GOOD WORK

Down in Eugene it is said the violators of the local option liquor law are becoming "considerably discouraged" over the fact that Judge Harris is giving them their medicine in allopathic doses up to the maximum prescribed by law. It's good work, and we hope it will be continued. It is said the law is being violated in Vernonia, in this county, and the Mist earnestly hopes the guilty persons will be detected and brought to justice. The people of the dry precincts settled this question at the polls and the courts will see that their mandate is obeyed. Of course there will be violations of the law, just as there are violations of every other law; but a few $500 fines, accompanied by the maximum jail sentence will have a good effect on the criminal and tend to make their nefarious practices unprofitable, and when the gain is taken out of the whisky business, whether in wet or dry precincts, no one will continue in it. We have yet to meet the saloon man who was in love with his business.

The great majority of them despise it and only stay with it because they are unfitted for anything else or consider it "easy money." You never hear of a saloon keeper, except of the very lowest type who desires to see his son or daughter follow in his footsteps. Even when conducted in strict compliance with the law, it is not a business that men follow for pleasure or intelectual or moral improvement, and civilization has branded it as dangerous and hedged it with restrictions and penalties that are not placed upon any other occupation. The day is coming, and may be near at hand, when prohibition will prevail throughout the State. The people are beginning to understand that the liquor traffic benefits very few and injures many. Especially are the people in the rural districts beginning to wonder why they should be called upon to pay the taxes caused by indulgence in liquor in incorporated towns though not receiving any portion of the license fees. In such towns as Rainier, Clatskanie, and St. Helens the revenue is the stronghold of the liquor business. We want our streets improved and other expenses kept up, so many who otherwise would vote to oust the saloons accept them in order to save direct taxation. Whether there is any real saving in this is a question we may discuss at some future time, but it is obvious that the rural taxpayer, who is called to pay up his share of the expense caused by whisky lunatics, paupers, and criminals, gets no return even from a money standpoint.

BELGIAN BLOCKS

It is altogether proper and wise for the common council and the people of the city of Portland, in deciding upon the character of materials to be used in the street work to take into consideration the fact that the Belgian block industry gives employment to a large number of men in a neighboring community. St. Helens, and in fact, Columbia County are commercial assets of the city of Portland. By far the greater portion of the money earned in the industries of this county are expended in Portland, and our interests are identical. Portland cannot grow and expand without our being benefited thereby, and every cent the metropolis expends here increases the revenues of the city's merchants in every line of business. There are over ten thousand people in Columbia County, and, owing to our own proximity to the city and our excellent transportation facilities, Portland is the sole source from which we procure our supplies. It is of as much importance to the business of that city that industries should be established at St. Helens as to have them established within the corporate limits of Portland. The block industry gives employment to a large number of well paid men, and in every discussion of the merits of different kinds of paving material this fact is entitled to due consideration.

As to the quality of Belgian blocks for heavy street work there appears to be no dispute, and as the blocks are now made and laid the old roughness and noise that characterized the large, irregular and poorly cut blocks is done away with, Columbia county is entitled to consideration from Multnomah for the reasons given and for many others.

It is not true as alleged, that there is a monopoly of Belgian blocks, or that only one firm is producing them. There are a number of quarries here where they can be bought, and the Columbia Contract Company, in opening its new quarry, finds that it has a large supply of columnar rock suitable for their manufacture. Portland people should consider well before deciding to favor contractors from other states in preference to those who have been for years spending their money with Portland firms and assisting in building up a community that trades almost exclusively with Portland.

SCHOOL HYGIENE

A friend has handed us a very interesting and instructive article upon the subject of "Medical Inspection of Schools." It is altogether too long for us to make even any extended extract from, but it is thoroughly convincing as to the importance of the theme and as to the danger of neglect and the absolute necessity of excluding from the public schools children who are afflicted with contagious diseases. It is hard to concieve of any subject more important than this, as it bears directly upon the health of the entire community, and it seems that even in small communites there should be some system of inspection of school children to determine whether their presence in the school room is apt to spread disease throughout the community.

Dr. Allport, of Chicago, says:

"Of 20,000,000 school children in the United States, 80 per cent are suffering from some defect which interferes in varying degrees with their normal, physical and intellectual development.

Of 55,332 children examined in New York (Report Commissioner Darlington, Med Record Sept. 15, '06) in 1906, the inspectors reported 35 per cent defective teeth, 35 per cent defective vision, 12 per cent defective nasal breathing. Treatment was necessary in 67 per cent."

Out of 88,964 visits made to New York schools (Report Dr. Cronin, June, 1906), by medical inspector in 1905, 18,884 children were excluded for contagious diseases, 8,833 of which were contagious eye diseases; 4,692 for pendiculosis; 2,018 for skin diseases; 312 measles; 74 diphtheria; 127 pulmonary tuberculosis. During 1903, 65,294 children were excluded and during 1904, 25,379 children were excluded which shows improvement from medical inspection of over 50 per cent."

The article concludes by urging that the following resolution be submitted to the Legislature of the State of Maine, and certainly no more important matter could be considered by the Oregon Legislature:

"Owing to the vital relation between the health of school children and that of the population at large and in order to secure permanent improvement in hygiene and the health of the school children and citizens at large, the proper State authorities be urged to make such law or laws for the relief of the coniditions in our schools as they now exist, which are a constant menace to the health and development of the child mentally and physically and to the general public, as will secure permanent authority to school committees to institute regular medical inspection of schools."

The St. Helens quarrymen who have been getting out Belgian blocks for Portland streets are making a serious protest against replacing their product with brick made near Seattle. This is quite natural, but if anyone is desirous of witnessing a vigorous protest in the real sense of the term, let him frame up a little scheme by which it may be proposed to pave a Seattle street with brick, stone or any other commodity to be supplied from Portland. The Seattle spirit has its limitations, and they are not half as elastic as those which encircle the Portland spirit.—Oregonian.

FREE TRADE WITH THE PHILIPPINES

The Mist, being in darkness, naturally desires light. We can understand the position of the Oregonian in demanding free trade between the United States and the Islands, but we can not understand how any Republican who believes in the principles of protection can side with the free traders and demand the free entry of the products of the Islands. Of course it is alleged that they are ours, and a part of the nation; but Mr Taft denies this and claims that we will vacate them as soon as they are prepared for home rule. If that time ever comes and meantime we have given them free trade, will the duty then be restored? What we are trying to find out is: If free trade with the Philippines is good for us, why not free trade with all the world? Or is it argued because we hold the Islands we should be willing to do anything that will benefit them, no matter how detrimental it may be to our own interests? This is a genuine inquiry for information, and we would like to have it answered from the standpoint of a modern protectionist.

A movement is on foot in Pennsylvania to abolish toll gates everywhere in the state. It is generally agreed that the old system of roads and bridges has no proper place in the business affairs of the present century.

Beware of Frequent Colds

A succession of colds or a protracted cold is almost certain to end in chronic catarrh, from which few persons ever fully recover. Give every cold the attention it deserves and you may avoid this disagreeable disease. How can you cure a cold? Why not try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly commended. Mrs. M. White, of Butler, Tenn. says: "Several years ago I was bothered with my throat and lungs. Somebody told me of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I began using it and it relieved me at once. Now my lungs and throat are sound and well." For sale by A J Deming druggist.

The best place to inquire about the value of protection is among active manufacturers and wage-earners, not among the trusts.

"And there are the cartoons," says Mr. Croker in mentioning his objections to politics. In this particular some folks are more troubled than others.

Good Cough Medicine for Children

The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract a diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers, and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. F. Starcher, of Ripley, W. Va., says, "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children and it has always given good satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by A J Deming druggist.

The Brazillians must be the concentrated Yankees of South America. Last year our purchases in Brazil amounted to $85,000,000 and sales there to only $21,000,000.

Medicine that is Medicine

"I have suffered a good deal with malaria and stomach complaints, but I have now found a remedy that keeps me well, and that remedy is Electric Bitters a medicine that is a medicine for stomach and liver troubles, and for run down condition," says W C Kiestler, of Halliday, Ark. Electric Bitters purify and enrich the blood, tone up the nerves and impart vigor and energy to the weak. Your money will be refunded if it fails to help you. 50c at Houlton, Warren, Scappoose and Deer Island dealers.

Mr. Carnegie is in a position to be capricious in his tariff views, but it is different with those in active business who are compelled, often anxiously, to study their balance sheets.

A Dangerous Operation

The newspaper pictures of Rockefeller and Archibold show them to be baldheaded and careworn chested. That is the penalty that a millionaire usually has to pay for his riches.

Muscular Pains Cured

"During the summer of 1903 I was troubled with muscular pains in the instep of my foot," says Mr. S. Pedlar, of Toronto, Ont. "At times it was so painful I could hardly walk. Chamberlain's Pain Balm was recommended to me, so I tried it and was completely cured by one small bottle. I have since recommended it to several of my friends all of whom speak highly of it." For sale by A J Deming druggist.

The voters of Missouri will view with great dissatisfaction any form of "amended" returns that differs from their ballots as actually cast. An honest vote, accurately counted, is the necessity in the case.

Leo F. Zelinski, of 68 Gibson St., Buffalo, N. Y., says: "I cured the most annoying cold sore I ever had, with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Our correspondent advises us that the fleet in this locality has recently received the addition of two vessles removed from Portland to this desirable location.

The city council of Frogmore held a special meeting on Friday last, the mayor (Mr. Chas. Larsen) presiding, and appropriations were made for a new uniform for the marshal, for the provision of a light at the entrance and for gangplanks across the creek.

The work of the Columbia Contract Co. on the new quarry is steadily proceeding under the supervision of Mr. John McKie and in a short time the working force will be considerably increased.

Our correspondent advises us that business in this locality is booming and that in a very short time this will be one of the most prosperous and enterprising communities in Oregon.

There are persons who think they could revise the tariff at one sitting, but practical business men know that it is a subject demanding full knowledge of all the facts, and careful, intelligent deliberation.

Marked for Death

"Three years ago I was marked for death. A graveyard cough was tearing my lungs to pieces. Doctors failed to help me, and hope had fled, when my husband got Dr. King's New Discovery," says Mrs. A. C. Williams, of Bac, Ky. The first dose helped me and improvement kept on until I had gained 58 pounds in weight and my health was fully restored." This medicine holds the worlds healing record for coughs and colds and lung and throat diseases. It prevents pneumonia. Sold under guarantee by Houlton, Warren, Scappoose and Deer Island dealers. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.
