The Wonders About Us.
Let not care and humdrum deaden us to the wonders and mysteries amid which we live, nor to the splendors and glories. We need not translate ourselves in imagination to some other sphere or state of being to find the marvelous, the divine, the transcendent; we need not postpone our day of wonder and appreciation to some future time and condition. The true inwardness of this gross visible world hanging like an apple on the bough of the great cosmic tree, and swelling with all the juices and potencies of life, transcends anything we have dreamed of in our spiritual abodes.—John Burroughs.

How Matches Are Made.
Certain kinds of matches are shaved with the grain from sawed blocks; others are cut both ways by saws. In still further varieties the blocks are boiled to make them cut easily. By some machines a boiled or steamed log is revolved on its own axis, and a shaver the thickness of a match is cut round and round. This shaving is at the same time cut into lengths and split into match sticks. It may be said that there is hardly a limit to the varieties of methods employed. Round matches are made by forcing them through dies.—Harper's Weekly.

CURE OF HIDDEN TREASURE.

Two Fruitless Trips Have Not Discouraged California Men.
Major W. A. Desborough, who has made two trips to find a reputed buried treasure on Cocos Island, in the Pacific, off the coast of Central America, will make another attempt within a few weeks, and he hopes the third time will prove the charm.
His first trip was made twelve years ago, but mutiny in his crew compelled him to give up the search, although he proved the correctness of his drawings and maps at that time.
Last summer he made another trip, sailing from Los Angeles in the yacht Ramona, the Express of that city, but heavy and continuous rains and lack of power to operate machinery prevented him from making sufficient excavations. This time the locality was considerably changed from what it was twelve years ago.
Cocos Island is famous as a pirates' retreat, and others besides Major Desborough have searched it for hidden plunder.

The particular treasure for which Major Desborough is searching is supposed to have been taken from Peru in the middle of the last century and buried on the island by Capt. John Keating, who died soon afterward. Since his last trip, Major Desborough has met a man in New Orleans who visited the island ten years ago in company with a son-in-law of Captain Keating. They had maps and drawings which appeared correct, but indicated that considerable excavation would be necessary. Keating's son-in-law was an old man then, and he turned over the maps to the New Orleans man, but the latter has never tried to find the treasure. He gave copies of the maps and details to Major Desborough.

Tradition says there is $60,000,000 worth of pirates' loot buried on the island, but the particular treasure sought by Desborough is $17,000,000 in gold bullion. He says that since his visit twelve years ago there appears to have been a great deal of blasting in the vicinity of one deposit, as the hillsides are changed and the creek bed altered.
Where the bullion is supposed to be buried, however, there appears to have been only the change of formation due to the rainfall, which sometimes amounts to an inch an hour, making work difficult.
Major Desborough has had several offers both from New York and to this coast to finance another expedition, which he estimates will cost about $20,000, and he is now looking for a steamer of about 800 tons to make the trip.

Little Viola had developed the habit of holding her thumb in her mouth even while eating. Mother had resorted to all sorts of methods to correct the child and finally in desperation said:

"Viola, the first thing you know you will swallow your thumb, and then what will you do?"
"Well, mother, I should hate to swallow it because I'd have a heaven of a time without it."
"Why, Viola," said the astonished mother, "where did you hear an expression like that?"
"Well, well," hesitated the little girl. "I didn't hear it exactly like that mother, but I thought it would sound better."

A Mosquito Proof Steamer.
The Jonathan Holt, the first ocean going mosquito proof steamer, has arrived in the Mersey, says the London Times. She is the first ship of special design for the Liverpool West Africa trade. Professor Major Ronald Ross's recommendations have been carried out by the owners for mosquito proofing all living quarters. Copper gauze fittings are provided for all doors, windows, side ports, skylights, ventilators and passages to prevent the malaria bearing mosquito entering.

Proof of Germs on Lips.
Mr. Stephen Paget, at the School of Economics, London, England, exhibited a piece of gelatine that had been kissed by a man with clean lips, and pointed out that germs had grown quickly over the parts touched by the lips. One could not, he said, even kiss the surface of gelatine without producing the outline of one's lips in germs.

Lifelike.
"What a noisy thing that bass drum," remarked the clarinet, disgustedly. "Yes," replied the trombone, "just like a human being, isn't it?" "Like a human being?" "Yes, it's the one with the big head that makes the most noise."—Scraps.

APPETITE GONE --BEWARE

It is a sure sign of some inward weakness when the appetite commences to lag and you have that "don't care" sort of feeling at meal-time. It is something that needs immediate attention, for neglect only brings on more trouble and often a long illness. Restore the appetite and keep it normal by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is for Poor Appetite, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Costiveness and Malaria.

Why He Carried the Lantern.
A blind man in Khoota (a Caucasian village) came back from the river one night, bringing a pitcher of water and carrying in his hand a lighted lantern. Some one, meeting him, said: "You're blind; it's all the same to you whether it's day or night. Of what use to you is a lantern?" "I don't carry the lantern in order to see the road," replied the blind man, "but to keep some fool like you from running against me and breaking my pitcher."

Services Held on Steps.
New York—Locked out of St. Andrews Protestant Episcopal church, Brooklyn, of which he had been rector for 16 years, the Rev. William Ackley conducted the regular services Sunday from the front steps. Gathered around him, kneeling and with their heads uncovered, were 300 members of the congregation who do not agree with the vestry that the minister should be retained "because of his age and feeble condition, mental and physical." Order was perfect throughout the service.

Prose Poet Is Found Dead.
Philadelphia—Believed to have committed suicide at least a week ago by a fatal overdose of morphine, John Scanlon, better known under his pen name of "Walt Mason," was found dead in his studio at 913 Arch street. The discovery was due to a search made by a sister, who had not heard from him for a longer period than usual. In addition to being an artist and illustrator, Scanlon, wrote poetry in prose in a humorous style which was published in several of the leading magazines.

Actor Flies Over Water.
London—Robert Lorrain, the actor, all but accomplished an aeroplane flight across the Irish channel Sunday. Starting from Holyhead, Lorrain directed his course to Dublin. Although he had trouble with his engine, he got within two miles of the Irish coast. The breaking of a wire forced him to descend to the sea. He swam ashore and his machine was picked up by a steamer. The distance across the channel is about 55 miles.

Plot Against T. R. Feared.
Columbus, O.—Superintendent Angel of Goodell Park, where Colonel Roosevelt spoke Sunday, has turned over to the police a suitcase containing a quantity of gunpowder, which had been found near the speaker's stand. Although it was reported that the suitcase also contained nitro glycerine and dynamite, this was denied.

TAFT WOULD LOCATE LEAKS

Systematic Effort Will Be Made to Cut Down Expenses

President to Find Out Truth of Aldrich's Statement That $300,000,000 Can Be Saved.

Beverly, Mass.—A force of experts will be put to work shortly in the departments of the government at Washington to locate the "leaks." Taft wants to know how much of the $300,000,000 that Senator Aldrich says he could save the government by conducting it on business lines can really be saved.
If it is possible to conduct the government on the lines of a well-run business establishment, the president wants to know it. If not, why not.
Every department is to be gone through minutely. The wastes are to be noted, lost motion located, duplications marked and a rational economy made the watchword.
At a meeting of the cabinet, which has been called for September 24, and which will be succeeded by a series of such meetings from day to day, for a week, the matter of economy will be one of the subjects discussed. The president is looking to the development of some practical plan whereby the end which he has in view may be accomplished.

After the manner in which he went about selecting a stocks and bonds commission, the president is proceeding carefully in the organization of such a corps of experts that will enable him to get the best results with the $100,000,000 appropriated by the last congress. He already has had experience in forcing economy in the executive departments of the government.
He lopped off $10,000,000 from the navy estimates last year, without injuring the standards of the navy, and the army establishment underwent a similar cut. He has enforced economy in other departments, and is constantly urging upon members of his cabinet the necessity for holding down their expenditures.

So far as is possible, it is desired to get some capable and efficient official in each of the departments to offer a comprehensive plan for reform. It is not meant that this man shall be a spy. But from his experience in the department it is believed he ought to be able to point out where there are duplications, waste or other loose business methods.

$57,500 DISAPPEARS
Gold Bullion From Alaska Replaced by Lead Bars.
Seattle—Gold bullion valued at $57,500, part of a shipment of $170,000 from the Washington-Alaska Bank of Fairbanks, Alaska, to the Dexter-Horton national bank of Seattle, on the steamship Humboldt, was stolen in transit and lead substituted in the strong box that had contained the bullion.

The gold when it left Fairbanks on a Yukon river steamer for Dawson and White Horse was contained in three wooden boxes and was in care of the Alaska-Pacific Express company. When the boxes were opened by the Canadian customs officers at Dawson the gold bars were found to be as stated in the express company's papers.
The boxes were opened again at the United States assay office in Seattle, and one contained pigs of lead, not of gold. The seals of the box were intact when it reached the office, and it was evident that the robbery had been committed by removing one end of the box. The gold was insured against loss by the express company.

Teach Obedience.
Let children understand that disobedience is sure to be followed by punishment. A child seldom disobeys Nature more than when in touching a hot lamp-glass. It will soon learn to obey you as well. Never allow it to ask why. You know; that is enough.

Physical Powers of Insects.
Ants will carry loads 40 or 50 times as heavy as themselves. The beetle can move a weight 112 times his own weight. The house fly gives 600 strokes of its wings in one second, and this enables it to get a distance of 35 feet.

Useful New Substance.
"Restin" is the name of a new substance invented in Germany, useful as a substitute for celluloid and ivory. It renders wood, paper and pasteboard impervious and makes pins, for example, so hard that it rapidly dulls a planer.

Reverie.
Reverie, like the rain of night, restores color and force to thoughts which have been blanched and wearied by the heat of the day. With gentle fertilizing power it awakens within us a thousand sleeping germs and, as though in play gathers round us materials for the future and images for the use of talent. Reverie is the Sunday of thought, and who knows which is the more important and fruitful for man, the laborious tension of the week, or the life-giving repose of the Sabbath.—Amiel's Journal.

Where Well Taught.
The children of an infant school in Wales are taught very much by signs. The hand of the teacher aloft signifies "oblique;" the hand held flat, "horizontal;" the hand upright, "perpendicular." One of the Welsh bishops was preaching one day in behalf of the school, when, observing several children whispering together, he held his hand upright in a warning manner, meaning thereby to impose silence, on which almost the whole school, in the midst of the sermon, shouted out, "Perpendicular!"

To a Certain Sweet Extent.
"Do you wholly trust me, darling?" murmured the young man to the fair creature who was sitting beside him on the front seat of the trolley car.
"I do to a certain extent," she responded after a little bit of hesitation.
"What extent?" he asked, anxiously.
"Why," she explained, "I would trust you to the extent of not being afraid of there being any poison in a box of candy you might send me by mail."

Truly Wonderful Alarm Clock.
A few years ago the French government acquired by purchase from a private collection a wonderful alarm clock which was once the property of the great Napoleon and which not only tells the time of day, but, as well, the day, the month, the year, the mean solar time, the phases of the moon, and indicates, in addition, the quarter hours. Its attachments also include a thermometer.

Set Age Limit on Marriage.
According to Russian law no man or woman who has attained the age of eighty can contract a legal marriage. No other country nowadays imposes such a restriction. In ancient Rome, however, legislation on this point was even more stringent, the maximum age limit for men being sixty and for women fifty.

Delicate Irony.
Makart, the great Viennese painter, was taciturn to a fault. It is related of him that once at a dinner party he sat next to Mme. Gallmeier for a whole hour without uttering a syllable, when his fair neighbor playfully nudged him with her elbow and said: "Come, Herr con Makart, let us change the conversation."

Let children understand that disobedience is sure to be followed by punishment. A child seldom disobeys Nature more than when in touching a hot lamp-glass. It will soon learn to obey you as well. Never allow it to ask why. You know; that is enough.
