School Money.

Moore distributed about $240,000 among the several school districts in Oregon. This money came from inthe 16th and 18th secti ns granted to the state by the general government when the territory was organized on August 14, 1848. The last apportionment was of the largest sum ever di vided among the schools of Oregon from the irreduceable school fund, being nearly $10,000 more than last year when it was $230,011.20.

The school population last year 43,757, and this year 148,720. In 1902 Oregon employed 4,510

In 1902 Oregon employed 4,510 structures, and that year paid in salaries to superintendents and teachers $1,-317,750. The total amount expended on the common schools in Oregon in literature. 1902, exclusive of buildings was $1.
