Bryan was having speech phonographed who should walk in the grand Bill Taft—and they laughed.

"Morning," said Bryan, playing a look and surprise he layed down his book—and they shook.

"Come for a visit," Taft, while his hat hung on a nail the great Democrat—and they sat.

"Right!" said Bryan, "I'll be allowed sentiment Teal so often avowed"—and he bowed.

"Pose," ventured Taft, "the smile that was sweet, have just made a record I've got to beat"—very neat.

"No," Bryan laughed, "I have records for two, may make one yourself you wish so to do—after you."

Taft waved his hand with a show of suspicion, and said, "I am not machine politician"—intermission.

The old Roman calendar September the seventh month of the year brought Labor Day around in the this summer. All the unions said too hot to march far enough to any impression on capital. Like labor politician, Numa was afraid labor vote, so he pushed Septem-ber to the ninth place in the calen-der had Labor Day fall on the first of August. The unions were thus to march twice as far, and Numa to refuse a third term.

The old school bell will toll the knell of the summer joys, and the girls weekly get in line, together with boys, but the gamier youngsters ride out a few days for dissent, and the last one in will run for Pres-ident.

Summer girl will get her cat and Widow hat, and journey homeward from the sea uncertain where she's at the widow easily caressed be-cause stuck to toques, will bring a public house and show it to the tourists who have been abroad on cable trips, will loan wend wend hotel tags stuck all around their and thronging to their wake will a never-ending flow of bustled im-ports to see where they got all the September is when the autumnal equinox mosquito out. This occurs on the 23d, when the sun goes over the equator for a touchdown on the ocean and summer underwear. The man will kick goal, and Mr. Roos-eyaving Sagamore Hill, will turn to the London and the serious business of getting more shells for lions.

Older air will stimulate Presidential race, everybody will hit up little basket piece, making entry from the Platé will put up clouds of dust, the role poly man will run his like to bust.

Teddy meanwhile will observe contest through his glass, and stick the half mile post until the run-ways; and if he fears the flat will the highest priced of loons, he'll and whistle up a few old reas-sur-rence, and toss a big fat bumblebee to his back pantlions.

Then there will be doings on this too stable earth, and every Demo-ocrat will get his campaign dollar's worth; the Higgins, Debs, and all of that sequential fry, will duck into the sea and watch the big event go by; the Taft men, looking on the while he works pop and size, will hold on to and enquire, "Which cloud of is his?"

Touch of Fall will make the ritz and falling acorn thud, the crawfish will throw up his tail and burrow in the mud; dread mosquito will depart on his terrestrial scene, he'll die as, well becomes the brave with his face against the screen.

For the 23d, September will be the influence of Libra, the seventh of the zodiac. The sign of Libra presents a pair of scales held in the hand of a scorpion. It is of Chaldean origin, and is supposed to mean that about the 23d is where the ice man gets stung himself.

People born under Libra are incapable of pretense; the women never kiss women they hate, and the men play a wretched game of poker. Libra people also have no ear for music, and generally play some particularly loud instrument in the village band.

The swallow will desert the eave—And start the movement South, The farmer prime himself to spit Through early autumn's drouth; The pumpkins will grow long and gaunt With dragging on the vine, And when the time shall come for old John D. to get in line And pay his month's installment on That thirty million fine, We'll hear a horse-laugh that will give Us shivers down the spine.

The moon will be full on the 16th, and the American fleet will make the Society Island about the 12th. It is expected that it will remain there permanently, society having become its long suit.

With the advent of autumn, vice-presidential whiskeys will begin to blend with Nature's, general color scheme, and both Mr. Sherman and Mr. Kern will run a little stronger on the tails of the r tickets.

And then October will return, That glad some time and rare When the pumpkin-pie will answer "Here!" Upon the bill-of-fare.

It cannot be said that the campaign is fairly on yet. The rest of the month of August will probably be consumed in notifying the candidates for vice president.
