County Official Paper

OUR COUNTY'S GROWTH

The census of Oregon, just made public by the United States Census Bureau, gives Columbia County a population of 10,580, as against 6,237 in 1900. This is a very satisfactory showing and places us, in point of population, in the middle rank of the counties of the State, our population being less than that of seventeen others and greater than sixteen. Very few counties show as large a proportionate increase, and we have added more population than Baker, Benton, Clackamas, Clatsop, Curry, Gilliam, Grant, Harney, Josephine, Lake, Lincoln, Linn, Malheur, Morrow, Polk, Sherman, Tillamook, Umatilla, Union, Wallowa, Wasco or Wheeler, being exceeded in growth by only nine counties of the State. This is a magnificent showing and one which foretells a great future for this section. It is the more remarkable because of the fact that this is a heavily timbered county and its great resources have never been thoroughly advertised. The first exhibit of our resources was made by the editor of the Mist at the 1905 Portland Fair, and since that time the county has been represented every year at the State Fair at Salem. That these showings have brought good results there is no doubt, and we believe by far the greater portion of the county's growth dates from the Portland Exposition. We have never failed to attract a great deal of attention at the fairs, though perhaps our greatest triumph was at the Alaska-Yukon Exposition, when our exhibit of grains gathered by Mr. W. J. Fullerton won the Grand Prize. The present editor of the Mist was the first, as far back as 1885, to print and circulate at his own expense a pamphlet advertising Columbia County, and we think it can be truthfully stated that the Mist and its editor have been the leaders in this work. The book circulated at the Alaska-Yukon Exposition contained a writeup of this county contributed by us, and our articles have been made the basis of every railroad, real estate or other pamphlet describing Columbia County. The forthcoming New Year issue of the Oregonian will have a three-column illustrated article from the same source, and all who wish to see our population many times larger before the next national census is taken would do well to send for copies and distribute them where they will do the most good.

Let every citizen do his share. Revive the commercial bodies. Get a move on. Hustle and advertise.

THE COST OF LIVING

When you talk of the high cost of living did you ever stop to think that today it takes less labor time and less human enegy to produce a given result or a given article than at any other period of human history?

This is the real test of the "cost" of an article. Take the industries of this country. Twenty years ago a single sawyer with a Hanson shingle machine would make from forty to forty-five thousand shingles in a day, and as wages received $2.30 per day with board. At present, a sawyer with the same style machine, which has been slightly improved by sawyers and filers (working men), a sawyer will make sixty to sixty-five or seventy thousand shingles per day and gets as wages $2.50 per day with board, or $3 without board. Yet today his $2.50 will buy less shingles or less anything else than his $2.30 would have purchased twenty years ago.

THE WEALTHY CRIMINAL

The Bible teaches us that it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of Heaven. Maybe so, but in matters terrestrial the plutocrats do not appear to be so seriously handicapped. It is much harder to place a rich criminal behind prison bars than to do the same for a criminal without means, and even in the jail, where, in theory, crime is supposed to have reduced all to a common level, money talks, and it greatly mitigates the severity of a sentence. For the poor man prison fare and bare walls, but for the rich man every comfort and luxury the outside world affords. Recently, in Nebraska, a jury had the temerity to find a verdict against certain rich men, and an "insurgent" judge sentenced them to jail imprisonment. Did they go right to jail and begin scrubbing out the corridors and doing the other usual "fatigue" work? Not at all. They took a Pullman and toured the State in search of the bastile possessing the greatest attractions and when their choice was made they purchased carpets, furniture, books, and all the other essentials of comfort, and hired a chef to do their cooking. The Oregonian gives the story as told by the Associated Press. It demonstrates that there is no place on earth where money is without power. Yet there is danger that it may hasten the time when the possession of money will be a disadvantage. Lacking a titled nobility to wreak its vengeance on, the proletariat in this country may gain sufficient strength in the great cities to make ash heaps and burial grounds of the great edifices made possible by combinations of capital, and if that time ever comes there will be no discrimination between the just and the unjust. The remedy, and the only remedy, is equality under the law, sometimes called the new nationalism.

ST. HELENS SCHOOL NOTES.

School Closes December 20 for the Holidays—Roll of Honor for Last Month

Room 4 is the banner room for punctuality and No. 1 holds the honors for best attendance for the past month.

Our chorus, comprising about sixty voices, is at work in earnest on the operetta and practice three evenings during the week until driven out by darkness.

Our quarterly examinations are over and pupils and teachers are again in a normal mood.

School will close Tuesday, December 20th, for the Christmas holidays, and opens January 2, 1911.

Our furnace acted very much like a refrigerator last week and should have been in a cold storage plant where an extremely low temperature was desired. Lack of draft owing to obstructed flues was a partial cause. Furnace doctors are still speculating as to a complete cure.

Davie Hardin has returned from Warren, after an extreme overdose of Thanksgiving, requiring several days to recover.

DEATH OF "HAPPY" THOMPSON

Crushed Between Cars While Coupling Them

Many residents of Columbia County will be interested in the following account of the death of George Thompson better known by the nickname of "Happy", given him by his acquaintance on account of his cheerful disposition. He was well liked and the news of his death will be read with sincere regret. It is taken from the Humbolt Times:

ARCATA, Nov. 26.—Caught between two cars while engaged in coupling them together George Thompson, conductor on train No. 12 of the Oregon and Eureka railroad was crushed to death about 1 o'clock today at Junction No. 25 about a mile and a half south of Trinidad. Just how the accident occurred is not known as no one was observing Thompson at the time but it is presumed that he either attempted to step from one side of the tract to the other between the two cars or was preparing to couple them together. He was caught in such a position that the couplings mangled his body in the region of the stomach and death must have resulted almost instantly.

The fireman on the locomotive heard a groan at the time of the accident and went back to ascertain what had happened, finding Thompson pinned in between the two cars, crushed to death. The other trainmen were summoned and the forward portion of the train moved slowly forward, thus allowing the body to be removed from between the two cars. It was brought to the Dolson undertaking parlors in this city pending arrangements for the funeral.

George Thompson was 28 years of age and had been employed on the railroads in this country for a number of years. His mother resides in Seattle and has been communicated with regarding the disposition of the body.

OUR PORTLAND LETTER

Oregon Development League Convention Gives New Life to State

Portland, Or., Dec. 6, (Special)—Benefits following the Oregon Development League convention last week at Salem will be state wide. Probably never before in Oregon's history has there been manifested such spontaneous enthusiam for a greater state. Every delegate from the 62 Oregon communities represented went back home with new resolves, determined to accomplish greater things for the state.

"The knowledge and courage delegates will take back to their homes is one of the greater results of the convention," said C. C. Chapman, secretary-treasurer of the League. "The meeting was a tremendous success from every standpoint, but the greatest accomplishment of all was the bringing together of 62 communities and unifying them for a tremendous campaign of development."

Oregon's revenues from the sale of timber in the national forests for the fiscal year ending June 30 amount to $39,635.87, which is an increase of about 50 per cent over last year's receipts.

McMinnville will plant roads leading to the city with walnut trees for a distance of a mile from town, making that place truly the walnut center of Oregon.

Astoria has plans well along for its 1911 Centennial. The project has been launched with considerable enthusiam and attention will be attracted to it from all parts of the United States. The celebration of the planting of the first American colony on the Pacific Coast will appeal to the whole country and the anniversary can be easily made of national interest. Astorians say members of the Astor family will participate in the celebration.

This is prize year for Oregon, and the taking of premuims at outside shows seems to have no end. Hood River not only took the first prize at Spokane for apples but followed it with capturing the sweepstakes at Chicago in competition with the whole country. Medford took first prize at the Canadian National Apple Show at Vancouver, B. C., a Madras man took first honors at the Dry Farming Congress at Spokane with an exhibit, and now comes a Heppner stock breeder who receives the highest average price paid for Shorthorn cattle at the International Livestock Show at Chicago. One two year-old heifer sold for $675. The average price received was $380.

Intensive development of the Willamette Valley is assured on a great scale. The Oregon Power Company is undertaking extensive improvements and extensions to its plants throughout the valley that will mean an expenditure of $1,500,000. Electric and gas lighting plants in the various cities will be enlarged and many water powers developed.

The second semi-annual State Thresher's Convention will be held at La Grande Dec. 9 and every thresherman and grain grower in the state is invited to attend. Bills to be submitted to the coming Legislature in the interest of threshmen will be framed and many matters of common interest discussed. Good roads legislation will be given considerable attenfion.

The Ladies Aid of the M. E. church of Houlton, will give a supper in the W. O. W. hall on Tuesday evening, the 13th. Supper will be served from 5:30 till 8 P. M. Price 25 cents, all cordially invited.
