RESUMING WORK-A great many of the logging camps on the Columbia River resumed work yesterday, and it is thought all of them will be in operation in a short time. It is said there are ninety million feet of logs in the water and the anspension of operations has enabled the demand to eatch up with the supply. Men are still scarce and camps find it impossible to secure full crews, therefore there will be no attempt to reduce wages, but the price of board will be raised from $4.50 to $5 per week. Following are the present prices of logs: Vellow fir, $10; bastard $9, and red fir, as $12 while an inferior product has brought as low as $0. The prices quoted are the average figures realized by the loggers.
