CORRECTION

A story on 1A of the Sept. 7 issue of the Silverton Appeal listed an incorrect number of open positions in the city of Silverton in the November election. Three elected officials for Silverton have filed to run again for their respective four-year positions this fall. They are Mayor Rick Lewis and Councilors Laurie Carter and Jason Freilinger. No one filed to fill retiring Councilor Ken Hector's seat, opening it to write-in candidates.

Dodie Brockamp has been named auxiliary president for Legacy Silverton Medical Center.

Among other things, the hospital auxiliary runs a scholarship program for students, staffs the gift store, provides blankets to newborns and does a variety of other fundraising.

As president, Brockamp will coordinate the executive committee and run monthly meetings. Her goal is to focus on membership, "trying

"on a few big fundraisers," she said.

Brockamp also volunteers with Kiwanis Club, Silverton Chamber of Commerce, Wednesday night community dinners and the Silverton Art Association. She has a bachelor's degree from Oregon State University in liberal arts.

If you love the outdoors and have an itch to do something positive, mark your calendars for this event.

The Third Annual Detroit Lake Shoreline and Riverside Cleanup takes place from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 24.

Coordinated through a partnership with Stop

Oregon Litter and Vandalism (SOLVE) and the National Environmental Education Foundation (NEEF) the event invites all hands to the Detroit Lake shoreline and Breitenbush riverside fall cleanup where organizers said they provide gloves, safety vests and trash bags.

Sponsors include Marion County, U.S. Forest Service, Oregon State Parks, Detroit Lake Oregon, North Santiam Watershed Council, City of Detroit, Federal Lakes Recreation Committee for Detroit Lake and Pacific Sanitation.

SOLVE Oregon officials noted that Saturday, Sept. 24, is also National Public Lands Day which is the nation's largest, single-day volunteer effort for public lands. With the event taking place on National Public Lands Day parking will be free.

Day of the event registration is available at the Upper Arm Day Use Area, or volunteers can register in advance at <http://solveoregon.org/get-involved/events/third-annual-detroit-lake-shoreline-riverside-clean>. For registration questions, contact Kaleen Boyle, 503-844-9571 x332 or 800-333-7658 x332, kaleen@solveoregon.org.

For information, contact North Santiam Watershed Council at 503-930-8202 or council@northsantiam.org.

group serving Marion and Yamhill counties. "For more than a decade

John Gooley has played a key role in projects that have helped continue the mission of area non-profits and events that give back," SEDCOR staff said.

His contributions include helping SEDCOR Construction Alliance, in partnership with Extreme Makeover, rebuild the Oregon School for the Deaf dormitory and the haunted house it uses as a fundraiser each October. He played a vital role in helping SEDCOR and its members build the Festhalle in Mount Angel. And he gathered donations funds for the Oregon Forest Research Institute Discovery Pavilion.

SPECIAL TO THE SILVERTON APPEAL

Victor Point School's annual Pie & Cake Auction is 7 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 22. The Silverton community is invited to join in an old fashioned auction of pies, cookies and cakes created by the school community. Bid, fight, win ... and support Victor Point kids while you do.

The auction is live, while large themed gift baskets will also be up for bid in a silent auction.

Questions? Call 503-873-4987. The school is at 1175 Victor Point Road SE.

Cultural development grants open

Marion Cultural Development Corporation announces grant opportunities for 2016. Complete information can be found on the MCDC website <http://www.marionculturaltrust.org/>.

Applications for 2017 projects will be accepted online only, and began Sept. 2. The deadline to apply is Oct. 7. Grantees will be notified by mid-November and will receive their awards at a reception in December. Funds will be available for use in 2017. Final reports for projects will be due by December 31, 2017.

Organizations that have received grants for 2016 and plan to apply for 2017 grants must submit a final report -- or, if the project is not complete, an interim report -- by September 2. Organizations that have received grants for both the 2015 and 2016 grant cycles are ineligible.

MCDC is a non-profit organization funded by the Oregon Cultural Trust and is designed to support and enhance the development of the arts, heritage and humanities in Marion County. In addition to its granting activities, MCDC maintains a county-wide inventory of cultural groups and associations in an on-line database; supports cultural activities that meet the goals contained in its action plan; and serves as an advocate and forum for needs and issues related to the arts, humanities and heritage in Marion County. MCDC awards grants to registered non-profit 501 (c) (3) organizations that are located or headquartered in Marion County. Individuals who are sponsored by registered non-profit 501 (c) (3) organizations may also apply for funding. Grants will be awarded on a competitive basis and applicants must demonstrate that their project meets at least one of MCDC's goals. Grant amounts are expected to range from $500 to no more than $2,000.
