Rhodes vs. Kruger

The highest ambition of Cecil Rhodes the great civic leader of the English Colonies in South Africa was to secure the largest thing possible for the barbarians, natives of Africa. The ambition of Paul Kruger, president of the Boer republic was to render perpetual the enslavement of the natives of Africa within her realm. It was this clash of the ambition and purposes of the two ruling men that brought on the late Boer war in which Kruger lost, as did Jefferson Davis in the United States in 1865.

A startling incident, is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed, at La Grande Drug Co., and Newlin Drug Co's, drug store.
