Rumors of Mediation

London, June 2.—Rumors of mediation in the Japanese war caused a rise of 1-2 per cent in consols and a general upward tendency on the London exchange this afternoon, but rumors have found no confirmation in diplomatic circles. The foreign office characterizes the report that mediation is pending in the immediate future as "rubbish."

Baron Hayashi, who is Japan's senior minister and foremost diplomatic representative abroad, would be the first to hear of any such move says: "Not a whisper of mediation has reached me. For us to stay our hands at this moment would be senseless folly. Russia appears to be in a serious dilemma. She has not enough men in the field to cope with our various points of attack. If she sends the reinforcements General Kurapatkin so much needs, she cannot find them."

"I cannot credit the rumor of Rome of General Kurapatkin's defeat, although during the next few days news of a battle may come at any moment. It seems evident Kurapatkin intends to fight at Liao Yang. It is believed he has decided to do this not so much from a military point of view as because of the pressure from the court and officers at St Petersburg. "About a month is likely to elapse before any determined assault can be made on Port Arthur."
