A Happy Meeting

Mr. Frank Bates manager of the Dick P. Sutton big show which plays at the Stewart Opera House in this city on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of this week and Mr. Thos. B. Bases manager of "A Runaway Match," which will be produced here on Oct. 21, are brothers and met today in this city for the first time in seventeen years. Neither of the brothers knew anything concerning the whereabouts of the other and the meeting here was entirely accidental each being here in connection with his work. Though the meeting was a surprise to both it was one of those pleasant and agreeable surprises that makes the heart beat faster and arouses tender memories of the past.

Souvenir Sale Begins

Souvenir dollars of the Lewis and Clark fair were placed on sale today for the first time, and before noon $1,500 worth of the coins had been disposed of, and a long line of people stood in waiting outside the cashier's window at the fair headquarters.—Oregon Journal

A Good Play

Stewart's opera house was crowded last evening by an enthusiastic audience to see the production of Hoyt's "A Texas Steer" which was greatly enjoyed by all present judging from the frequent applause. The entire company worked hard to please and succeeded admirably in the delineation of their parts. One of the most enjoyable parts of the performance was the music rendered by the Texas quartette who were encored time and again by the entire audience.

Mr Barton Improved

General Passenger Agent Joseph Barton of the Sumpter Valley railway, who ten days ago received a severe fall from his horse while inspecting the new line, is now well on the road to recovery.—Democrat.
