

LA GRANDE EVENING OBSERVER.

VOLUME III LA GRANDE, OREGON, FRIDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 16, 1904 NUMBER 264

FOUR LARGE ENGINES

Four of the largest locomotives that ever came to the West arrived here yesterday afternoon. They will be used on the mountain division of the O R & N line between Huntington and Pendleton. These will be known as Nos. 190, 191, 192 and 193 of the type known as the Pacific and have simple engines with twenty two inch cylinders and twenty eight inch stroke. They weigh one hundred and twenty five tons without the tender and with the tender measure seventy five feet. To railroad men they are known as ten wheelers with a trailer. The driving wheels are six feet five inches high. The tank is what is known as the Vanderbilt type and has a water capacity of seven thousand gallons and a coal capacity of fourteen tons of coal. The coal space is so arranged that the coal will always be in reach of the fireman and he will not be required to climb back and shovel the coal down to the gang way. The engines are all equipped with the electric headlight and are in every way completely up-to-date. They will be placed in commission as soon as they can be set up and will take the place of the present 400 class.

Portland Markets

The drop in the eastern markets on wheat has made no material change in the wheat market in Oregon, and buyings by eastern parties at the prevailing prices are just as large, and the local millers are not going short in their supplies.

The oat market still remains the same, but with a good healthy tone. The markets will likely remain about the same during the season and there are no indications of any sensational advances.

The first cranberries of the season are now being brought into Portland from Tillamook, and are selling at $9 per barrel.

There is a good demand for live stock and prices are growing firmer. There was a rise of twenty five cents in the hog market today.

The ruling prices today are as follows:

HAY AND GRAIN

OS-TE-OP-A-THY

IT'S SWAY WIDER THAN IS USUALLY KNOWN
Do not suppose that Osteopathy is a good thing for only a few ills. That is futher from the truth than you now imagine. One of the surprises of investigating this science invariably is that its sway over disease is so extensive. It probably treats all ills, not strictly surgical, that are curable. In acute ills, like stomach and bowel troubles, nervous maladies and women's ills, it works wonders.

SHERIFF ISSUES CLOSING ORDER

On and After Midnight Saturday Business Houses Must Close Sundays--Gambling Must Stop.

The fiat has gone forth. The expected has happened. Sheriff Pennington who is clothed with authority has issued his order that all violations of the Sunday closing and gambling laws as far as his authority covers, which extends all over Union county, will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Since the announcement was first publicly made that this order was soon to be issued, several days ago, it has been freely discussed by those directly interested and unless there is a sudden change in the program, the laws governing gambling and Sunday closing will be complied with.

Conditions are decidedly different in this county than in Baker when sheriff Brown issued a similar order a few weeks ago. There the saloon and business men employed attorneys and tried to prevent the order of the sheriff from being carried out, but they finally yielded and the law in Baker county is being enforced.

There is no question but what a very large majority of the people of this county commend the sheriff in the stand he has taken.

THE ORDER
"LAWS WILL BE ENFORCED SUNDAY CLOSING, GAMBLING, ETC."
I respectfully call the attention of all Business People of Union County, to sections 1944-1950-1951-1958 and 1974 of Ballenger and Cotton's Annotated Codes of the State of Oregon. The above named Sections will be strictly followed, from and after Sept. 17th, beginning at twelve o'clock midnight. Any and all persons violating any of said Sections, will be prosecuted to the full extent of the Law.
C. C. Pennington, Sheriff."
