Steam Plow In Baker

Amon Thompson of this city will receive next week a big 25 horse power steam plow direct from the Eastern manufacturers. He has the contract for plowing a large amount of sage brush land northwest of the city and engine and plows have been shipped to him on the guarantee that they will plow between thirty and forty acres per day, turning a furrow twelve feet wide. There is no doubt but that Mr Thompson will have all the plowing he can do if the machine proves to be a success.—Baker City Herald.

Took Dinner In Pen

Governor Chamberlain visited the state penitentiary Wednesday and ate at the table with the convicts in order to investigate the manner of feeding them.

Dry Creek Driftings

Every one is happy and busy during these few days of open weather.

The Smith and Rinehart prune dryer is running night and day and turning out much of their usually fine product, while in the orchards is a scene of activity hard to beat.

The eight month old son of Mr and Mrs Bryan, after a brief but severe suffering with bowel trouble and a bruise on its cheek, was called to the beyond last Wednesday. The interment took place in the Summerville cemetery.

Our school has progressed to near the close of the first month under the management of Mr Boughman recently from Washington. The attendance is unusually small for this season but it is hoped there will soon be an increase.

The Christian Endeavor will give a Prune Social on Hallow'een at the school house, and all are invited to attend, prepared to buy "prunes by the wholesale at prices that are retail" but the ladies must bring a good supply of other good things to feed the sprites spooks. Omega

Every Body Laughs

"Finnigan's Ball" has made million laugh. Unlike most musical comedies, it has a good plot, with an interesting story and would be a good entertainment without a single specialty or musical number. The generous patranage accorded this successful farce has prompted the management to secure the best of the former and no less than nine of the latter, some of which are the season's Broadway successes The large company which includes a chorus of pretty girls is headed by Gallagher and Barrett, the leading exponents of legitimate Irish comedy At Stewards Opera house Friday 21
