Distressing Accident

(Observer Special)
Baker City Nov 9—One of the most unfortunate and distressing accidents that ever happened in Baker City occurred last evening resulting in the death of Waldo Bowers, one of Baker City's most exemplary young men.

The particulars as learned were that Bowers and W. B. Swackhammer an employee of the First National bank were on bicycles riding toward each other on Center Street, and when near the Nugget saloon, they came together with terrible force, throwing both to the ground. Bowers was carried into a nearby restaurant in an unconscious condition. He never regained consciousness and died a few hours after the accident occurred.

Mr. Swackhammer while badly bruised was at last accounts resting as easily as could be expected under the circumstances.

The funeral arrangements for Mr. Bowers will be completed today. The accident shows the absolute necessity for the enforcement of the ordinance relative to having lighted lamps on every wheel after dark. Had there been a lamp on Bower's wheel the accident might have been avoided.
