ALL FOR LOVE.

Mr. George Mayger has returned to and, in company with a young woman ticket won by about 25,000 majority. who had the endere enjoyed the respect of her associates, left Oregon, And Mr. We were ashamed of Columbia County self." Better men have died for love, of the State of Oregon, and better still have lived for love. was not. Of all the crimes that were 15,000; and he never sweat a hair, ever committed in the name of lave this was one of the worst, most inexcusable and most brazen. True love never omits the element of respect. It need not idealize or be blind, but it is in the web and woof and will not wear out It sustains the shocks of poverty and smoothes away all the perty fraities and weakness of married couples. It is something for everyday use, and without it the name of wife loses its sweetness and the home its sanctity. It eaters into the business affairs of men and encourages them to adhere to honor and uprightness for the sake of the dear ones at home, and many a man whose footsteps might have wandered from the paths of rectitude has been saved to usefulness by the strong tie of a good woman's love. When a man leaves everything that he should hold sacred and in mature manhood deliberately wicked woman, drags a woman down, he does not do it for love, whatever else his motive may

For Olive Barnes there may be pity. She has paid the fall penalty of her sin, but Mr. Geo. Mayger will not escape unwhipt. It is impossible that all the sorrow and suffering must forever be the lot of the victim. Sooner or later the greater criminal will be brought to punishment.

Mr. Mayger, in a recent letter to the Oregonian, adds insult to injury by the following statement:

"Now there has been so much said in relation to the affair of our elopement I wish myself to give an account of the affair. I first met Miss Barnes at the Roosevelt reception, given three years ngo last Murch, and we kept steady company until the time of our slupement, so we both knew very well what we were doing, and we talked the matter over from every standpoint. She was old enough to know, and so was 1, and we have no apologies to offer. was not divorced from my wife and 1
