SUNDAY MORNING, MARCH 13, 1904

BE NEIGHBORLY.

When the farmers and those interested in the agricultural progress of Union county gather in La Grande, to participate in the Farmer's Institute which will begin in La Grande on the evening of the 15th inst and continue through the 16th inst, it will be the proper thing for the people of La Grande to meet them in a neighborly spirit, and extend to each and all the glad hand of welcome.

It is a false philosophy that teaches "there is no sentiment in business," and that a man can further his financial plans by eliminating all kindly feelings from his heart. We are taught in the Holy book that "out of the heart flow the issues of life." To test the soundness of this doctrine examine your own experience in business transactions, and you will find in all cases you much prefer to do business with one that you feel confident entertains a friendly feeling toward you. When you go into a man's place of business, whether in store, office, shop or farm house and are met with an icy stare, that like an x-ray is searching your pocket to find out how much coin you have therein and that your presence is desirable only in proportion to the expected profit that can be made out of you, you feel a shiver running down your back and a strong desire to escape from that congenial atmosphere. You leave such a place with a hope in your heart that circumstances will never again force you to take such a cold bath, and if possible, you will not again expose yourself to such a chill.

Towns like individuals should seek, and by their acts, merit the good will of the surrounding communities. The gathering here of the representative men of the owners of the 1500 farms in Union county will give the people of La Grande an opportunity, they should not neglect, of demonstrating their neighborly feeling and friendly sympathy with all the people in the county. The people who will come here will be our guests and should be so treated that on their return to their homes they will bear with them a hearty good will toward the people of La Grande.

TO THE LEGAL VOTERS OF LA GRANDE.

I hereby announce myself as an independent Candidate for the office of City Treasurer of the city of La Grande.

Mr. John H. Cullom, Editor of the Garland, Texas, News, has written a factures congratulations to the manufacturer of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, as follows: "Sixteen years ago when our first child was a baby he was subject to croupy spells and we would be very uneasy about him.
