OUR PORTLAND LETTER

(Special Correspondence)

PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 12th 1908.

Through a telegram received from Indianapolis, where the National Association of Funeral Directors have just closed their session, comes the news that this association has chosen Portland for its 1909 convention, the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition being one of the factors in making this decision.

Rev. Herbert Frank Moulton, of Biddeford, Maine, one of the best known lecturers in the country, is featuring his lecture on the Pacific Northwest, and Oregon Development League, in connection with the commercial bodies of Washington, has furnished illustrating slides of extraordinary attractiveness.

Active publicity work resulted in such an influx of people in the more active communities of the Pacific Northwest that housing the new camera has really become a serious problem in some of the towns. New residences are being erected as rapidly as possible, and rented long in advance of their completion. In some of the fruit districts, cars loaded with household goods are occupying the tracks and the delay in their unloading is making the orchardists apprehensive as to their fruit shipments.

The roses for which the North Pacific Coast is so famous are blooming with almost the freedom and perfection of early summer, and the approach of Autumn has added to their coloring. The Portland Commercial Club has resumed the decoration of its tables with flowers furnished by different members, the display being the subject of much comment by Eastern visitors in particular.

HOULTON, OREGON

THE RED CROSS—The citizens of Houlton and neighborhood who became members of the Red Cross Hospital Association, with headquarters in Portland, and contributed their means to the support of the smooth-talking gentleman who worked up the scheme, are beginning to wonder what they got for their money. It is said that about 150 members were secured and that some of them paid several months' dues. It was represented to the signers that the association would have a resident physician and start a drug store at Houlton, and inquiries were made as to renting a building. We understand the matter was to be investigated by the grand jury, but it is hardly probable the solicitors have put themselves within reach of the law.

This Sounds Like a Klondike Story But It's True

BROOKFIELD, WASH. October 8, 1907 Mitchell, Lewis & Staver Co., Portland, Oregon.

Gentlemen:—In answer to your favor of recent date will say, your Gasoline Drag Saw machine which we purchased from you last April has given perfect satisfaction. We bought this machine for a man who wants to do all the work himself, so cannot say what the capacity of the machine would be if kept steadily at work. He starts the machine and then lets her take care of her self and swamps or splits while the machine saws off a cut. He does well enough, however. Last week he sawed alone as usual and cut 62 1/2 cords of timber (128 cubic feet to the cord) into three feet lengths and split 25 1/2 cords of this. His earnings for last week were accordingly $75.25. From this, however, must be deducted 6 gallons of gasoline which he has used at 20 1/2 cts. per gallon, leaving him for his work with the machine the net earnings of $74.02. In our estimation the machine is all that could be desired and excels all others of its kind in the market. She is simple and durable in construction, and do not hesitate in recommending same to any one that requires a drag saw machine for cutting logs in short lengths. It is expensive to operate than a hand saw she moves herself along at the operator. There is no expense from place to place, nor time getting up steam or making a boiler. The machine is always ready to be put in operation in a few minutes. Wishing you the success of the Drag Saw Machine Dealers. (Signed) F. J. Fox, By Robt.

Send to Mitchell, Lewis & Staver Co., East Morrison and East Second Streets, Portland, Oregon, for circular or go and see the machine.
