A Runaway Match

The Stewart Opera House will have the New York success "A Runaway Match" by Hark E. Swan, as an attraction for next Friday eve Sept 30. The play is conceded to be one of the very cleverest of farce comedy compositions that has ever been presented on the American stage. It is brimful of the most ludicrous situations and laughable scenes while the lines are bright and clever and at the same time there is nothing that would offend the most exacting.

The producing company is composed of clever people, many of whom appeared in the original cast when the play was presented in New York where it was a reigning success for an entire season. Among those figuring in the principal roles are to be mentioned the Messrs. Walfrid Wilson, Jack Prentiss, Ed Perry, Frank Adleton, B. Hender, T. Douglas, and the Misses Claire Washington, Louise Meyers and Myrtle Bunn. The organization is under the direction of the well known firm of Muller & Bates. Mr. Jos. Muller has directed and managed many of the highest class theatrical and musical and operatic attractions that have been offered the American playgoers during the present decade among which are to be mentioned the Polard Lilliputian Opera Company Tivoli Road Company and Nance O'Neill. Mr. Thomas Bates comes of the famous theatrical family of the same name.
