ACCIDENT AT CLATSKANIE

Orville Baumgartner Meets Sudden Death.

Charles Orville Baumgartner, son of Isaac and Alice Baumgartner of Clatskanie, aged fifteen years, was accidentally killed by the discharge of a shotgun on Monday last, at about 10 a.m. Young Baumgartner had been out hunting and had stopped at the farm of Professor Collins, principal of the Clatskanie school, to talk to him about the opening of the school. The principal being away he was met by Mrs. Collins, and while conversing with her he leaned the butt of his gun against the watering trough. As he turned to see something passing the gun slipped and was discharged, the contents striking the boy just below the heart, causing instant death. Mrs. Myers, wife of the proprietor of the Edel Brau hotel, Portland, happened to be a witness of the tragedy and immediately saddled a horse and rode to Clatskanie for a physician, but of course it was too late for medical aid to be of any service. Young Baumgartner's funeral was held Tuesday at 2 p. m., at the M. E. church of Clatskanie, the local paster preaching the funeral service and F. H. Sherwood of Rainier conducting the funeral. The church was crowded to its utmost capacity, the young man being a favorite in the community and his parents well known and highly esteemed. The floral tributes were profuse, the grave being beautifully decorated by the boy's classmates.

Death of A. A. Merrill.

News comes from Portland that A. A. Merrill, the news of whose injury was published in the Mist two weeks ago, died at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Portland last Wednesday. Merrill has had the best expert treatment, but it was of no avail. He was a brother of Norman Merrill, of Clatskanie, and a son of Joseph and Elizabeth Merrill. The Merrills are among the most esteemed pioneers of Columbia County and Alonzo Merrill was a worthy member of the family. He was in the prime of life and had it not been for the accident, he would have had many more years of usefulness before him.

Making A Newspaper.

Did you ever count the words in a column of ordinary newspaper print? There are about 1500 words in a column. Suppose you sit down and write a thousand words on some subject, and then another thousand until you have written twelve thousand. Try and see if its right easy. Keep the gait up for a month. Then chase a local item all over town and after you have gotten all the facts condense them into a few lines—an hour's work that can be read in a few seconds. Do this for a dozen items that seem insignificant after they are printed, and have the items criticised and the inaccuracies pointed out when it is too late to correct them. Oh yes, it's easy.—Kelsonian.
