THE GOBLE MURDER

The Slayers of Robert Livingstone are Known.

Ever since the murder of Robert Livingstone, at Goble in December last, Sheriff White and Deputy District Attorney Miller have been doing their utmost to detect and capture the murderers. A woman named Ziegler and a young man named Roy Malone were arrested on suspicion. The woman was released after a short confinement in the county jail, but a charge of burglary was placed against Malone and he was bound over to await the action of the grand jury at the May term of Circuit Court. Malone denies having anything to do with the killing, but stated that he knew who committed the crime.

Some time ago a Mrs F. B. Richmond, who has been employed as cook in the Junction City hotel, wrote to Mrs. Effie Fowler, of Goble, that two young men giving their names as Jack Lewis and Jas. McArthor had secured jobs as night cook and dishwasher at that establishment, and that they had boasted of committing the murder. Upon receipt of the news Mr. Miller at once went to Junction City, but found the birds had flown. Mr. Miller and Sheriff White afterwards visited Junction City together and secured considerable evidence, including a photograph of McArthor. It was also learned that a registered letter was in the postoffice for Lewis and that he had ordered it forwarded to Roseville, California. The authorities here immediately got in touch with the California officers, who promised to arrest any person calling for the letter, but so far no one has called and it is feared parties at Junction City have notified the criminals that the Columbia County officials are on their trail. Malone, upon being shown the photograph, immediately identified it as that of one of the murderers of Livingstone.
