Oregon has a new outdoors czar. Cailin O'Brien-Feeney, a graduate of Lewis and Clark College, has been hired to lead Oregon's newly created Office of Outdoor Recreation, state officials said in a news release June 8. O'Brien-Feeney will head a small team tasked with "elevating outdoor recreation in every corner of the state," by promoting legislation and practices that improve access, encourage public participation and protect natural resources, the release said. The team is part of the Oregon Parks and Recreation Department. It was created in part to bring the economic benefits of outdoor recreation, booming in Bend and Portland, to the rest of the state, officials said previously. O'Brien-Feeney has worked in outdoor recreation for 15 years, including stints with the U.S. Forest Service and as a river guide in Idaho, the news release said. He holds an Environmental Science graduate degree from the University of Idaho. Most recently, he worked for the Outdoor Industry Association, a large trade group that represents recreation-based businesses and promotes outdoor participation. "We're happy Cailin agreed to come back to Oregon and work with the team focusing on improving out-

School in 1963, and soon after spent three years in and Nellie Huddleston on Jan. 19, 1945, in Silverton. Larry graduated from Silverton High School in 1963, and soon after spent three years in the U.S. Army. He was awarded the Vietnam Service Medal and the National Defense Service Medal. Larry was like so many men, serving his country with pride. After retiring, Larry moved to Central Oregon. He met and married Lydia LaMacchia in 2016 and they made Prineville their home. One of the many things they enjoyed doing together was going to open mics with friends and listening to the music. He loved music and cars, especially the classics! The friends that he and Lydia made through the open mic, and the people in his life that shared his passions will miss him dearly. He is survived by his wife, Lydia LaMacchia; sisters Linda Stokem of Salem and Debra Huddleston of Woodburn; brother David Huddleston of Napa, California; sons Randy Castle of Denver, Colorado, and Dustin Huddleston of Tigard; and daughter Kristian Huddleston of Idaho. A celebration of life will be planned in the near future. Please see Prineville Funeral Home's website for dates and times. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made in Larry's name to Veterans of Foreign Wars or Prineville Band of Brothers. Rest in peace, Larry. May God be with you.

Josef and Eva Wekerle in Woodburn on October 14, 1922. She married Arthur Schwab on Nov. 24, 1948, and lived her remaining 70 years in Mt. Angel on the Schwab family farm. She was a mother, homemaker and worked part time as a waitress at the Nibble Nook. She enjoyed her family, flower gardening, her two dogs, cat and chickens. Other interests include family camping trips, shopping, playing with and going to her grandson's baseball games and watching her granddaughter show her horse at 4-H fairs. She is survived by her daughters, Rose (Pat) Berger and Jean (Duane) Boen; three grandsons; six great-grandchildren; and two great-great-granddaughters. She was preceded in death by her father, Art, 21 years ago and her granddaughter, Amy, five years ago. Brianna, one of her great-granddaughters, said this about her passing: "It's never fully the end, she left much of herself behind in each of us." We love you and miss you; until we meet again. Visitation was held Sunday, June 17, at Unger Funeral Chapel in Mt. Angel. Rosary will be at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, June 20, followed by mass at 11 a.m., both at St. Mary Catholic Church in Mt. Angel. Interment at Calvary Catholic Cemetery following mass. Arrangements by Unger Funeral Chapel.
