THE CHINESE DOCTOR
Both the American and the Chinese physicians use medicines made from plants and herbs. But the Chinese have extended their researches and use Roots, Herbs and Bark that have never been heard of in this country. And with these harmless and non-injurious remedies Dr. C. Gee Wo has cured hundreds of patients of all sorts of diseases the medicines prescribed by well known American physicians. He has testimonials from patients all over the northwest as to the fine results he obtained with the use of these nature remedies. Should you live out of town and wish to begin treatment, send 4 cents in stamps for a consultation blank and circulars.

PLATINUM REALLY AN ALLOY
Its Use by Jewelers and Dentists is What Has Made it a Costly Metal.
The mineral called platinum is really a natural alloy of iridium, rhodium, palladium and often osmium, with varying amounts of iron, copper and gold. It is usually found in small nuggets, scales and rounded or irregular grains. Its color is steel gray. The specific gravity of the crude platinum varies from 14 to 19. The output of platinum in the United States is practically limited to California and Oregon.
Owing to its high melting point and great resistance to acids, platinum is extensively used for laboratory utensils. Platinum salts are employed in chemical analyses. In the manufacture of sulphuric acid the metal has been used in making large concentration kettles, but of late gold has been substituted for it. In photography, dentistry and electric installation much platinum is used. Of late the manufacture of jewelry has consumed large quantities of it. It is extensively used for chains and for the setting of diamonds, the claim being made, not only that it is more resistant than silver and harder than gold, but that the stones are better offset by platinum and appear larger than in any other kind of setting.—From a Geological Survey Report.

ICES A UNIVERSAL DELICACY
People of the South of Italy Remarkable for Their Fondness for This Simple Refreshment.
If you wish to realize what devotion to ices means you should go to Palermo. All over the south of Italy ices are eaten to an extent of which we do not dream, but in Sicily and Palermo in particular the custom has attained amazing proportions. Ices are eaten by people of all ranks and ages from morning to night. Where a true Briton would demand a glass of beer, the Palermo man asks for an iced. Morning, noon and night the consumption of ices goes on. They are in wonderful variety and cheap.
The stranger in that beautiful country finds the cafes invaded between 4 and 5 o'clock by ice eaters. He sees officers and men of the army, merchants and work people, the rich and the poor of both sexes consuming ices with gusto. No one evades this pleasant duty. Lines of carriages draw up at the side of the pavement before the cafes, the occupants, the coachman and the footman all with their favorite delicacy. At first the stranger wonders, then he falls a victim.—London Chronicle.

Reward, but No Claimant.
Despite the view that players are extravagant and do not save their money, Ada Lewis is a frugal actress and she has been putting her money away for years. She is the owner of an apartment building in New Rochelle. When she went down there to make arrangements for building the apartment she was waited upon by some members of the chamber of commerce, who congratulated her upon her enterprise.
"Will dogs be allowed in the building?" was asked.
"No."
"Will children be barred?"
"No, indeed," was the quick reply, "and I will go you one better, I will give a month's free rent to the parents of every baby born in the apartment."
This pleased the committee immensely, and as they bowed out she smiled a little and remarked:
"But, I forgot to say, this is to be a bachelor apartment."—Cleveland Leader.

Lots There to Capture.
During the civil war there was an Irishman of the Thirty-sixth Indiana, who, while on the skirmish line at Dallas, saw a good chance to capture a confederate. He availed himself of the opportunity, captured his man, and was passing to the rear with his prisoner, when one of his comrades called out to him: "Pat, let me have that man. I will take him over to General Gross, our brigade commander."
"Niver mind, me boy," replied Pat. "I left a million back over the hill there. Go yourself and fetch one of the lads over and take him to General Gross."
Fit Word.
The class had been discussing recent affairs in China. A few days later the fate of a man who was eaten by his savage enemies was referred to. Anxious to enlarge the limited vocabulary of the children, the teacher asked what name was given to men who ate other human beings.
"Savages" and "man-eaters" were the only words most of them could give. At last the eagerness of a bright-eyed boy indicated that he thought he had a better word. He had. It was "Manchus."—Youth's Companion.

Nature's Sun Dial.
There is no need for clocks on the Aegean sea any day when the sun is shining. There nature does not vary, though the centuries pass. This natural time-maker is the largest sun dial in the world. Projecting into the blue waters of the sea is a large promontory which lifts its head 3,000 feet above the waves. As the sun swings round the pointed shadow of the mountain just touches one after the other of a number of small islands, which are at exact distances apart and set as hour marks on the great dial.
To Tax Bill Boards.
The newspapers of Paris the beautiful are loudly demanding that "gigantic bill boards"—that "disgraceful and most prominent places in the city be eliminated. They hold that the city means to obviate this barbaric invasion by the city to tax these boards at such a high figure as to discourage the big advertisers from using them. The French parliament has already passed a law taxing bill boards in the country, where they do not add to the beauty of the landscape.
Royalty of Virtue.
If there be no nobility of descent, all the more indispensable is it that there should be nobility of ascent—a character in them that bear rule so fine and high and pure that as men come within the circle of its influence they involuntarily pay homage to that which is the one pre-eminent distinction, the royalty of virtue.—Bishop Henry C. Potter.
Truth Eternal.
All errors have only a time; after a hundred millions of objections, subtleties, sophisms, the smallest truth remains precisely what it was before.—Ancient Maxim.

WISDOM OF GREAT PAINTER
Melsionier's Comments Show That He Was a Philosopher as Well as a Superb Artist.
We always like to know what a great man has said about his work, and how he feels about other things that are of interest to every one. Fortunately, Melsionier left a record of many of his feelings and opinions, published as his "Conversations." Of all the painters, Rembrandt was his favorite.
Among his sayings were the following:
"Let well enough alone" is the motto of the lazy."
"The man who leaves good work behind adds to the inheritance of the human race."
"The master is an artist whose works never recall those of some other artist."
"I would have drawing made the basis of education in all schools. It is the universal language."
"No artist would paint if he knew he was never to show his work, if he felt no human eye would ever rest upon it."
"I never sign a picture until my whole soul is satisfied with my work."
"To will is to do" has been my motto. I have always willed. Oh! how I regret the lost time that can never be made up. As I grow older, I work harder than ever.—From Charles L. Barstow's "Famous Pictures" (Melsionier), in St. Nicholas.

ENGLISH SPELLING IS HARD
Noted Scholar Makes Strong Plea for Phonetic System—Child Would Save Much Time.
A strong plea in favor of phonetic spelling was made at the meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science at Dundee the other day by Sir James Donaldson, LL. D., vice-chancellor and principal of the University of St. Andrews and principal of the United College of St. Salvador and St. Leonard, says a London cable dispatch to the New York Sun. Sir James told the association that spelling is a thing of no consequence and everybody ought to be allowed to spell as he likes, just as Shakespeare and our ancestors did.
Sir James said that this plan would lead to phonetic spelling. Our present system of spelling, he told the scientists, if it can be called a system, is unique in its absurdity. The French, German and Dutch spell phonetically, but the English are terribly behind them.
If the English spelling were phonetic, said Sir James, it would be easy for the whole population of China to learn the English language, but no foreigners now had a chance to learn easily. The English speaking child taught to spell phonetically, he said, saved at least a year in the task of acquiring an education.
Sir James concluded his phonetic plea by scoring composers in general. The present method of making up words, he charged, was the doing of composers. "We are slaves of the printers," he asserted, "and if we do not spell according to their ways of thinking they change us over and over again. And there is no redress."
Sir James is an authority on the matter of spelling, being the author of "The Modern Greek Grammar," as well as many works on religious subjects.

REAL LAND OF THE AUTOMAT
Germany, Probably More Than Any Other Country, Makes Use of These Simple Devices.
Germany might almost be called "the land of the automat." Automatic devices of all kinds are popular and are used for a thousand purposes. At all postoffices, stamps and post cards are sold by automatic machines; at the railway stations, platform tickets and suburban tickets are sold by automats; automat restaurants, where one can secure a glass of beer, wine, or liquor, a sandwich, square meal, cup of coffee, chocolate, etc., by dropping a coin in the slot, abound everywhere. Every city of 15,000 or 20,000 population and over has from one to several hundred such restaurants. At railway stations automats sell chocolate, candy, picture post cards, and even a little kit of "first aid to the injured," containing a few drops of pain-killer, bandages, needle, thread, etc. Ten pennies in a slot opens the doors of toilet compartments, delivering a towel or piece of soap. A coin in a slot obtains a cigar, a tune from a mechanical music box, a pair of shoe strings, a collar button, or a visiting card.

Editorial Confessions.
The following confessions have been made by Thomas E. Thompson:
"I once had a round key check with my name on it—about the size of a silver quarter. Occasionally when at church I found myself dead broke. I would drop that key check into the hat for a bluff and the next day the brother treasurer would bring it around and I would redeem it. But one time it went out and never came back, and now I have to put in the coin or give the sign of distress."
"Once when I was on earth the first time I tried to make love to a giggly girl. She laughed me out of court and I was firmly convinced that she was not capable of a sensible, serious thought. I saw her not long ago and she looked as if she hadn't giggled or even smiled for a score of years and I was glad she treated me as a joke in the other days."—Kansas City Star.

Separating Them and Without Using the Thumb or Employing any Other Assistance.
RIDDLES.
What is the proper length for ladies' skirts? A little above two feet.
If the poker, shovel and tongs cost two dollars, what did the coals come to? Ashes.
What is that which works when it plays and plays when it works? A fountain.
What is everybody doing at the same time? Growing old.
When are silk threads like deceptive friends? When double-faced.
What is that which fastens two people together, yet touches only one? The wedding ring.
What is a button? A small event that is always coming off.
Why do you always put on your left shoe last? When you have put one on the other is left.
What thing is drawn more frequently than another? Cork.
Why does a hen lay eggs only in the daytime? Because she is a rooster at night.
Average Amount of Sleep.
Usually the amount of sleep is in inverse ratio to the strength and development of consciousness. Thus children need more sleep than adults. Some men need very little rest and the same may be said of women. However, eight hours is the average amount required by the human body to restore its vitality by complete rest.
If less is taken one's health is apt to be impaired. A good night's sleep will do more toward building up general health than all the tonics known.

Neat Little Parlor Trick
Difficult to Move Second Finger From Between First and Second Without Separating Them.
Here's something which is harder than it looks. Bend the second finger of your left hand forward and join the tips of the first and third behind it. Then try to move the second finger out between them without separating them and without using the thumb or employing any other assistance.

Unsettling Menu.
The young girls who work in the Paris shops have 50 centimes to spend for their midday meal, and when a charitable society inquired as to how the money was being spent, the following list was found to embody the average: Fried potatoes or sausage, 10 centimes; bread, 10 centimes; bobons, 10 centimes; violets or other flowers, 20 centimes. The society no longer had any cause to wonder why the girls were undersized and ill-nourished.

Pettit's Eye Salve RELIEVES TIRED EYES
All the Qualifications.
Among a large number of amusing letters received by David Belasco was the following: "Veneered Sir—Wabbling to go on the stage, would like to join your forces. Have been a bricklayer for five years, but having failed in this branch, have decided to take up acting, the same being easier work. I am not young, but six feet in my stocking feet. Have studied elocution and am fond of late hours."—Everybody's Magazine.
Naturally.
"We are very sorry," said the Trust as it forced a competitor out of business. "We have nothing against you personally. It is merely a matter of principle. We are firm believers in the closed shop."

National Characteristic.
A national characteristic of the French people is their habit of family exclusiveness. It is very rarely that a family divides for a holiday. For one thing, middle-class people in France do not pay visits except to members of their own family, and for another, a French mother likes to keep her children under her own eyes as much as possible, both before and after marriage.
William Penn's Sepulcher.
It is in the Church of St. Mary Redcliff, in Bristol, that the remains of Sir William Penn, father of the proprietor of Pennsylvania, rest. A tablet to his memory has been on the walls of the edifice ever since Sir William's death. Above it are hung his armor, his sword and his flag.
Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period.
Case of Ingratitude.
When Lord B— died a person met an old man who was one of his most intimate friends. He was pale, confused, awe-stricken. Every one was trying to console him, but in vain. "His loss," he exclaimed, "does not affect me so much as his horrible ingratitude. Would you believe it? He died without leaving me anything in his will—I, who have dined with him at his own house three times a week for 30 years!"—Life.

When a Japanese Toy becomes old and chipped give it two coats of white paint and one of enamel, the bottom as well as the top. Stand it on the edge to dry after each coat. It will be found as good as new, as well as very pretty. The enamel is easily renewed.
No Difference to Her.
"I understand your husband is a candidate for office," said a suffragette out west to her sister in the cause. "Are you going to support him?" "Oh, I suppose so," answered the sister, somewhat wearily. "I've been supporting him for the past ten years."—Chicago Record-Herald.
Positions for the Fair Sex.
Several bank presidents in the smaller towns are women, as well as clerks, tellers and cashiers. Government experts frequently are among the fair sex, whose deftness of touch makes their fingers especially efficacious for such work as that of the dead letter office.
Nothing Else to Do.
"What are the wild waves saying, mother?" "I do not know, my child."
"But why do they dance all day long?"
"Well, my child, they cannot play bridge."—Kansas City Journal.
The People Supreme.
I repeat that all power is a trust; that we are accountable for its exercise; that from the people and for the people all springs and all must exist.—Benjamin Disraeli.
Some Women.
Some women can't bear the odor of gasoline until they get an auto.—Judge.

Silk Umbrellas.
Umbrellas when not in use should be left open. Never put away while damp, and do not allow them to stand in a dusty place, as this rots the silk more than any other cause. When a small hole or cut appears in a silk umbrella it may be mended with a piece of black court plaster or mending tissue.
He and Another Man.
A woman who owns a little brown rowboat, which when not in use is tied in a sheltered Cape Ann cove, responded to a knock at her cottage door the other day to find a very diminutive boy standing on the threshold. "Please, ma'am," lisped he, "can me an' another man have the loan of the brown skiff to go a-cod fishin'?"
