HOME PRODUCT

Should Receive the Support of Every Business Man in Our Little City

The Observer reporter paid a very pleasant visit this morning to the Mayville Cigar Factory, was pleasantly received by Mr. Mayville, the amiable owner, and treated to some of his excellent and fragrant cigars. We learn that business in the cigar line is rapidly improving, and Mr. Mayville intends to put in three more expert hands to increase his force the first of next month.

We have three cigar factories in our town, and the people, the business men, should patronize home industries. They should push the home cigars to the front, as they should any other commodity manufactured at this place, for what results to the good of any undertaking or industry, at this place, results to the good of every citizen of the city and surrounding country, either indirectly or immediately.

La Grande is amply able to support three cigar factories, and it behooves all the retail cigar dealers, grocers, saloon men and all, to patronize home industries, get home cigars before the people, and why should they not, when they can get as good material and workmanship at home for the same money they can abroad.
