County Official Paper

THE SITUATION

Nearly a thousand Republican voters met in Columbia County last Saturday and selected a ticket to be presented to the people at the November election. There was no charge of unfairness, no bulldozing, coercing or bribery. The great majority of the Republican voters of Columbia County deliberately expressed their opinion under the regulations provided by law, and no good reason can be given why every Republican nominee should not be elected. They are all honest and capable men, and no one has had the temerity during an earnestly contested primary campaign to put his signature to a single statement that would render them unfit for the united support of the Republican party. There has been enough of dissensions among Republicans, and it is high time for them to get together. The Mist is an independent Republican paper. It has not always supported the entire county ticket and it will not promise to do so in the future. Whenever it knows that certain candidates are being urged by big business interests for the purpose of lessening their taxes and increasing the burdens of the average taxpayer it will buck those candidates, no matter how estimable they may be as private citizens, but where there is nothing but a personal contest among men of equal integrity, it deems it the duty of every participant in that contest to abide loyally by the result. To do otherwise is to discredit the direct primary law and invite political chaos.

The assault in detail is the favorite method of attack of the Democratic party. Few in numbers, its leaders realize that they can not win by a general attack; therefore, as the campaign progresses, they will select the weakest candidate on the Republican ticket and concentrate the assault upon him. The answer to this method in Columbia County and through the State should be what is known in football practice as "team work." Stand by the ticket all along the line from Governor to Constable, unless it can be demonstrated to you that some Republican candidate has more of the "yellow dog" in him than his Democratic opponent. The man who fosters his grouches and is continually ripping open his old sores will never accomplish any good purpose thereby. We have had enough of that kind of work in this county. "Let the dead past bury its dead," for the good of the party and Columbia County.

OUR OPPORTUNITY

The Oregon State Horticultural Society holds its annual fruit show at the armory in Portland on November 30th, December 1st and 2nd. This is Columbia County's great opportunity to demonstrate that it produces apples second to none in the world and we are glad to learn that a number of our growers will have exhibits there, including Mr. Tidcombe of Scappoose and the Yankton Association. There was but one exhibitor from this county at the last fruit show. Mr. U. S. D'Spain exhibited two boxes of Rome Beauties from Fred Dangerfield's orchard at Warren, and they were awarded the blue ribbon. A successful demonstration of our ability to produce the finest quality apples on land cleared of fir timber stumps will be of incalculable value to the property owners of this county.

THE COUNTY CLERK

Columbia County never had a better officer than W. A. Harris, who was defeated by Mr. LaBare on Saturday last. No one has at any time intimated that he was in the slightest degree lacking in the full performance of his duty as County Clerk, and he has won the highest praise from all who had business with the Clerk's office, Judge Thos. A. McBride stating that he was the most efficient man holding that position in the fifth judicial district. As a member of the County Board of Equalization he stood with the average taxpayer and home builder whenever their interests conflicted with the interests of the corporations or timber owners, and to this fact and a private grudge he owes his defeat more than to any prejudice against a third term, though there is no doubt this prejudice was a factor in the election. Mr. Harris' intimate knowledge of the affairs of the county enabled him to be of great service to the county court and no man with any business sense will assert that the public service will be in any way bettered by his retirement. Those who insist that public business should be transacted in the same manner as careful men transact private business will find it hard to harmonize this theory with their action in voting against W. A. Harris. All this with out any insinuation whatever against Mr. LaBare, whose service as deputy has made him better fitted for the office to which he will be elected than any other man in the county with the exception of Mr. Harris.

PATRONIZE THE HOME MERCHANTS

People read the advertisements of the large city firms, in which claims are set forth that they have reduced articles that are worth a small fortune until they beg you to come and get a bonus for taking them away. And they seem to believe it all. We print a section of an advertisement of a Portland firm, and it is from one of the leading stores in the city, which we cut from one of the daily papers, and that is a sample of the kind of claims that gets patronage away from the home merchants in country towns;

$7.00 Untrimmed Hats at 69c.
$1.25 Untrimmed Hats at 10c.

And there is a lot more about the same. Now, what is a person to think? Are they selling hats worth $7.00 at 69c? We doubt it. But they say that $7.00 is the "regular" price. If it is and the value is so small that they can cut it to 69c, then when you pay $7.00 you are certainly victimized in great shape.

Of course, there are perfectly legitimate sales, but they are few and far between. It is easy to reduce the price of an article that is being sold for seven or eight prices. It makes one wonder how much they really paid for that $7.00 hat that can be sold for 69c.

The mail order supply houses are another detriment to many stores that are selling better and cheaper goods than the same mail order houses. They advertise that they will "pay the freight" and make people think they are doing them a big favor. It can be safely said that almost any country store will sell to you and let you give your order out of a mail order catalogue and at the mail order prices.

IF THE VENUS SWEET OF MELOS

If the Venus sweet of Melos
Could find her missing arms,
And condescend to tell us
Why she thus displays her charms:

If the Marble Faun could frisk about
And blow a note or two,
And prance thronzh forests in and out
As he was wont to do;

If chaste Diana could let go
E'en for a little space
The stag of brazen feet, and show
The world a smiling face:

Would Dian straightway buy a hat
That flopped down o'er one ear?
Would Venus don a corse, that
She slender might appear?

I wonder if the Faun would buy
A suit to match her hair?
And, in selecting stylish ties,
Forget the woodland fair?

OUR PORTLAND LETTER.

Roseburg is the latest community to testify that consistent publicity work pays. Within the past month 44 families have notified Publicity Manager Schlosser, of the Roseburg Commercial Club, of their intention to locate in the vicinity of that place during the coming winter or spring.

The State Good Roads Association is very anxious for the people to become better acquainted with petition 354 on the ballot, which reads: "No county shall create any debts or liabilities which shall singly or in the aggregate exceed the sum of $5000, except to suppress insurrection or repel invation or to build permanent roads within the county, but debts for permanent roads shall be incurred on approval of a majority of those voting on the question." Those at work for the passage of the amendment permitting the bonding of the county for road work say it will be the biggest step Oregon has made toward permanent improvement for a long time.

The vanguard of the fall colonist travel from the East and Middle West to Oregon is arriving on every train. Reports from the immigration officials of the railroads are to the effect that this travel will be heavy and that a large number of new citizens will reach Oregon this year. People of the State should make them feel at home in their new environment. Help should be given in helping them to find suitable locations. Oregon people have a distinct duty to to perform in giving aid and comfort to the homeseeker who will be with us in large numbers this fall.

Chehalis, Washington, is doing some good work in advancing new methods of burning out stumps on logged off lands. The Citizens' Club of Chehalis recently held demonstrations of the char pit method of burning stumps and the tests were very successful. It is thought the general adoption of this means of clearing cutover lands will be of great value to the Pacific Northwest.
