WHEN THE CITIES "REGULATE" THE SALOONS

Voters of Oregon are asked by the liquor men to pass a constitutional amendment giving to incorporated cities the power to control, regulate or prohibit the liquor traffic within their limits, and are urged to do so for the alleged reason that "prohibition" does not prohibit" and that the law would not be enforced! The answer is that notwithstanding its evasions prohibition is perferable to the present system, under which, in the cities, the saloons and other resorts pay no attention to the law, and the proof is found in last Sundays Oregonian's news columns, from from which we clip the following instructive article:

Proprietors of second-class restaurants and liquor resorts scattered throughout every quarter of the city have apparently cast aside what meager respect they formerly held for the ordinance regulating the sale of liquor to minors and adults and continue unchecked in their brazen violations of the law. It is evident that the listless method of the police in enforcing the specified regulations governing the sale of liquors is the direct cause of the effrontery on the part of the proprietors.

The occasional arrests by the police of certain proprietors for violation of the liquor traffic have apparently had little effect. Although the police declared war on the lawbreakers at times when the erring proprietors were haled into publicity the proposed crusades never materialized.

Since the arrest of L. O. Hull, the proprietor of the notorious "White Front Grill," a South Portland resort several weeks ago, and the subsequent suspension of business there, the police have, for some unknown reason not seen fit to cause similar molestations.

Throughout the South and North Ends and in the heart of the city in the down town district, as well as on the principal through-fares of the East Side, the proprietors of cafes, restaurants, grills and beer saloons which cater to those of the feminine sex with a thirst for liquor have been permitted to violate the law without fear of police interference. Not alone have the proprietors of such resorts violated the law governing the sale of liquor without meals but in innumerable instances the minor law has been utterly disregarded. It is not an uncommon sight to venture into any of these establishments, which are or at least should be, under the surveillance of the police, after dark, and observe young girls still in the early teens and well under their majority of years tilting a glass of an intoxicating beverage to her lips.

While such scenes are nightly witnessed in every section of the city, yet the greatest patronage from this source is secured by the proprietors of the establishments on the "Rialto," the district in the immediate vicinity of Sixth and Stark streets. In this section there are a dozen liquor dispensing places, some of which cater to the "low brow" element and others which gladly extend courtesies to the more elite. Two of the most notorious restaurants of this class in the city are located on the so-called "Rialto." These places are the Mecca where habitues of the underworld congregate or virtually reside when not otherwise engaged. Citizens who, have of a necessity been compelled to venture along these throughfares with those of their kin and men whose places of business are located in proximity to these rendezvous for auto fiends and persons of immoral stations in life, have incessantly complained to the authorities for riddance or remedy of the practice.

Nothing has been done by the police to rectify the situation.

In the places of the less disreputable class in the down-town district the laws restricting the sale of liquors are openly defied. This may be assigned particularly to the fact that seldom, if ever, a police officer in his line of duty enter the places "to see how things are going." It is in these establishments that the much-abused "joker" in the liquor with meal ordinance" is utterly ignored and all that is required to purchase a drink is the price.

VOTE FOR REED

We do not believe the people of Columbia County wish to see W. R. Ellis renominated for Congress. He is a standpatter and a supporter of Cannon and Cannonism. If he is defeated it must be by centering the opposition vote on C. J. Reed. Lafferty is a glib speaker, but beyond doubt he is in the field for the purpose of splitting the vote and has no chance whatever of securing the nomination. He is the Oregonian's dummy candidate and a man from the Oregonian's force is managing his campaign. Every meeting he holds is given liberal space in the Oregonian's telegraphic columns, and his ideas on conservation are those of the Oregonian and directly opposed to the policies of Theodore Roosevelt. Mr. Reed, on the other hand, is a Roosevelt man, favoring the direct primary and Statement No 1. If the people of Columbia County wish to see Ellis returned to Congress they should vote for him and not for his stalker. A vote for Lafferty is a half vote for Ellis and Cannon. A vote for Reed is a vote against Cannonism and in favor of election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people.

STATEMENT NO 1. CANDIDATES

Because they favor Statement No 1 we expect to vote for the following candidates for nomination at the direct primaries.

Congress—C. J. Reed.
Governor—Grant B. Dimick.
Secretary of State—G. Wingate
States Treasurer—Thomas B. Kay.
Justice Supreme Court (Four-year term)—Henry J. Bean, T.A. McBride.
State Printer—Willis Dunniway
Commissioner of Labor—G. M. Orton.
State Senator—Dan J. Malarkey.
Representative—M. E. Miller.

So far as the County ticket is concerned the Mist has taken no part, with the exception of representative. Mr. Conyers is bitterly opposed to Statement No. 1. and for that reason we think he should be defeated and will not support him either before or after the primary, notwithstanding we esteem him personally. We expect to do our best to secure the election of the balance of the Republican ticket nominated for county offices. So far as the State ticket is concerned we will remember the promise of the Oregonian to "knife all Statement No 1. candidates."

THE BALLOT

County Clerk W. A. Harris has completed the task of arranging the copy for the printer of the ballot to be voted at the Primary Election on the 24th day of September.
