OUR COUNTY.

Take a look at the article published this week on our mills and factories, then mail the paper to a friend in the East who wants to come to a live county. We are indebted for the items to the Timberman, of Portland, a paper which makes a specialty of keeping track of the lumbering and kindred industries. Of course it does not show all that is being done, but enough to make it clear that business in every part of the county is booming as never before, as these items are taken from a single issue of a trade paper.

It says nothing of the great dairying industry, which has grown with astonishing rapidity and has extended from a comparatively small section in the south end of the county until now the cream cans go to Portland daily from the most remote portion of the Nehalem Valley, with the result that a constantly increasing stream of profit is flowing into the pockets of our small dairymen, who but a few years ago were unable to realize any profit whatever from their cows. We are at the door of a great market and as fast as the logging camp takes the timber from the soil there will be opportunities in all lines of agriculture. The progress that has been made in the past is as nothing to that which will be made in the immediate future. Within two years the Hillsboro-Nehalem road will be completed to a junction with the Northern Pacific at Scappoose, and the products of the Nehalem Valley will be within two hours conveyance to the metropolis. Not only will those who have kept their faith for so many years be rewarded, but there will be homes for thousands of new settlers. Stump land can now be bought for a nominal price (probably from $2.50 to $5.00 an acre) that within four years will be worth five times that amount. No section of country in Oregon offers such splendid inducements to the intelligent agriculturist (especially the fruit grower). We have repeatedly demonstrated the superior quality of our fruits in competition with Hood River and Southern Oregon. One acre of Northern Spy apples will yield a profit to the intelligent, up-to-date grower, of from $250 to $500 and even $700 annually. This is no dream or fairy story but can be proven to any one who is looking for an investment.

What, then, hinders the more rapid development of the county? Nothing except the fact that we do not advertise, and no transportation company is sufficiently interested to do the advertising for us. You will look in vain for any advertisement whatsoever of Columbia County in the literature of the O. R. & N. or Southern Pacific Railroads. We made a better showing of our dairy cattle at the Lewis & Clark Exposition than any county in the State or any state in the Union, yet the article on dairying in the recently published pamphlet of the O. R. & N. and Southern Pacific Companies contains no mention of the fact, and Columbia County is absolutely ignored, no reference to its existence being permitted in either of these pamphlets, and very little in any publication of the Portland Chamber of Commerce.

Good settlers mean increased taxable wealth, better schools, better roads, and increased opportunities. If we want all these things we must make some effort to secure them. The county court has the right and it is its duty to take this matter up and to set aside a reasonable sum every year for the purpose of making known to prospective immigrants the great advantages presented by Columbia County.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

Fourth of July celebrations will be held next Wednesday at Vernonia, Scappoose, Deer Island, Rainier and probably at other points in Columbia County. The Mist hopes that patriotism will be stimulated by these exercises and that in the midst of their jubiliations the people will not lose sight of the fact that liberty is not license. The day should be celebrated in a manner becoming an enlightened community. It should be a day of sane enjoyment and not a carnival of drunkenness. No country on earth has greater reason to feel proud of its progress or to rejoice in its prosperity. We have solved all the problems that have confronted us from the beginning of the government and have passed through crises that threatened the life of the nation. From a feeble league of States we have become the greatest nation on the face of the earth, successfully assimilating millions who have sought our shores from all corners of the globe and making of them and their descendants a homogeneous people whose patriotism is all the more fervent because of the recollection of the persecutions and hardships suffered in their trans-Atlantic homes. We have paid and are still paying for our errors and for our weaknesses and vices, and doubtless we have very much to learn, still, with all our failings the United States is the home of refuge for the oppressed of all nations and our standing and power among the nations of the earth has become so great that our good will is earnestly desired and our services as an arbitrator sought by those who desire to avoid the horrors of war and have full confidence that the great American republic may be relied upon to act in a spirit of fairness and good will for all.

At times we have troubles of our own, and it is the most hopeful sign of the times that we have recognized existing evils and are doing our best to ascertain and apply the remedy. Between the anarchists of capital and the anarchists who plot to destroy all capital and all government we have interposed the doctrine of equality before the law, and with the President as our leader we have entered upon a campaign against those who have heretofore considered themselves exempt from control and and have amassed great fortunes by the commission of crimes in comparison with which the acts of the professed anarchist are insignificant. These contests or others similar will recur at every stage of our national development, and as we progress things that are tolerated now will become recognized evils and in turn will be the object of attack. We hope that each succeeding Fourth will be as a milestone, marking our progress toward the best that is attainable in government by the people.

Following the Flag

When our soldiers went to Cuba and the Philippines health was the most important consideration. Willis T. Morgan, retired Commissary U. S. A., of Rural Route 1, Concord, N. H., says: "I was two years in Cuba and two years in the Philippines, and being subject to colds, I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which kept me in perfect health. And now in New Hampshire, we find it the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, bronchial troubles and all lung diseases." Guaranteed at Perry & Graham's. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

SUNDAY CLOSING.

The Law to Be Strictly Enforced in Columbia County.

Mr. Martin White, Sheriff of Columbia County, acting in compliance with Judge McBride's statement at the recent term of the circuit court, has served the following notice upon all the saloon keepers of Columbia County. I call your attention to Sec. 1974 of the E. & C. Code of Oregon which provides as follows: "No person shall keep open any house or room in which intoxicating liquor is kept for retail, on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, or give, or sell, or otherwise dispose of intoxicating liquors on that day." I also call attention to the provisions in your bond for a license to sell intoxicating liquors, required by Sec. 3856 to the effect that you will not open, or permit to be opened, your place of business for the purpose of traffic on Sunday.

It was announced from the bench at the present term of our Circuit Court that these provisions of the law must hereafter be strictly obeyed, and the sheriff, constables and marshals of Columbia County were particularly instructed to enforce the law in this respect. The undersigned has been informed by the District Attorney's office that any violation of the above provisions of law will be prosecuted by that office whenever complaints are made and proofs of such violations furnished.

In accordance with the above provisions and instructions, the undersigned, as sheriff of the above named county, will hereafter strictly enforce said law, investigate violations and collect proofs thereof, and submit the same to the District Attorney's office. This notice is served upon you to give you fair warning of the matters hereinbefore stated, and no other or further notice will be given you.

The law upon the subject is as follows:

Section 1968. If any person shall keep open any store, shop, grocery, bowling alley, billiard room, or tipping house, for the purpose of labor or traffic, on the first day of the week, commonly called "Sunday," or the "Lord's Day," such person, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $50. Provided, however, that the above provisions shall not apply to theaters, the keepers of drug stores, doctor shops, undertakers, livery stable keepers, butchers, and bakers; and all circumstances of necessity and mercy may be pleaded in defense, which shall be treated as questions of fact for the jury to determine when the case is tried by jury.

Similar notice will be served upon all persons to whom the law applies.

HOUTON ITEMS.

Fine weather these days. The factory is running full time.

Mrs. Geo. Kelley has been quite sick but is improving.

A few of our citizens were going to Seaside Sunday but were left, as the train didn't stop.

T. F. Timmons and family have moved from here to Kelso, Wash. He and his son are working in a sawmill.

Mrs. Smith, the wife of our agent and her sister Mrs. Wilkes and children went to Seaside this week.

Mrs. Potts had some friends from Portland to visit her Sunday.

Dad Lake went to Carrols Sunday to visit his daughter.

Death from Lockjaw

Never follows an injury dressed with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Its antiseptic and healing properties prevent blood poisoning. Chas. Oswald, merchant, of Rensselaersville, N. Y., writes, "It cured Seth Burch of this place of the neglect sore on his neck that I ever saw." Cures cuts, wounds, burns and sores, 25c at Perry & Graham's.

LAKESIDE ITEMS.

Conductor J. H. Dobbins, his wife and daughters Lola and Baby Faye were visiting at their mother's home here last week. They have returned to Portland, from where Mr. Dobbins runs an S. P. train.

Miss Lou S. Frakes, of Portland, visited over Sunday with her mother. She had just returned from Eastern Oregon and says the crops there never looked better. Mrs. R. J. Frakes bought a millinery store at 352 Morrison street, Portland, and put her daughter in as manager of the store, and she now has a fine business.

KIST.

Frank Rutledge a telegraph operator of Portland, a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Turk, visited in the valley Saturday and Sunday.

Philip Sheley took his wool outside last Monday.

J. R. Dallas and J. H. Turk finished painting the new schoolhouse outside this week. It helps the complexion of it wonderfully.

Mrs. Jaquith, sister of Mrs. North, and her three sons, Percy, Roy and Walter arrived last Friday from Scholls for a visit. They made the trip in one day, 40 miles.

Mrs. Dallas started on Wednesday to visit her brother Ed and his new wife in Portland. She will be gone until after the Fourth; meanwhile Mrs. Foster our teacher will wield the dish rag in her stead.

The weather has cleared up and it is a merry chorus that the mowing machines make cutting the abundant crop of hay in this vicinity.

T. H. North went to Forest Grove Monday under Rev. Myers household goods. He expects to go to Mist this week to haul shingles.

At the annual school meeting Peter Bergerson was re-elected director and J. R. Dallas clerk, there only being one other party besides the school board present. All we could do was to elect ourselves over again and go home.
