Items of Interest From All Over the State, Gleaned From Observer List Of Exchanges

It now looks like ex-governor Gear and Senator Mitchell will be before the people under the new primary law for their endorsement for the United States senatorship. Senator Mitchell's successor will be chosen two years from next January. This is quite a while in the future.

A forest fire is raging furiously near Holbrook, about 14 miles from Portland. A change in the wind brought the smoke towards Portland and the air was thick with the odor of burning wood.

After serving as host for the Knights Templar from all over the country, the Portland contingent left for the south on a special train last night and will pass the week in playing the role of guests at the San Francisco convalescence.

Portland, as well as the state of Oregon, will be well represented at the convalescence, for when the special train pulled out at 10 o'clock last evening there was not a spare berth on the five Pullmans.

At Eugene Oregon Sept. 3rd, Arthur Ditz, a plasterer, was stabbed in the chest, on the arms and in the face by Robert Stepton, an Excelsior factory employer, in the Manhattan saloon.

Secretary Shaw of the Treasury Department assures president H W Good that there will be a government mint at the Lewis and Clark Exposition. The mint will be an active exhibit, and the process of making money may be viewed by all. The coins will not be legal tender, but will contain the same percentage of gold and alloy as used in legal tender, and will be in the form of medals.

The injuries were severe but not dangerous.

The O R & N Co. has completed arrangements for building a new passenger and freight depot at Hood River. Supt. M J Buckley states that the contracts for the buildings have been let, and that they are to be completed within 60 days.

The Oregon state fair commences next Monday at Salem and continues to the 17th.

Professor J B Horner, of the Oregon Agricultural College, is in the city in the interest of the college. He has just returned from a trip through Maharashtra county. He expects to return home Thursday.

Contest Notice.

United States Land Office.
La Grande, Oregon.

July 28, 1904.
A sufficient contest affidavit having been filed in this office by Polanna Y. Boutin, contestant, against Homestead entry No. 7691, made October 30th, 1897, for E 1/2 Sec 10, T 10 N, R 10 W, Sec 9 Township 4 South Range 38, E W M. by George Cooper Contestee, in which it is alleged that said George Cooper has wholly abandoned said homestead entry for more than six months last past, and further that said entryman has abandoned said entry for more than four years last past and that he never made any improvements on said land, except a small house, and that said alleged absence from the land was not due to his employment in the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps of the United States as a private soldier, Officer, Seaman, or Marine, during the war with Spain, or during any other war in which the United States may be engaged.

Said parties are hereby notified to appear and respond and offer evidence touching said allegation at 10 o'clock a. m. on August 28th, 1904, before the Register and Receiver at the United States Land Office in La Grande, Oregon.

The said contestant having, in proper affidavit, filed June 14th, 1904, set forth facts which show that after due diligence personal service of this notice can not be made, it is hereby ordered and directed that such notice be given by due and proper publication.

E. Davis, Register.

HOME TEAM WINS.

Last Ball Game of the Season Won From the Pendleton Team By Home Aggregation

The last ball game of the season was played here at the grounds yesterday the game was one of the best of the season, the contestants being the Pendleton and La Grande teams. The score was eight to three in favor of La Grande, and the visitors were entirely shut out until the last inning when they recuperated and made three scores. The Pendleton team put up a good fight, but the result of this game as well as those played previously between the two teams, goes to show that La Grande has the best material.

A CASE of MANIA

(Original.)
"Is that Dr. Hamilton on the phone?"
"Yes, I am Dr. Hamilton."
"Mrs. Ward wants you to come to her immediately. She is very ill."
"All right. I'll go at once."
"Confound it!" exclaimed the doctor as he hung up the receiver and returned to a party of bachelors he was entertaining at dinner. He had that very day declined an invitation from this Mrs. Ward, a wealthy young widow, to escort her to the opera, his excuse being that he had a patient in charge whom he could not leave. The real cause of his declining was that a college classmate had come to town and the doctor desired to give him a stag dinner at his house.

"You fellows keep the ball rolling," he said. "I've got a call and must leave you for awhile. Patrick, keep the gentlemen well supplied with wine. There's a fresh box of cigars in the sideboard."
Dr. Hamilton was in too much of a hurry to get back to the party to wait for his own horse and fortunately found a passing cab. In ten minutes he was at Mrs. Ward's. He found her on a lounge in the library dressed in dinner costume, a lamp with a rose tinted shade standing on a table beside her "gazing a very becoming light on her face. The doctor advanced and, taking her wrist between his fingers, looked at her searchingly.

"What's the trouble?" he asked.
"I don't know. After dinner I was seized with a very singular feeling."
"Where?"
"In the ears."
The doctor removed the shade from the lamp and, taking a little glass from his instrument satchel, threw concentrated rays of light into the widow's left ear. Finding nothing unusual there, he examined the other ear.

"It's quite possible," he said, "that a tiny bug crawled into your ear and crawled out again. You hear nothing unusual now?"
"No, I haven't heard anything unusual."
"Then what was the sensation?"
"A terrible longing."
"Longing for what?"
"There it is again!" And a tremor ran over her shapely frame.
The doctor, thinking that it might be a symptom of insanity, looked steadily into her eye. It was clear as a bell, soft and liquid, as it met his. There was not even the slightest indication of nerve tension. The doctor was puzzled.

"I'm afraid I'm going to lose my mind, doctor," said the patient.
"Why so?"
"I have paroxysms in which I feel that I must hear lugubrious sounds."

HARD WALL PLASTER

Only costs about 50 per yard more than common plaster, and worth many times over.

ADVANTAGES
No danger of freezing as it can be used in zero weather.
Being flexible instead of brittle—as all sand mortars are—it will dent like wood when struck or jammed, instead of breaking doors, windows, pipe holes, etc are easily cut through it. It is a non conductor of electricity and thus prevents short circuiting. It adheres equally well to brick, stone or common lath. It contains no acids nor chemicals to corrode. It will not burn nor disintegrate by fire being a perfect protection for wood frame work. It will under no condition pit or blister.

Parties having plastering to do should consult me regarding this class of work. Estimates cheerfully given.
