these articles in the government navy yards, as is now done; and, second, whether the cost of transporting coal from Atlantic and Gulf ports to the Philippines in American bottoms should be limited to $5 or $6 per ton.

On the first proposition a substitute was adopted, giving the secretary of the navy the right to purchase these articles in open market if a saving could be made.

The second proposition did not carry.

Tuesday, May 8.

Washington, May 8.—Aside from a few minutes devoted to the reception of the Allison amendments to the railroad rate bill and a half hour given to routine business, the Senate devoted its entire session today to the ineffectual consideration of the Elkins amendment, prohibiting common carriers from engaging in mining coal or in the production of other commodities in competition with shippers, and adjourned at 5 p. m. in a state of great confusion as to the exact subject before it. The disorder was due to the fact that a number of substitutes for amendments to the original amendment were introduced. During the day, the Senate decided in the affirmative the disputed point that under the agreement the chair can entertain a motion to lay on the table. It refused, however, by a vote of 29 to 47 to lay the Elkins provision on the table. That amendment and the various motions will therefore be in order when the rate bill is taken up tomorrow.

Washington, May 8.—The House of Representatives devoted the day to the naval appropriation bill, and accomplished the reading for amendment of the first 15 pages. During this time several topics incident to the measure were discussed, including the difficulty of obtaining enlisted men in the navy, the location of the naval training station on the Great Lakes, the cost of smokeless powder, and finally the expenditure of 200,000 a year for chains for ships. This last matter was under consideration when the House adjourned.

The army appropriation bill was sent to conference with all of the Senate amendments disagreed to.

Chandler Will Strike Back.

Washington, May 15.—There is to be another chapter to the exciting senate incident Saturday, when the president denounced as an "unqualified falsehood" the statement attributed to ex-Senator Chandler that the president had harshly criticized Senators Spooner, Knox and Foraker in connection with the railway rate contest. Mr. Chandler tonight merely replied to an inquiry that it was late in life for him to be accused of a falsehood by a president and that he would have something to say at length within 48 hours.

May Vary Size of Farms.

Washington, May 8.—The house today passed the bill authorizing the secretary of the interior to fix farm units on government irrigation projects anywhere from 10 to 160 acres, according to the productivity of the soil and the kinds of crops that can be raised. The bill contains a provision authorizing the sale of lots in the townsites of Rupert, Hoyburn and Sherer, Idaho, the expenses to be defrayed from the reclamation fund. Until this bill passes, these lots cannot be sold, for the land office has no funds to sell them under the general townsite laws.

California Needs Another Judge.

Washington, May 15.—The members of the California delegation in congress today met in conference with Secretary Metcalf and discussed the question of an additional circuit judge for California, as well as the urgent need of liberal appropriations both for the construction of new federal buildings in San Francisco and the proper repairing of others. Insurance litigation will, it is believed, make an additional judge imperative.

Jiminez Plans Revolution.

Washington, May 15.—Reports have reached the State department of the organization of another revolutionary movement directed against the government of President Caceres, of Santo Domingo. It is understood that the island of Porto Rico is the base of operations, and it is supposed that ex President Morales and Jiminez are the leaders of the movement. Instructions have been sent to the insular governor of Porto Rico to take steps to carry out the neutrality laws, which would prevent departure of hostile expedition.

Navy Men Did Well.

Washington, May 8.—Acting Secretary of the Navy Newberry has laid before the president a report of cases of gallantry and signally efficient performances of duty by officers and men of the navy in connection with the San Francisco disaster. The data were collected by direction of the president, and the acting secretary's report embodies extracts from letters and telegrams from Rear-Admiral Goodrich, commander-in-chief of the Pacific squadron; Rear-Admiral B. H. McCalla, and Lieutenant-Commander Henry C. Haines, of the marine corps.

Cuba Wants Better Terms.

Havana, May 8.—A sub-committee of the joint committees of all the commercial and industrial associations of Cuba has submitted to the full committee a report on the general basis for the negotiations for a new commercial treaty with the United States. It is understood the full committee approves of the report. It is said the report asks for more favorable treatment for sugar, for which Cuba would be willing to give more favorable treatment to American cottons and food products.

THE WINNING STROKE

If more than ordinary skill in playing brings the honors of the game to the winning player, so exceptional merit in a remedy ensures the commendation of the well informed, and as a reasonable amount of outdoor life and recreation is conducive to the health and strength, so does a perfect laxative tend to one's improvement in cases of constipation, biliousness, headaches, etc. It is all-important, however, in selecting a laxative, to choose one of known quality and excellence, like the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., a laxative which sweetens and cleanses the system effectually, when a laxative is needed, without any unpleasant after effects, as it acts naturally and gently on the internal organs, simply assisting nature when nature needs assistance, without griping, irritating, or debilitating the internal organs in any way, as it contains nothing of an objectionable or injurious nature. As the plants which are combined with the figs in the manufacture of Syrup of Figs are known to physicians to act most beneficially upon the system, the remedy has met with their general approval as a family laxative, a fact well worth considering in making purchases.

It is because of the fact that SYRUP OF FIGS is a remedy of known quality and excellence, and approved by physicians that has led to its use by so many millions of well informed people, who would not use any remedy of uncertain quality or inferior reputation. Every family should have a bottle of the genuine on hand at all times, to use when a laxative remedy is required. Please to remember that the genuine Syrup of Figs is for sale in bottles of one size only, by all reputable druggists and that full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co., is plainly printed on the front of every package. Regular price, 50c per bottle.

What Father Thought.

A New York teacher of instrumental music was one day telling the father of a pupil, a lad of 10 years, of the progress made by the boy in his studies. "I think he is improving a great deal," said the professor. "He will certainly learn to play the piano."

"Is that so?" asked the father, much gratified. "I didn't know whether he was really improving or whether I was merely getting used to it."—Harper's Weekly.

WASTED TO A SHADOW,

But Found a Cure After Fifteen Years of Suffering

A. H. Stotts, messenger at the State Capitol, Columbus, O., says:

"For fifteen years I had kidney troubles, and though I doctored faithfully, could not find a cure. I had heavy backaches, dizzy headaches and terrible urinary disorders. One day I collapsed, fell insensible on the sidewalk, and then wasted away in bed for ten weeks. After being given up, I began using Doan's Kidney Pills.
