Starting Indeed.
A University of Pennsylvania professor who is teaching in the summer school is somewhat absent minded, and when he is engrossed in a subject it requires the most startling statement to arouse him from his work. After trying several minutes to gain his attention a visitor, who knows the professor very well, leaned forward and said quietly:
"Your wife has stopped talking."
The professor looked up.—Philadelphia Times.

Change and Rest.
"Hello, Bill," remarked a Market street salesman as he met a friend yesterday in a lunch cafe, "where have you been? I haven't seen you for the last three weeks."
"Well," replied the vacationist, wearily, "I'll tell you. I've been away. Went on the recommendation of my doctor. Seemed to be all run down and wrong. The doc said I was nearly all in, had been working too hard. He advised me to go to the seashore for a change and rest. I did, and here I am. The boardwalk got the change and the hotels got all the rest."
He looked tired, and his friend believed him.—Philadelphia Record.

SHE GOT WHAT SHE WANTED
This Woman Had to Insist Strongly, but it Paid
Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered from a female weakness and stomach trouble, and I went to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but the clerk did not want to let me have it. He said it was no good and wanted me to try something else, but knowing all about it I insisted and finally got it, and I am so glad I did, for it has cured me."
"I know of so many cases where women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I can say to every suffering woman if that medicine does not help her, there is nothing that will."—Mrs. JANETZKI, 2903 Arch St., Chicago, Ill.

This is the age of substitution, and women who want a cure should insist upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound just as this woman did, and not accept something else on which the druggist can make a little more profit.
Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Did your husband give you that black eye?"
"No, my husband is in prison for giving a black eye to the lady who gave it to me."—P. I. P.

WHEN GROWN ON LARGE SCALE CELERY IS FAIRLY PROFITABLE

It Is Excellent Crop for Every Farmer to Grow Because It Is One of Most Delicious Vegetables Raised—Under Favorable Conditions Plants Grow With Great Rapidity.

(By S. M. CLINTON.)
Celery is a good market crop, but there are many other crops which pay better. In the famous Kalamazoo district in Michigan, where the crop is grown exclusively on hundreds of acres by experts, it is stated that the average profit after rental of land, growing and marketing expenses are all paid does not exceed $100 per acre. Occasionally we hear of phenomenal crops for a single year, but as a rule celery is only moderately profitable.

It is a fine crop for every farmer to grow because it is one of the most delicious vegetables produced. It is not difficult to grow celery. It requires exceedingly rich land, some commercial fertilizer and great care in cultivation and bleaching.

In the Kalamazoo district, where very fine celery is grown, the soil is a very black, rich spongy sort of loam, but good celery is grown on sandy land and on clay loam.

The ground must, however, be put into thorough cultivation, and very heavily manured, in fact, it ought to be well fertilized for at least two years before being planted to celery.

The land must be well drained, because damp, soggy soil will not produce sound, firm celery. This crop should usually follow some early crop like peas. The seed should be sown in rows about four feet apart. After the ground has been thoroughly prepared and manured it should be left long enough for the weeds to get a start, when it should be thoroughly manured and then planted.

The rows should be about two inches wide and the seed should be scattered over the entire width, then the soil should be firmed into the soil by passing a roller over it, after which the seed should be covered very lightly with a rake.

To prepare the ground for celery, rows should be made about four feet apart, and a light application of well rotted stable manure and nitrate of potash placed in the furrows.

The plants taken from the seed-bed should be set about eight inches apart in the row and great care should be observed in placing the roots in their natural position without crushing and doubling them up. The soil then must be drawn firmly about the plants and all weeds must be kept down. Under good conditions celery plants grow very rapidly. Soon after the plants are well started, they should be given a light application of nitrate of soda and another about two weeks later; this is all they will need until they have reached the proper growth.

Celery is bleached in several ways, but the best practice for the farm is to place the plants in a trench about twelve inches deep and twelve inches wide. The plants are taken up with a spading fork, the roots trimmed off square and all faulty stalks should be removed from the outside of the bunch.

structions, grow good crops, always provided that his soil is very rich and well drained.
The application of manure should be made every season, no matter how rich the soil is, because celery will not grow well on impoverished soil.

Renovate the Beds.
If the strawberry plants are vigorous, and the bed not too weedy, it may pay to renovate it for another year. Mow the plants close to the ground, rake off the foliage and burn it. Plow a furrow, cutting out all but one foot of the row, and then go through and take out the weeds and diseased plants in this row. Fill the furrow with thoroughly rotted manure and cultivate the soil back. Keep up a thorough cultivation of the soil all the season.

JERSEY HOLDS BUTTER RECORD

Place the plants four in a row and pack a little damp soil around the roots. After the plants have been placed in the trench, place a twelve-inch board on each side of the plants and draw the tops slightly together. A board placed on top will make a covering which will protect the plants until cold weather, when, if in a cold climate, litter and earth must be thrown over the trench to prevent them from freezing. The slightest touch with frost will ruin them. If celery is to be marketed late in the winter it should be placed in a hotbed or in earth in the cellar, or in a storage house.

The big celery growers follow the same method except that after the plants are placed in the trench with the boards on either side, earth is filled in on each side of the boards which are gradually withdrawn until the trench is nearly filled, leaving the tops above the surface. Then a little straw is placed over the tops and held down by an occasional shovelful of earth and this is added to as the weather becomes colder.

Some growers bleach their celery by placing over the plants a section of drain tile and covering up the top with a coarse cloth or litter.

Bleaching is really a very important part of producing good celery; because, unless the plants are white, firm and tender, they are not only unpalatable for the farmer's family, but are of course unsalable. Excluding the light induces a solid growth in the heart of the plant and this growth is very rapid. It also turns a plant from green to pure white. Persons contemplating growing celery for the market should not attempt to do so until they have visited one of the large commercial celery gardens and learned from observation exactly how the work of seeding, transplanting, cultivating and marketing is done. But the farmer who simply desires to grow enough celery for his family use, may it he follows in-

The Fountain Head of Life Is The Stomach

A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find that his blood has become weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished.

Dr. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY
makes the stomach strong, promotes the flow of digestive juices, restores the lost appetite, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder and restorative nerve tonic. It makes men strong in body, active in mind and cool in judgement.

This "Discovery" is a pure, glyceric extract of American medical roots, absolutely free from alcohol and all injurious, habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on its wrapper. It has no relationship with secret nostrums. Its every ingredient is endorsed by the leaders in all the schools of medicine. Don't accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this time-proven remedy of known composition. Ask your neighbors. They must know of many cures made by it during past 40 years, right in your own neighborhood. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

Too Many Trumps.
"I have seen some very remarkable 'whit hands,'" said one of the bridge fiends in a down town club on Saturday. "But once, about four years ago, I saw one man hold all 13 trumps."
"Why, that's not so extraordinary," two or three players broke in all at once, "that's happened lots of—"
"Hold on till I'm through. What made this hand remarkable is that the man who held it only took one trick."
"Nonsense! What are you—"
"It's a fact. When he trumped his partner's ace first time round his partner got up and threw him out of the window."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Blissful Ignorance.
Holden, the New York birdman, lately had in his shop a taciturn parrot. Day after day it sat silent on its perch, indifferent to every question. At last a Cuban lady came into the shop and spoke to it in her native tongue. The parrot brightened up at once, opened its beak and emitted a jubilant volley of vehement Spanish words. When the parrot finally ceased speaking, the lady turned to Mr. Holden and blushing violently asked:
"Do you understand Spanish?"
"No," he replied.
"Thank God!" she replied, and left the shop.—Success.

All seagoing vessels averaging fifty or more passengers are now required to carry wireless equipment, and many new operators are needed. Write TODAY for literature. Spend a part of the winter in study and prepare for a profession where the salary is good and the chance of advancement the best.

FOR ALL EYE PAINS Pettits Eye Salve
Stranger—Have you a good hair tonic you can recommend?
Druggist (in prohibition town)—Here is something that is spoken of very favorably by people who have drunk it.—Puck.
