Banker Phillips On Trial

Hugh C. Phillips, president of the defunct Vancouver, Wash., bank who was indicted by the grand jury of Clarke County, Wn. on a charge of accepting deposits in the bank after it was insolvent, is on trial at Kalama this week. A change of venue from Clarke County to Cowlitz County was granted the defendant because it was alleged the people of Clarke County were so aroused over the affair that a fair trial could not be had there. Fred W. Tempes, prosecuting attorney and Judge M. L. Pipes of Portland are prosecuting the case while ex-Judge W. W. McCredie of Vancouver and ex-Judge A. Bennet of The Dalles are defending.

Tarred A School Ma'am

Three men at Lincoln Center Kansas are on trial for having tarred a school teacher. On October 7, 1911 Miss Mary Chamberlain, a school teacher of that place, accompanied one Edward Ricord to a dance in the neighborhood. On their way home they were held up and while Miss Chamberlain was having tar poured over her body and limbs, her escort was hiding in the brush. Three men have been arrested for the assault and several more arrests will probably follow.

MURDER AT STELLA

Henry Radcliff of Stella, Wash., was shot and killed last Tuesday at his home by his brother-in-law, W. McRoberts. It appears that Radcliff was on a spree, came home drunk and commenced to beat his wife. She stood it as long as she could and then ran for the home of her brother, McRobert, who went to the Radcliff home and undertook to pacify the crazed man. Radcliff refused to be pacified and made a vicious attack upon McRobert, who, in order to defend himself and his sister, fired a shot at Radcliff hitting him in the head. He died a few hours later. McRobert gave himself up to the officers of Cowlitz County and is now in jail at Kalama.

Later—A coroner's jury of Cowlitz County has completely exonerated McRobert and no arrest will be made.
