REPAIRING

IMNAHA ROAD

Enterprise, Or., July 27.—The Imnaha road, which was completely destroyed by the recent cloudburst, is being rebuilt as fast as possible. INSANE MAN CLIMBS DOME

Liberty, Mo., July 27.—Alonzo Haggard, an insane man, took possession of the dome of the county court house here today. The dome is 150 feet from the ground and the police feared to attempt to capture the man, believing that he might either harm them or jump to the ground and kill himself.

The man entered the courthouse at daybreak. (Going out on the railing surrounding the dome, he pulled himself to the base of the goddess of liberty by means of the lightning rod. A crowd watched him from the street, a trait that he would lose his balance and fall.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon, after having remained in his perilous position for six hours and a half, Haggard began to move about. He climbed further up and seated himself upon the arm of the goddess. The statue is 15 feet high and as he clung to the lightning rod pulling himself higher into space, the crowd that had collected below involuntarily turned away. Haggard, however, reached the height safely and amused himself by playing with the weather vane. Later he descended to his old place on the coping.

The man was captured tonight by a ruse. His sister was sent up through the trap door to the roof. Haggard came down from the dome to meet her and, while she held his attention, Sheriff Wymore slipped up behind him and captured him. The sheriff had no trouble in controlling him, as he offered no resistance. Haggard was sent to the hospital at St. Joseph tonight.
