THE STATE PRINTING OF-FICE AGAIN.

After a primary campaign in which virtue, personified by Willis Duniway triumphed over graft, supposed to have been represented by the incumbent, Mr. Whitney the Republican nominee was elected, and the good people supposed the taxpayers were to be relieved of a portion of their burdens; but now there seems to be some doubt as to whether reform means the same thing before and after. We are to have reform, perhaps, and perhaps not. It all depends upon whether the Legislature passes effective laws to that end, and its a very safe bet that they will do nothing more than nibble at it.

Reform of the abuses existing in the State printing office is not hard to effect, provided it is taken in hand in a practical manner. There never has been straightaway type setting, such as the est kind of graft for the printer.

The Secretary of State and the State Treasurer have also made fortunes out of their grafts, and the Governor is no exception to the rule. As they have all been grafting they have naturally stood tofeat any genuine reform. Unless they have lost their power they will continue live in ease on the interest of the money he will have accumulated.
