John David Ghiglia

Dec. 5, 1958 — May 24, 2018

John David Ghiglia, 59, passed away on May 24, 2018, in Salem from an extended illness. He was born on Dec. 5, 1958, to Russ and Margaret Ghiglia in Northridge, California. He was the oldest of two. John was raised in the Chatsworth, California, area. In 1971, he moved to Silverton with his family. John graduated from Silverton High School. He married Alice M. Rice on April 9, 1983, in Silverton. They had two sons. As president of Valley Pacific Construction, John’s passion was to continue growing the family business. John enjoyed hunting, fishing, camping and riding motorcycles. John loved spending time with his family and also with his dog, Boone. He is survived by parents Russ and Margaret of Silverton; his sister, Carolyn Tjaarda of Silverton; his loving wife, Alice of Silverton; sons Andrew, and his significant other Devon, of Silverton and Adam, and his wife Kasondra, of Keizer; grandchildren Trevor, Emily, Riley and Spencer; and all of his extended loving family.

Larry Huddleston

Jan. 19, 1945 — May 22, 2018

Larry Huddleston, 73, of Prineville passed away at his home in Prineville, Tuesday, May 22, 2018. Larry was born to Edgar and Nellie Huddleston on Jan. 19, 1945, in Silverton. Larry graduated from Silverton High School in 1963, and soon after spent three years in the US Army. He was awarded the Vietnam Service Medal and the National Defense Service Medal. Larry was like so many men, serving his country with pride. After retiring, Larry moved to Central Oregon. He met and married Lydia La-Macchia in 2016 and they made Prineville their home. One of the many things they enjoyed doing together was going to open mics with friends and listening to the music. He loved music and cars, especially the classics! The friends that he and Lydia made through the open mic, and the people in his life that shared his passions will miss him dearly. He is survived by his wife, Lydia La-Macchia; sisters Linda Stokem of Salem and Debra Huddleston of Woodburn; brother David Huddleston of Napa, California; sons Randy Castle of Denver, Colorado, and Dustin Huddleston of Tigard; and daughter Kristian Huddleston of Idanha. A celebration of life will be planned in the near future. Please see Prineville Funeral Home’s website for dates and times. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made in Larry’s name to Veterans of Foreign Wars or Prineville Band of Brothers. Rest in peace, Larry. May God be with you.

Deanne Karn-Kaufman

Aug. 1, 1960 — May 25, 2018

On May 25, 2018, Deanne Karn-Kaufman passed away peacefully in her sleep from complications of diabetes, with her faithful dog, Lyla, by her side.

Deanne Kaufman

Born to Buddy and Janette on Aug. 1, 1960, a blue eyed, blonde hair baby girl, Deanne was the middle of three daughters. Deanne was bright, smart and quick witted. She was a kind-hearted mother, daughter and sister. Deanne loved people, crosswords, games, crazy socks, music, gummy bears and brownies. She never forgot a face or a name, was a great listener and a friend who shared what she had with anyone and everyone. She is survived by her children, Melissa Rae of Arizona and Kyle (RheaLynn) of New Mexico; sisters Karen (Steve) Stadel and Laurie (Brian) Baker; granddaughter Kollins Rhea; nieces and nephews Holly and Cody, Heidi and Lance, Heather and Josh, Hailey and Joe, Kimmy and Billy, and Neil and Malary; and great-nieces and great-nephews Gwyndolyn, Gretchen, Genevieve, Blake, Claire and Michayla. A memorial service will take place on Labor Day weekend at the beach that she loved. Rest in peace, dear Deanne. We all love and miss you. Arrangements by Unger Funeral Chapel of Silverton.

people know and trust,” he said. Amy Margolis, the Oregon Cannabis Association’s executive director, says capping licenses would only spur more consolidation in the long term. The state is working on a study that should provide insight into what lies ahead. “I don’t think that everything in this state is motivated by struggle and failure,” she said. “I’m very interested to see ... how this market settles itself and (in) being able to do that from a little less of a reactionary place.” For now, Oregon’s smaller marijuana businesses are trying to stay afloat. A newly formed group will launch an ad campaign this fall to tell Oregonians why they should pay more for mom-and-pop cannabis. Oregon Craft Cannabis Alliance founder Adam Smith believes 70 percent of Oregon’s small growers and retailers will go out of business if consumers don’t respond.

“We could turn around in three to four years and realize that 10 to 12 major companies own a majority of the Oregon industry and that none of it is really based here anymore,” he said. “The Oregon brand is really all about authenticity. It’s about people with their hands in the dirt, making something they love as well as they can. How do we save that?”
