THE GOOD OLD WAY

At the close of the Republican Assembly in Douglas County Honorable Binger Hermann is reported as having "congratulated the Assembly on getting back into the 'good old way.'" Binger Hermann is one of the distinguished products of the "good old way." At present he is under indictment for conspiracy to defraud the Government of the United States out of an immense public domain. He was Commissioner of the General Land Office at the time the frauds were perpetrated, and he owed his appointment to that position to the "good old way" of doing things. He was liberal with the pork and looked after his friends, and therefore many of them still adhere to him, and probably, if the "good old way" still prevailed, he could secure the Republican nomination for Congress. It is the same in other States where the "good old way" yet prevails. In Ohio the "regulars" won out against the insurgents by the old method, and now Boss Cox, of Cincinnati, kicks over the traces and tells how he was betrayed by Senator Burton. The statement, which is made before a notary public, and witnessed by Joseph Garretson, managing editor of the Cincinnati Times-Star, relates that on the night of July 25, at the Crittenden Hotel in Columbus, Cox, by appointment, met Burton in the latter's rooms and promised verbally to divide the vote of the Cuyahoga County delegation for Governor between Judge Oren Britt Brown, Carmi A. Thompson, and Warren G. Harding. Cox says Burton failed him by failing to deliver votes for Brown on the first ballot, and on the second throwing the entire delegation to Nicholas Longworth, whom Cox says Burton had told him the night before was a "snob," who, if nominated, would cost the Republicans 10,000 votes in Cuyahoga County, in which Cleveland is located.

Think of a system by which one man controls the entire vote of the county's delegation in the convention, and uses his power just as it has heretofore been used in Oregon, to trade and traffic with. That is what is meant by the Assembly or Convention system, and that is what we will return to in Oregon if the Assembly candidates triumph.

WILL YOU HELP?

Nothing helps a county more than thorough advertising of its natural resources, and there is no better advertising than an actual showing of our products, such as I have been employed to make at the State Fair next month. In addition to this we will have a fine exhibit in the Portland Chamber of Commerce and liberal space in the Great Northern Railroad Company's car, which will be seen by hundreds of thousands of farmers and business men throughout the United States this fall. For the exhibit at the State Fair the county pays me $400. The other two exhibits cost the county nothing. Now, will you, Mr. Farmer, help me in this work? I want the best grains and grasses, vegetables and fruits. Send or bring them to me at St.

Helens, and I will do the rest. Take a pride in your county and your neighborhood, and do your share toward building them up. It means better roads, better schools, and a lower rate of taxation.

E. H. FLAGG.

A WORD OF WARNING

Columbia is the strongest Republican county in the State of Oregon in proportion to its population, yet it has been repeatedly demonstrated that a nomination on the Republican ticket is not equivalent to election. Theodore Roosevelt would receive to-day, if there were a national election, a majority of 1,000, out of a total vote of twice that number, yet the same voters might defeat a Republican nomination for a county office if for instance they believed the timber speculators desired his presence on the county board of equalization. Party ties have gradually loosened since the civil war, and the man who has voted the straight ticket for forty years is looked upon as an antiquated ass whose proper place is in the home for aged imbeciles.

In Oregon the Republican party is divided on a matter of principle, and can never be re-united until the battle is fought to a finish and either the reactionaries or the progressives are firmly in the saddle. The preservation of the direct primary law and the principle of election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people—through the medium of Statement No. 1, are the live issues of this campaign.

The Portland Assembly suggested the nomination by this district of Mr. Clarke, a business man, as joint senator for Clackamas, Multnomah, and Columbia County. Mr. Clarke is frank in his opposition to Statement No. 1, and for that reason he must be beaten at the primary election. Let the contest rest on that alone. No doubt he is in other respects a good citizen, for the shrewd oldtimers who framed up the Assembly job knew they must put their best men to the front in order to stand any show of success.

If we are to have any reform in the United States Senate's membership men who believe as Mr. Clarke believes must not be elected to the Legislature. They have no faith in the wisdom of the people and the people should have no faith in them. Mr. Clarke, if elected, will be one of the strong pillars of the system that has packed the United States Senate with the agents of the great corporate interests. In Oregon his election will herald the return to the old system, whereby the business interests of the people were sacrificed to the political interests of individuals.

Let the voters remember this and vote with the full knowledge of what they are doing.

Better a Democrat who favors Statement No. 1 than a Republican who is opposed to it, because the Democrat if elected to the State Senate would, two years hence, vote for the people's choice for United States Senator while Mr. Clarke would vote without any regard whatever to the wishes of the people, provided the caucus so decided.
