

OBITUARIES

Stella Marion Beyer

July 22, 1928 — Feb. 26, 2017

Stella Beyer of Mt. Angel was born to Andrew and Margaret Dummer in New Ulm, Minnesota, on July 22, 1928. Her family subsequently moved to Mt. Angel, where she attended school and graduated from Mt. Angel Women's College with a degree in education.

In 1952, she married Vincent Beyer and moved to the farm on Oster Road near Monitor, where they enjoyed 55 years of raising berries, cattle, trees, and children. Stella was an avid homemaker and excelled in sewing, cooking, quilting, square dancing and had a love for music and St. Mary's Church that she shared with her children. After the children were raised, she enjoyed folks-walking, gardening, antiquing and spending time with her family.

Stella is survived by her children: David (Rita) Beyer of Woodburn, Mary (Jose) Parra of Woodburn, Stephen (Leslie) Beyer of Portland, Mark (Gayla) Beyer of Oregon City, Janice (John) Walters of Portland, Leo (Edna) Beyer of Fallon, Nevada, Bruce Beyer of Canby and Alan Beyer of Beaverton; 16 grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren; siblings Art (Joan) Dummer, Francis (Bernice) Dummer, Bill (Arlene) Rodenhurst, Fr. Tony Dummer, OMI, and Carl (Kathy) Dummer.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Vincent Beyer, and her sister, Margaret Hagman.

In lieu of flowers, please send memorials to St Mary's Catholic Church.

Patricia Sue (Roth) Fritz

Jan. 2, 1954 — Feb. 27, 2017

Patricia was born in Silverton to Raymond and Rosalie Roth and was raised on a small farm outside of Salem. Her life was cut short by ALS (Lou Gehrig's Disease). She graduated from Salem Academy High School in 1972 and from Oregon State University with a degree in Early Childhood Education in 1976.

She worked as a preschool teacher, an educational assistant, and for 23 years as an instructional assistant at Sublimity Elementary School. In 2007, she was honored by the North Santiam School District with the educator of the year award.

On March 20, 1976, she married Luke Fritz. Together they lived in Salem and Aumsville before finally moving to six acres between Aumsville and Sublimity in 1982. She gave birth to three children, all of whom became teachers: Alicia, in Salem; Kara, in Hillsboro; and Josiah, near Christmas Valley.

Pat was raised in the Emmanuel Menonite Church in Pratum, and was a member of the Stayton United Methodist Church, serving as a Sunday School teacher for more than 30 years. She lived her faith with the grace for which she was noted. She also expressed her artistic talents through sewing, knitting, crocheting, a wide variety of arts, crafts and cooking.

A memorial service was held March 4 at Stayton United Methodist Church.

Donations may be made in her name to the ALS Association, Doernbecher Children's Hospital or Stayton United Methodist Church.

Dorothy LaJean Canoy (Huddleston)

Oct. 14, 1928 — Feb. 24, 2017

Dorothy LaJean Canoy passed away peacefully in her home on Feb. 24, 2017, with her daughter, son-in-law and granddaughter at her bedside.

She was born to Allen and Della Huddleston (Brackett) and was a graduate of Silverton High School. She married Boyd Taylor Canoy on Labor Day 1937, and is preceded in death by him (April 20, 2005).

Dorothy owned a Beauty Shop in Silverton for several years and lived there with their daughter while Boyd served in the Army in Italy during World War II. After the war, they lived in several communities in Oregon following Boyd's employment in the lumber industry. After retirement, they settled in Vancouver, living near their daughter for 39 years. In retirement, they traveled extensively.

They spent time in Europe, including France and Italy, Turkey, Egypt, Japan and China.

Hobbies included gardening, bird watching, reading, knitting, crocheting and helping raise her great-grandchildren.

She is survived by her daughter, Ellen (Robert) Hehn; grandchildren Boyd (Anne) Hehn, Curtis (Karina) Hehn, Alyssabeth Segers (Ryan Graham); and eight great-grandchildren: Alexandra and Madeleine Tallent Hehn, Katia, Alexis and Connor Hehn, Jacob Graham and Alyssa and Tristin Segers.

"Nanny" is greatly missed. We are indebted to Peace Health Hospice for their loving and caring support in Nanny's final days.

A graveside service was held March 3 at Miller Cemetery in Silverton.

Arrangements were made with Unger Funeral Chapel, Silverton.

High school musicians hit just the right note

Young musicians in the Silverton area looking to take flight recently got a boost from high-schoolers who took them under their wing at a one-day band clinic.

Section leaders and other musicians in Silverton High School's bands spent Saturday, Feb. 25 mentoring younger students from six local schools. Fifteen high schoolers gave instrument-specific training and played alongside 36 younger musicians in this first annual band clinic.

Clinic leaders' goals were to provide young musicians with tools and techniques to support musical development, give them experience in advanced sounds and ensembles, and give them a chance to perform alongside advanced students, said Frank Petrik, band director.

"It was a pleasure to work with attentive and talented young musicians. It gave the leadership a clear perspective of the future of our program," he said.

Student leaders from the high school included Marah Christenson, Melissa Mattison, Maggie Kelley, Julie Golan, Will Sisley, Sam Goggin and Noah Westgate. To prepare them for this and other roles, they attended leadership training at the beginning of the year, Petrik said.
