NEED STRONGER MEN

B th House and Senate Committees Weak.

MEMBERS CANNOT BE TRUSTED

It Is Feared Their Finance Legislation Would Be Weak and Favor Wall Sirect.

Washington, Nov. 12.—The recent financial disturbance in New York and the fintry in other parts of the country will result in considerable discussion of finance at the coming session of congress and will produce an unusually large number of bills to amend the banking laws. The subject will be discussed by the president in his message and the congressional record will be loaded with all kinds of talk as to the advisability of changing the currency laws of the nation. But the more con-servative men who have viewed the situation in its broadest light believe there will be no fin no'al legislation and in their judgment the talk will come to nothing.

If these views prove to be incorrect and financial legislation is undertaken, it will be mot unfortunate for the country, because the legislation will be intrusted to two committees which are not property constituted to handle a subject of this importance. The senate committee is largely composed of men who are incapable of framing safe finan-cial legislation or who would take advantage of the situation to put through legislation in the interest of Wall street rather than in the interest of the entire community. The house committee is made up almost entirely of men who are incapable of passing judgment upon a subject of such consequence.

The senate committee on finance is constituted as follows: Nelson W. Aldrich, of Rhode Island; William B. Allison, of Iowa; Julius C. Burrows, of Michigan; Thomas C. Platt of New York; Henry C. Hansbrough, of North Dakota: Boies Penrose, of Pennsylvania; Eugene Haie, of Maine; John Daniel, of Virginia; Hernando D. Money, of Mississippi; Joseph W. Bail-ey, of Texas; James P. Taliaferro, of

The house committee is composed of the following members: Charles N Fowler, of New Jersey: George W. Prince, of Illinois; WillLiam A. Calderhead, of Karsas; Liewellyn Powers, of Maine; Henry McMorran, of Michigan; Capell L. Weems, of Ohio; Elijah B. Lewis, of Georgia: Arsene P. Pujo, of Louisana; Carter Glass, of Virginia, Oscar W. Gillspe, of Texas; Olle M. James, of Kentucky; George S. Legare, of South Carolina; George D. Mc-Creary, of Pennsylvania; Joseph H. Knowland, of California; George E. Waldo, of New York; Everis A. REPORT BIG STEEL OUTPUT. Production Frobably Will Be Curtalled This Month.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 11.—Reports from the building trades reveal some remarkable conditions. Although for a number of weeks new business has been reduced to a small volume, statistics of production for the past month show that seldom in the history of the trade have such large tonnages be n trade have such large tonnages been turned out. For exan p c, the American Bridge company, the largest producer of structural material, turned out 60,000 tons last month, but sold only one-third of that amount.

A steel corporation made surprising records at Pittsburg. The Carnegie company broke records at its various plants. The Hilmois Steel company not only broke all its previous records but did so in every individual department in all three works, South Chicago Milwaukee and Jollet.

Even more surprising than all these was the blast furnace production for O.t ber, which, according to the statisa new high point in the history trade, the production being 2,352,530 tons, compared with the largest output, 2,291,030 tons in May of this year. other words the production for October was at the rate or about 28,000,000 tons

The statistics for November will doubtless tell a vastly different story. Many sheet and tin plate mills have been closed and the sheet bar mills of the steel corporation at Columbus and Beliaire are idle. The corporation now has 21 blast furnaces out of commission and independent concerns are curtailing their product. Hence it may be confidently expected that the output of both pig fron and finished materials would be much smaller this month than for any previous month of the year.

Georgia Tota Can Tell of Things At Alexander, in Butte County, Georgia, there are two little negroes who was discovered and their father made them develop it.

Many people have visited these little negroes and have them tell them things. One young attorney, who had been having a prank played on him—his shoes being filled with water every morning—decided that he would go to Alexander and find out if they could tell him who it was. He was surprised to find out they was the description came to one of his roommates, and when he returned he accused his friend of it, who, of ed he accused his friend of it, who, of course, professed ignorance of the plot against him. However, it leaked out that the attorney had been to see the little clairvoyants and that was the end of it.

When asked how many were in a certain family, one of the family being the questioner, the boy told exactly bow many; the girl hesitated and finally the number came to her. Then they told ber how many were dead.

Another story is told of their descrip tive powers. A woman went to see them and during her talk with them they said that the woman's mother was visiting a sister of the woman who was asking the questions. When this woman returned home her mother was told the story and she said that she was at the daughter's during the afternoon. Many tales are told about their remark able faculty of telling things, and the negroes believe them to be possessed of some sort of supernatural power.

President's Experiences in Cros Country Riding Near Washington. Formerly we could ride across coun try in any direction around Washington; and almost as soon as we left the beautiful tree-shaded streets of the city we were in the real country, write President Roosevelt in Scribner's. But as Washington grows it naturallyand to me most regrettably-becomes less and less like its former, glorifled village self; and wire fencing has de stroyed our old cross-country rides. Fortunately there are now many delightful bridle trails in Rock Creek park and we have fixed up a number of good jumps at suitable places a stone wall, a water jump, a bank with a ditch, two or three post and rails, about four feet high, and some stiff brush hurdles, one of 5 feet 7 inches. The last, which is the only formidable jump, was put up to please two sporting members of the administration, Bacon and Meyer. Both of them school their horses over it and my two elder boys and Fitzhugh Lee, my cavalry aid, also school my horses over it. On one of my horses, Roswell, I have gone over it myself, and as I weigh 200 pounds without my saddle, I think that the jump, with such a weight, in cold blood, should be credited to Roswell gelding. Generally he takes his jumps like a gentleman.

A "CURE" FOR CUSSING.

The Penitent Scotsman Found Illis

Lond a Heavy One. A clergyman in Scotland observed with much perturbation that a member of his congregation was greatly given to the use of strong language. Over and over again he remonstrated with the man to give up the bad habit. In time the man himself came to see the error of his ways, and desired no less earnestly to break himself of the use of bad language. The difficulty, however, was to find a method of doing so. One day the clergyman hit upon a happy thought,

"Get a bag," he said to the man, "and every time you swear put a pebble into it. At the end of the month you will bring that bag to me. I will count the pebbles and see what the effect has been."

The man accepted the idea with alacrity. He got a bag, and, religiously, every time he swore what Mr. Glibert In the "Pinafore" calls a "big, big D," be duly put a pebble into it. At the end of the month be went to the clergyman, taking the bag with him. It was not an easy task, for, as any one might see, the bag was very full and very heavy. He went into the clergyman's study and put the bag on the tasia, there are two little negroes who have some insight into the realms of the occult, says the Baltimore Sun.

The little girl is 13 and the boy is 10 years old. Their father is a negro root doctor. One day, while the mother and Hattle were at the springs, some 200 yards distant from the house, her mother told Hattle to run and get the bucket and take some water back with her. Hattle looked around and up, and seemed to study a while, and turned to her mother and said: "It is all right; Billy will be here in a minute with the bucket and take the water with him.
