News From Our Imbler Neighbors as Told By The Observers Regular Correspondent.

The president of the Union State visited the Imbler ward last Sunday. The meeting house was crowded at each of the services.

Better than the best:—I M Skillings has dug 31 potatoes that weigh 100 lbs, beating those sent to the Worlds Fair by Durham Wright. It took 33 of Mr Wright's prize winners to weigh 100 pounds.

Mrs J F Lloyd and niece, Miss Bernice Lloyd, left for Sumpter, Friday.

Oran Howell is slowly recovering from a seige of typhoid fever.

Hazel Welch has been quite ill.

Mrs Beattie Brown, who for two weeks has been the guest of I M Skillings, left Monday evening for McMinnville.

The Imbler corps of teachers attended the teacher's meeting at Cove Saturday.

J O Welch has moved to the farm he purchased, recently, near Alicel.

The Ladies of the Maccochere will give a dance at the L D S Hall Friday evening.

A surprise party was given Wednesday evening in honor of Cecil Lloyd's twentieth birthday. The young people spent the evening playing games. Refreshments were served at twelve. Those present were:—Etta, Florence and Nettie Coble, Jesse, Angie, Ethel and Edna Berry, Johnnie and Pearl Skilling, Guy Garn, Alvin Westenslow, Joe Salisbury, Moroni, Jack, and Christy Westenslow, Anna and Caddie Olson, John Couch, Lizzie and Tommy Page, Bernice, Gladys, Nellie Joe and Lawrence Lloyd.

The Fall of The Year

The beautiful fall of the year, in all its glory, is here, and over the roofs and the eaves winds scatter the gold tinted leaves. The land has been faithfully tilled, with produce our cellars are filled; And gathered from hillside and plain, We also have plenty of grain. Our harvests and crops have been fine, There's really no cause to repine; Mince pie and Thanksgiving are near, So here's to the fall of the year!
Then writers grow witty and sharp, Disclaiming on old themes to harp; Their jokes most attractive appear When cracked in the fall of the year.
Then here's to the fall of the year! A season we'll ever hold dear— It comes our sad moments to cheer, The beautiful fall of the year.
—Cincinnati Tribune

First Crop.

Republican Speaking

The Steward Opera house was comfortably filled last evening with people to listen to Hon G B Dimick and A F Hough, Presidential electors on the Republican ticket. C E Cochran, of the central committee presided and introduced the speakers in his affable and interesting style.
Mr Hough was the first speaker introduced who occupied the attention of the audience in a short speech wherein he made a graphic, though condensed review of the principles and acts of the Democratic party and contrasted present prosperity with the days from 1893 to 1898 under Cleveland, which brought forth hearty applause.
Mr Dimick in a more extended speech rapidly brought in review the condition of the people under the various tariff laws from the foundation of the government until now, emphasizing the historical fact that low tariff has ever been followed by hard times, low wages, stagnation, in business, want and misery among the poor, skipping and heavy losses among the middle or moderately well to do, and bankruptcy among the rich at low prices for farm products because the great mass of people had nothing with which to purchase only the bare necessities of life. He illustrated his points with apt anecdotes that convulsed the people with laughter. It was far into the night when the speaking closed but the audience was so well entertained that none suspected that it had grown late and when Mr Dimick closed the hearty applause evinced that the people had listened with pleasure; and they departed for their homes with renewed fervor for Roosevelt and Fairbanks.

BOOK COVERS.

All of the Cloth For Them is Made From Cotton Fabric.
All of the cloth used in the binding of books is made from cotton fabric, yet one would not say so on seeing the finished product. Some of it looks exactly like course linen. Other styles have an appearance of the finest kind of silk, while others have various sorts of finishes that look like leather, canvas, watered silk and a thousand different designs.
When the cloth comes from the mills it is treated in various ways to prepare it for the dyeing process, which is the most important. Different kinds of dyes are used in the different grades, and after this is done it is ready for the color machines.
These are really the same sort of machines that calico is made on. They are built of great steel rolls or cans that are heated to a high temperature by means of live steam passing through them constantly. The cloth passes through boxes filled with the aniline color that the cloth is expected to be colored with. This is mixed with a starch paste and is spread evenly all through the cloth.
The latter then continues through the steam heated cans and is finally rolled up at the back of the machine in a heavy roll of the desired color. The different finishes are given in a second process. The cloth is passed through very heavy and massive steel rolls which have been engraved with the design that is wanted. Fine lines running diagonally across the cloth will give a silk effect, and there are many other impressions that may be stamped on in this way.—Springfield Union.

APHORISMS.

In all things it is better to hope than despair.—Goethe.
Adversity borrows its sharpest sting from our impatience.—Bishop Horne.
He alone is an acute observer who can observe minutely without being observed.—Lavater.
If the ancients left us ideas, to our credit be it spoken, we moderns are building houses for them.—A. B. Alcott.
Money dishonestly acquired is never worth its cost, while a good conscience never costs as much as it is worth.—J P. Senn.
The one who will be found in tria capable of great acts of love is ever the one who is always doing considerate small ones.—F. W. Robertson.
To be humble to superiors is duty; to equals is courtesy, to inferiors is no bleness, and to all safety. It being a virtue that, for all its lowliness, commands those it stoops to.—Sir T More.

Good Road Notes

Stone, brick and steel tracks have not yet received the attention that they deserve on account of their comparative cheapness and durability. In this connection it is worthy of note that between Albany and Schenectady, N. Y., is a stone track road which is said to be fully as perfect as when it was built some fifty years ago.
A system of nearly 100 miles of excellent roads is found in Jasper county, Mo. The roadbed is first graded up with a considerable crown and with quite large ditches on each side. After the bed is properly made and rolled from four to eight inches of finely crushed zinc, locally known as "tailings," is spread on it. The road after a short period of use becomes smooth and hard.
Where a county has a steam road roller it can be used to great advantage in keeping the roads in repair when it is not required for construction work either by picking up and re-rolling macadam roads or by working the earth roads into shape after they have been treated by the road machine.
A. S. Graves, who lives near Shenandoah, la., manages to have good roads alongside of his farm nearly the year around. He keeps the road graded up properly, and when the ruts get dry and rough he goes out with his team and harrows and scrapes the road and makes it smooth.—Good Roads Magazine.
