Troubles of the Ancients.

Penelope was bewailing the protracted absence of Ulysses.

"I might as well be the wife of a commercial traveler," she said, "and be done with it!"

Scorning to avail herself of an easy divorce, she plunged deeper than ever into the pages of the Ladies' Home Journal for consolation.

No Chance for an Argument.

"If you had any life in you, Henry," she snapped,

"You'd go out there and fire the cook!"

"But I haven't, you see, Flo," he placidly yapped;

And he buried himself in a book.

A Real Danger.

"Gentlemen," said the president of the public service corporation, in his address to the stockholders, "it is my duty and pleasure to inform you that our balance sheet for the year now closing will show a highly satisfactory condition of affairs. We have added materially to our assets, and our profits have been such that we shall be able to declare a very handsome dividend. In fact, gentlemen," he added, lowering his voice, "our prosperity gives me some uneasiness. I cannot disguise or conceal from you an apprehension that J. Pierpont Morgan may have found it out and may be even now preparing to open his jaws and engulf this corporation in his capacious and insatiable maw!"

A dense silence ensued, and a thrill of horror ran through the assembly.

Maori Suffragettes.

Women of the Maori tribe of New Zealand are now appearing as features of the show at the Hippodrome in New York City, and as they are educated and cultivated persons, and have the right to full suffrage in their native land, they chose three delegates to represent them at Mrs. Pankhurst's lecture in Carnegie hall recently. They were Kiri Matao, widow of an old Maori chief; Waapi, a young political leader and a prohibitionist, and Drana, who is 21, and cast her vote for the Conservatives at the last election. Englishmen in New Zealand have extended to women all the rights they themselves have, and that Mrs. Pankhurst and the English suffragettes of all sorts ask for.—Springfield Republican.

Slot Machine for Suicide.

Washington.—"Drop a penny in the slot and get a ticket to the other world" might be the inscription on a machine that is suggested by Rev. Dr. Donald Guthrie, of Baltimore. At the close of a plea for a wholesome, enthusiastic interest in life, he said: "Life has become so meaningless and so useless to some that I advocate the setting up of a suicide machine where one can deposit a cent and be killed easily and respectably."

AVIATION MEET OPEN

Paulhan Gally Cuts Capers, Regardless of Rules.

CURTIS OPENS GREAT EXHIBITION

Monoplanes, Bi-Planes, and Dirigible Baloons Travel at Will About Los Angeles Park.

Los Angeles, Jan. 11.—Making a sudden and dramatic appearance while 20,000 people were watching the slow flight of two dirigible balloons at Aviation park yesterday afternoon, Louis Paulhan, the noted French aviator, threw the great throng into a frenzy of enthusiasm and excitement by a spectacular flight in a Farman biplane.

Rising, now dipping, now veering and turning with the grace of a bird, then suddenly dashing for the ground and scattering a group of officials like a hawk about to alight on a brood of chickens, Paulhan gave a remarkable exhibition and was accorded a tremendous ovation.

Again and again the French aviator thrilled the immense crowd with his daring flights, giving little heed to the rules and regulations of the official course, racing with a dirigible, swooping down upon the grandstand and clearing it by but a few feet, until his aeroplane seemed like a thing of life.

This, the first day of the big aviation meet, was given over to preliminary trial flights to give the aviators a chance to snake down their machines.

Curtiss had given an exhibition in a new, untried machine, in which later Clifford Harmon made some short flights. Charles E. Willard, in the Curtiss No. 1, had made a flight and several times Roy Knabenshue and Lincoln Beachey had ascended in two small dirigibles and maneuvered their craft, but nothing to thrill the spectators happened until Paulhan unexpectedly sailed into the game.

Beachey and Knabenshue were piloting their dirigibles around the course when the daring Frenchman appeared suddenly out of a gully hidden from the view of the grandstand, circled the course three times, shot out across the country, came back over the grandstand and alighted in the center of the field.

In two later flights he gave an exhibition of remarkable control over his machine, gracefully making sharp turns, now dipping almost to the ground to scatter in flight a group of officials gathered in the field, again skimming the grandstand only a few feet above the heads of the spectators, ascending, descending, and finally approaching from the rear the tent that housed his aeroplane, just before clearing the top he alighted within 100 feet of its entrance.

Promptly at 1 o'clock Glenn H. Curtiss was out upon the starting stretch to open the international meet with a christening flight for a new monoplane that he had never before used. Leaving the ground in front of the grandstand, the air craft rose gracefully, with a rise from the ground to the west, made a short flight up the course, returned and alighted at the starting point. The distance, estimated by the judges at five-eighths of a mile, was covered in 28.03 seconds. The greatest height reached was 50 feet. The machine was under perfect control and the great American aviator was accorded a thunder of cheers for his feat.

Next Charles F. Willard appeared upon the course in his Curtiss aeroplane No. 1, and after a short preliminary flight, attempted to circle the official course, which is a trifle more than a mile and a half in length. Rising to a height of 70 feet, he maintained this altitude until half the distance had been traversed, when his motor gave out and the aeroplane descended. He was in the air 1 minute and 23 seconds, the longest flight ever made by a heavier-than-air machine on the Pacific coast up to that time. After a readjustment of the motor, Willard arose again and completed the course.

Curtiss, using the machine with which he had made the previous flight, then circled the field, an estimated distance of one and one-eighth miles, in 1:51. His maximum altitude was 200 feet, the highest flight on this coast, up to that time.

Officer Arrests Chief.

Los Angeles, Jan. 11.—"That policeman will get a box of cigars from me for doing his duty," declared Chief Dishman, referring to his arrest in Hollywood Sunday, for exceeding the speed limit. "I shall also promote him at the first opportunity." Dishman this afternoon sent the cigars. Chief Dishman was arrested by C. M. Blinn, motor patrolman, in Hollywood. Blinn wanted to withdraw the charge, but Dishman insisted on the law taking its course and paid his $10 fine in Judge Herndon's court today. Blinn is a Los Angeles policeman

Single Porker at $61.20.

That there is big money in hog-raising in the Pacific northwest at the present livestock prices was shown by the sale of a single porker at the Portland Union stockyards yesterday. The particular animal that attracted the attention of everybody at the yards was a monster that tipped the scales at 680 pounds. He sold for 9 cents a pound live weight, which meant $61.20, the highest price that a single hog ever brought at the stockyards.

Monorail Car Is Success.

New York, Jan. 11.—The first exhibition in this country of the gyrostatic monorail car, which has been ranked among the wonders of the present century, was given today in Brooklyn by Richard Scherl, the inventor, who is the son of a Berlin newspaper man. The model, which seats four passengers and two operators, worked perfectly. Mr. Scherl believes a speed of 120 miles an hour can be maintained by a train of regulation size.

Tail Is Following Comet.

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 11. — A straight and slender tail has been discovered trailing behind the nucleus of Halley's comet, according to a dispatch received at the Harvard observatory yesterday from Professor E. B. Frost of the Yerkes observatory. The tail is a faint one, about 10 minutes in length, and has an agle of 69 degrees.

WHERE MEN WILL FLY.

Aviation Field at Los Angeles Is Ideal Place.

Los Angeles, Jan. 10.—On a level and broad field, where but a week ago a herd of cows grazed in peace, a miniature city of tents and plain wooden structures today marks the spot where the first aviation meet in America is to begin, and above which the first competitive trials of speed and endurance between heavier-than-air machines will be seen on this continent.

Aviation camp is 13 miles from this city on the lines of the Pacific Electric extending to the numerous beach resorts along the Pacific coast. On a stretch of high ground at one side of the field a high grandstand has been erected, rising 40 feet in the air and extending for 700 feet along the course over which the trials of air craft and speed contests will be held.

Stretching out across the aviation field from a point in front of the grandstand is a long row of tents that now cover numerous flying machines and will house many more during the ten days of the aviation meet. On another side of the broad field another line of tents are placed and here the United States army dirigible balloons and many other dirigible airships are being assembled, ready to be inflated.

Aviation camp is on ground made historic in the days of the Spanish Dons. It is a part of the famous Dominguez ranch given to Lieutenant Juan Jose Dominguez of the army of Spain in the year 1784, and its extent was determined in the grant by a clause which said that the gallant soldier, for valiant services, was entitled to as large a tract as he could ride around between sunrise and sunset. The soldier waited until one December 21 to ride the boundaries of his land.

PRELIMINARY FLIGHT A SUCCESS

Three Men and Two Women Make Short Balloon Voyage.

Los Angeles, Jan. 10.—The big balloon "New York," carrying its owner, Clifford B. Harmon; Mrs. Alvin French and her niece, Jean French, as passengers, and George B. Harrison and George Duessler, balloon pilots, landed at Casaverduga, in the Glendale valley, at 4:47 yesterday afternoon after a flight of nearly two hours.

The landing was made with ease, and no discomfort or danger attended any portion of this, the initial flight of the aeronauts who have gathered here for the aviation meet events.

An altitude of 5000 feet was attained and observations were taken by Mr. Harrison and Mr. Duessler.

When the great gas-bag was cut loose at Huntington park at 2:55 in the afternoon, its flight was almost straight up until it had attained a height of 1000 feet. Then a strong current bore it to the northward until it passed out of sight beyond the haze that lay over the mountains.

Spectators of the flight believed it was the intention of the aeronauts to attempt to sail over the Sierra Madre mountains, but those on board say this would have been impossible. At a height of 5000 feet, another current took the balloon to the westward, and when they were over the Glendale valley the aeronauts decided to come to earth. A distance of about 25 miles was covered.

BOSTON HAS FIERCE CAMPAIGN

No Party Lines, But $250,000 Is Spent by Various Candidates.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 10.—Boston Saturday night wound up, except for the finishing touches, the fiercest municipal campaign in its history. The election Tuesday will be the first under the new non-partisan plan and for a non-partisan campaign this has certainly been a revelation to the sponsors of the new order of things.

One of the candidates for mayor confesses he has spent nearly $10,000, and he accuses his chief opponent of having spent more than $200,000. This charge is not denied. The other two candidates, without a ghost of a chance of election, have spent about $5000. The various candidates for the city council have probably spent $20,000, so that the cost of the campaign to the various aspirants figures up close to a quarter of a million dollars.

The ballots on Tuesday will bear the names of the candidates without party or other designation, and the campaign has been non-partisan except so far as the known political affiliations of the candidates have influenced voters.

White Rhino Hunt Begun.

Butiaba, Jan. 10.—The Smithsonian African scientific expedition arrived at Rhino camp, the basis for the hunt for the eargerly-sought white rhinoceros, today. Rhino camp is on the Congo side of the Bar-El-Jabel river. The expedition, as made up in the present hunt, consists of Colonel Roosevelt, Kermit, Mearns, Heller, Loring, Cunninghame and 30 porters and boys. They have 200 loads of supplies. The party has temporarily left Uganda for the territory remarkable for the presence of the white rhinoceros.

Whalley Is After Reward.

New York, Jan. 10.—Richard Whalley has retained an attorney to press his claim for the reward as discoverer of the sugar-weighing frauds which resulted in the restitution to the government of about $2,000,000. Richard Parr, whose claim for the reward has been favorably passed upon by the secretary of the treasury and Collector Loeb, has been appointed deputy collector already as a partial reward for his services in discovering the secret spring in the sugar scales, and his friends declare Whalley should have no credit.

Jury Justifies Lynching.

Cairo, Ill., Jan. 10.—The grand jury which investigated the murder of Miss Anna Pelley and the lynchings of Henry Salzner and Will James, the latter a negro, adjourned today. The report stated that it was evident the so-called lawless element was not concerned in the lynchings, and "we believe no innocent man met his death at the hands of the mob." Salzner was accused of murdering his wife. James was suspected of causing Miss Pelley's death.

Hookworm in College.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 10.—Consternation prevails among the 100 or more students of Tulane college following the examination of every student for hookworm. It is announced that more than a third of the members of the class were found to be infected.

WORTH KNOWING.

Smoking was a penal offense at one time in Turkey.

It is said there are 1,000,000 Egyptians who can neither read nor write.

There are "blind spots" on the tongue which are insensible to certain flavors.

Last year about thirty thousand persons visited the birthplace of Shakespeare.

An official estimate places the number of dairy cows in the United States at 21,000,000.

Before it is completed a champagne bottle passes through the hands of forty-five workmen.

Turkey has more aged people in proportion to her population than any other European country.

Fifty-five million square miles is the area of the Pacific ocean—the same as the earth's land surface.

French theaters receiving government subsidy are obliged to give a free performance every year.

Canada produces nearly one-half the world's supply of maple sugar, about 18,000,000 pounds annually.

Germany, Great Britain and the United States produce four-fifths of the world's supply of pig iron.

On the coast of Ireland it rains on an average of 208 days in the year; in England about 150 days.

Nearly 80,000,000 gallons of water are used annually to cleanse the streets of the city of London.

Guatemala now ranks next to Brazil in importance as the source of the supply of coffee. Ecuador is rapidly expanding its cocoa production.

After being at liberty for ten days, a canary belonging to T. Kirk of Tiverton, England, returned to its cage with another bird of the same species.

The largest grape vine in the world is 120 years old, and is at San Gabriel, Cal., planted by Franciscan friars. The stalk is 1¼ feet in diameter, eight feet high, and the branches and foliage cover 5,000 square feet. Its yearly crop of grapes is 2½ tons.

When weighing-in time came at the field day of the Connecticut Fat Men's Association, Dan Wadsworth, the biggest man in Hartford, which was founded by one of his ancestors, sent the beam to 436 pounds at Bristol. He was unanimously elected president of the club.

A splinter that has been driven into the flesh can be removed by the aid of steam. Secure a wide-mouthed bottle and fill it nearly full of hot water, place the injured part over the bottle's mouth, and press slightly. The action thus produced will draw the flesh down, and in a minute or two the steam will extract the splinter, also the inflammation.

ELECTRIC FLASHES.

There are 172 telegraph and 85 telephone offices in Korea.

Woodpeckers are destroying the wooden transmission poles in the West and Southwest.

Chicago is considering plans for an extensive subway system of railways to cost eighty millions.

Greece has practically no coal deposits. Whatever electric power it has comes from water falls.

The Dayton, Ohio, Lighting Company has formed a night study class for instructing its employes on electric subjects.

The Argentine Republic has appropriated $75,000 to establish wireless operations between Buenos Ayres and Ushuala.

Over a thousand miles of the New York Central Railroad will soon be equipped with telephones for train dispatching.

Sixty-two electric railway lines operate in and about the city of Paris. The annual average of passengers carried is 190,000,000.

The Mont Blanc electric railroad in Switzerland is now in operation to an elevation of 5,495 feet; it will be continued to the summit.

The work of constructing power houses on the Rubicon river in California has started and the Southern Pacific will be electrified.

Electrically driven vacuum cleaners are now to be used on the best trains of the Great Northern in place of the old dust cloth and broom.

USING OLD NEWSPAPERS.

Crushed newspapers are splendid to clean lamp chimneys.

Wet in water they clean out the stove oven splendidly.

They can even be used for an iron holder in an emergency.

Irons not much soiled can be rubbed on old newspapers and thus made fit for use.

To wipe up spilled water or grease from the floor they save the wringing out of a cloth.

Torn in shreds, slightly dampened and scatered over the carpet, they keep down the dust when sweeping.

To clean the sink of its grease and sediment nothing is better, for the greasy paper can be at once burned after use.

Many times folded they will serve as a mat to stand hot and blackened pots or kettles on and thus save soiling the kitchen table.

The kitchen stove is kept bright and clean by rubbing it briskly after the cooking of each meal with old papers and thus saves many polishings.
