OUR PORTLAND LETTER

Portland, Ore., June 27 (Special)—Central Oregon will form its projected development league late this week at Prineville. A representative delegation from Portland will go and officials of the state league will attend, giving all the help possible in getting the new organization started along right lines.
Secretary C. C. Chapman, of the Oregon Development League will attend and before returning to Portland will traverse a part of Eastern Oregon he has not yet visited, reaching Burns, Prairie City, and other cities of that territory. He wants to get a close view of that section so as to learn for himself the needs of the people and the best means for development.

Children of Scholl District No. 112, near Huntington, will be given practical instruction in agriculture, taxpayers of the district having voted a special tax to buy a tract of land near the school grounds that will be used as a farm. Competent instructors in agriculture will be secured and all the work of plowing, planting, irrigating, cultivating and harvesting will be done by the pupils under the direction of the instructor.

Oregon's Agricultural College, at Corvallis, will have the best facilities in the United States for agricultural research work when the new horticultural building, to cost $36,000, is completed. Work has been started on the foundations. In future, the college will lay special emphasis on advanced work in the study of orchard problems, looking to the extermination of insect and fungus pests and seeking to adapt different varieties of fruits to the various soils and climates to be found in this state. This work is, of course, undertaken at present, but with the additional facilities it is expected much more will be accomplished.
