MANY SETTLERS COME

Though only one month of the special rate season has gone and it has not been an inviting one for the visitors, still it brought out more settlers to Oregon than did the same month last year.

In March 1908 there passed through Portland 1119 settlers who were bound for points in Oregon other than this city, the month just ended brought in the month just ended brought in 1,434 settlers of the same sort. This it by no means the entire colonist business for the month probably not more than one-third of those coming to the state to take up their residence come under the above classification, but it is the best index the railroad companies have of the settlers coming to Oregon.

Against Strenuous Life for Women.
At the Illinois state convention of women's clubs recently held in Cairo Mrs. Ellen M. Henrotin, president of the Chicago Woman's club and formerly president of the National Federation, deplored the drift of club work toward sensationalism. She pleaded with the delegates to stop prescribing a cure for civic ills, to relinquish the

The World's Fair Route

Those anticipating an Eastern trip, or a visit to the Louisiana Purchase exposition at St. Louis, cannot afford to overlook the advantages offered by the MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILWAY, which, on account of its various routes and gate ways, has been aptly named "The World's Fair Route."

Passengers from the Northwest take the Missouri Pacific trains from Denver or Pueblo with the choice of either going direct through the Kansas City, via Wichita, Fort Scott and Pleasant Hill.

Two trains daily from Denver and Pueblo to St. Louis without change, carrying all classes of modern equipment, including electric lighted observation parlor cafe dining cars. Ten daily trains between Kansas City and St. Louis.

Write, or call on W. C. McBride, General Agent, 124 Third st, Portland for detailed information and illustrated literature.

Congratulations.

Mr. John H. Colburn, Editor of the Oregonian, says, "We have just received a letter from your sister, Mrs. E. M. Henrotin, of Chicago, who writes as follows: 'I have just returned from a trip to the West, where I was invited to give a course of lectures on the subject of women's clubs. We began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in 1887, and finding it such a reliable remedy for cough and croup, we have never been without it in the house since that time. We have five children and have given it to all of them with good results.' For Sale by all druggists."

MRS. ELLEN M. HENROTTIN.
Leadership of reform movements and to direct their attention to art, literature and religion.
Mrs. Henrotin preached the gospel of man for his soul and woman for hers. Her arrangement of women's clubs for fostering sensationalism and her suggestion that the time had come for women to stop trespassing in man's field of work provoked a storm. Woman's position throughout the rest of the world, she urged, was subordinate and American women had been forced into a different condition by the business activity of men.
"Now, what I want to know is this," said she, "are not women by their intense activity weakening men? I want to know how far this strenuous life works against man's action. There is a growing tendency among women's clubs to care for nothing which does not present a spectacular or sensational aspect. I say this for the good of the club movement."
