Ordinance No. 137

An ordinance apportioning the cost of the improving of Winter street northerly from the easterly extension of the southerly boundary line of lot 15, in block 44 of the City of St. Helens, Ore., to the northerly boundary line of Columbia Park, Oregon, by grading and macadamizing with crushed rock to the width of 24 feet, and assessing the cost of said improvement to the property benefited thereby.

Whereas, Ordinance No. 118 was on the 4th day of March, 1912, duly and regularly passed and ordained by the common council of the city of St. Helens, Oregon, wherein and whereby it was ordained that all that portion of Winter street in the city of St. Helens, Oregon, northerly from the easterly extension of the southerly boundary line of lot 15, in block 44, of the city of St.
Helens, Oregon, to the northerly boundary line of Columbia Park, Oregon, now a part of said city, be improved by grading the same for a width of 24 feet, 12 feet on each side of the center line of said street and macadamizing the same with crushed rock, and that in accordance with said ordinance said portion of said Winter street has been improved and macadamized at a cost, after deducting the cost of such improvement across Weyeth street and West street in said city, as well as lots 8, 9, 10 and 11 in block 31, of the city of St. Helens, belonging to said city, of $981.03, which has been duly and regularly assessed and said sum paid by said city of St. Helens, for which said sum said city of St. Helens has been reimbursed.

And whereas, under the charter of said city and said ordinance No. 118, it is required and directed that the cost of such improvement shall fall upon the property abutting thereon, to-wit: Lots 1 to 11, both inclusive, of block 30, lots 12 to 22, both inclusive in block 45, lots 12, 13, 14 and 15, in block 44, all in the city of St. Helens, as per the official plat thereof, and lots 1 to 11, both inclusive, in block 2, in said Columbia Park, Oregon, and that such cost be apportioned upon the said described property according to the value of the same as determined by the last previous commissioner's assessment.

Now, therefore, in accordance with the provisions of said charter and ordinance, the city of St. Helens does ordain as follows:

Section 1. That the following sums be and the same hereby are apportioned as the assessment against the respective lots abutting upon said improvement described in said ordinance No. 118 and herein among the respective owners of said lots, and that said sums set against the number of the lots so abutting on said improvement, and hereinafter described, be and the same hereby are assessed to the lots so designated and apportioned among the property owners

Unfair Advantage.
A school inspector, examining a class in Bible history, asked, "Can any boy tell me what bird Noah let out of the ark?" There was a long silence, and then the smallest boy in the class put up his hand and answered, "Please, sir, a dove!" The inspector expressed his surprise that only the smallest boy in the class knew the answer to the question. "But, please, sir," replied one of the boys, evidently touched by this reproach, "his father keeps a bird shop!"—London Telegraph.

A Lesson in Pronunciation.
"How do you pronounce that word 'divorce,' professor?" asked Mr. Slab-sides. "Is it 'divorsay' or 'divorcee'?"
"That all depends, my young friend," smiled the professor. "When Mrs.
Jones-Smythe-Wiggles got her first divorce I should have called it 'Divorce A,' but now that she has come through with a third I should say that 'Divorce C' is a justifiable form."—Harper's.

A MITE OF A REPUBLIC.
Moresnet is Only One and a Quarter Square Miles in Extent.

The smallest state in Europe, the autonomous republic of Moresnet, is on the boundary between Germany and Belgium.

Moresnet has an area of barely one and a quarter square miles and a population of 3,500. It owes its existence to a boundary controversy for the control of a once important zinc mine. A boundary commission settling the frontiers of Holland and Prussia after the fall of Napoleon in 1814 was unable to agree upon the ownership of this tiny piece of land, with its valuable mining rights, and finally left the question for future settlement. Neither power was to occupy it, and it was administered jointly by the two states.

In practice the joint administration soon resulted in an administration by neither state, and the community became autonomous under the protection and tutelage of Prussia and Holland and later of Prussia and Belgium. In 1841 the two guaranteeing countries recognized this and formally gave the district its own independent administration. It has no courts, but litigants must choose between the Belgian and Prussian tribunals in beginning litigation, which is subject to the laws neither of Germany nor of Belgium, but of the ancient Code Napoleon.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

PRIMITIVE ARAB LIFE.
Desert People Still Have the Customs of Abraham's Time.

In the wild deserts Arab life is as primitive as in Abraham's time. Sheep are still used to seal a vow. The salt or bread covenant is observed, and when a man dies his tent is torn down and destroyed.

Old names such as Joseph, Moses and Alexander are still in common use among Arabs, though pronounced "Yusuf," "Musa" and "Skandar."

To divorce his wife a man may repeat the formula Ent telek three times.
Usually saying it once makes the woman behave, and its repetition is not necessary.

The "evil eye" superstition is common, and the first injunction given a visiting foreigner by experienced Arab travelers is that he must not point at animals or persons in Arab settlements.

Arabs say a man gifted with this malign power can look at a bird flying in the air and that it will drop dead; that if he chooses to cast his wicked spell on a camel it may go lame or a child so selected will be struck blind.

None of the lower class can read or write, but the Arab is noted for his ready wit and his habit of speaking in allegory.—Christian Herald.

The Human Brain.
In estimating the size of the human brain in comparison with the brains of other animals we must figure on not only the positive size, but the relative.
Were this not the case man would stand below the elephant and whale.

as the brains of those creatures far exceed man's in positive size, while as regards relative size they stand so far below him that, while the brain of the elephant amounts to about the five-hundredth part of the whole, the brain of man varies from one-thirtieth to one-fifth of his entire weight. This shows the immense superiority of the human brain as compared with the brains of the lower animals.—New York American.

Dogs That Hunt Crabs.
A collector for the London zoo has succeeded in capturing several crab hunting and crab eating dogs in Brazil.
The dogs are half fox, but they do not seem to care very much for poultry.
They have been known to turn up their noses at mice, fat pullets and go fishing for crabs instead. The dogs hunt in parks along the banks of the rivers in the Amazon valley, and the crabs and land crabs of that region are their special prey. The crabs often put up a vigorous fight, but the dogs have a way of turning them over and biting them in a vital spot just as the thoroughbred terrier polishes off a rat.—

A School Inspector.
A school inspector, examining a class
up his hand and answered, "Please,

The Marching Song.
No one knows the inspiration of a tramping song better than the soldier and most regiments have their favorite airs, which they love to yell when on march. The men of the Manchester regiment have a fine reputation for singing on the march, and two of their favorite songs are "Killaloe" and "Brian Boru," both of which give opportunity for some hearty shouts at intervals. Similarly the Yorkshire when route marching, enliven the way with "Dan Tucker," a song in which the words are of no account and the tune a series of diabolical yells.—London Chronicle.

Seen in a Menagerie.
"I have heard of haughty strides and graceful glides, but the heroine of this melodrama has a sort of zoological walk."

"What kind of walk is that?"
"Why, the author speaks of her pursuing her entree trend with a dogged determination!"

Something in Keeping.
"You prosper this cat too much," said the veterinarian. "You keep him too much in the house."
"But, doctor, this is a Persian cat—cost $4,000!"
"Well, build him a mahogany wood-shed to gambol on!"—Pittsburgh Post.

Snobs and Snobs.
Little Snob—I don't see any waiters.
Why don't they wear uniforms? You can't tell who are gentlemen and who are not, can you? Superior Walter sarcastically—We waiters find no difficulty, sir!—London Opinion.

Not Needed.
"Do you carry burglar insurance on your home, Bilddad?" asked Wiggles.
"I used to, but since the twins came I've given it up," said Bilddad. "Nobody sleeps at our house after dark, so what's the use?"—Harper's.

CAREFUL OF THEIR COWS.
Isle of Jersey Sees to It That the Breed is Kept Absolutely Pure.

Undoubtedly the little island of Jersey has been enriched by the profit of its cows. In modern days potato raising and fruit culture have helped, but it is the solid, continual profit of the cattle that has made the island rich.

So carefully do they tend them there and so frugal are they of waste in trodden pastures, says Our Dumb Animals, that they actually tether their animals, and the children or indoor servants shift them at noon, noon and night.

Gentleness is their cue in handling the calf, which, after a dose of mother's milk, has to be content with skim-milk, or skillegales. She is haltered and fed by hand and becomes docile and gentle and when two years old yields indoors or out her bountiful bucketful of frothy, rich milk to the quiet women folk who milk her.

The Jersey breed is kept pure by stringent laws against the importation of foreign stock. The summer pasturage is very rich, and cattle remain out from May till October, but during the winter they are always comfortably housed.

The milk is used almost exclusively in making butter. A good Jersey will make an average of a pound of butter every day in the year. The Jersey is beautiful in form, and her abounding dairy products make her a favorite with the household, an ornament to any farm or estate and a source of great profit to her owner.

Spiteful.
Edith—So you are really engaged at last? I'm awfully glad to hear it, dear! Gladys—Yes, I was sure you would be. You have less competition now.—London Mail.

Dangerous to the Diaphragm.
Jack—Bessie imagines that he is a lady killer. Ethel—Well, he isn't far wrong. We girls almost die laughing at him.—Boston Transcript.
