ELOQUENT SERMON TO CROWDED HOUSE

Dr. Ray Palmer Continues to Attract Large Audiences to Baptist Church to Hear His Forceful Discourses

An immense audience was present last evening to hear Dr. Ray Palmer, the evangelist, at the Baptist church in this city. The church was crowded until there was scarcely room for a chair or seat to be placed in the house. After music by the choir and a solo by Rev. Hall, envelopes were distributed to the congregation with the request that each one receiving an envelope should write a letter to Dr. Palmer and tell him what benefit the meeting had been to him or her.

Then he began his sermon of the evening on Theodore Roosevelt, taking as a text for his remarks the thirteenth chapter of Proverbs, verse 22: "A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children's children." The sermon was eloquent and forceful as are all those of the eminent evangelist. He took up the life and character of Roosevelt and painted his good traits in glowing and impressive terms. He pointed out and graphically described the christian manhood of Roosevelt, saying that this was the golden stairs by which he had climbed to a high place in the hearts and estimation of the American people and advised all to emulate his example; he lauded the enthusiasm of Roosevelt, stating that we could succeed in nothing without enthusiasm, and that we should exercise enthusiasm in christianity; he said that people seem to think when an evangelist came to conduct a meeting he must bring a revival with him, but there could be a revival by the most strenuous efforts of one single man, it must be in the enthusiasm and in the hearts of those attending the meeting.

The remarks of Dr. Palmer were full of enthusiasm, were eloquent and convincing, and were interspersed with frequent flashes of wit and humor. The W. R. C. and the G. A. R. attended in a body, and the beautiful United States flag as a background to the speaker lent impressiveness to the praises of America and American citizenship.

DRIFTINGS FROM DRY CREEK

George Fisher had the misfortune to be severely shaken up last week while riding a fractious horse. For several days alarm was felt for his injuries but Dr. Whiting allayed their fears, and says George will soon be alright again.

Simon Woodell as road supervisor is having much needed improvements put on many different sections of our roads. He is getting ready for storms to come.

Thanksgiving is drawing near and many in our vicinity are interested in a Social and live bird raffle to be given by the M. H. A. in the lodge rooms on main street in Sammerville Nov 18th thus giving us ample time to fatten and cook our turkey.

Singing school continues every Saturday night with large attendance and good interest. It is wonderful to see an old man past seventy stand all evening leading the young voices up and down the scale then out in a burst of some glorious old song of faith and love. Every one has a good feeling toward old Mr. Dunnington.

At the bride's parents in the locality called "Missouri Hollow" on Wednesday afternoon, Norman Pentecost and Clara Chadwick were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. A large concourse of friends and relatives were present and enjoyed a bountiful spread in the evening. All join in wishing the young couple happiness and success.

STILL FIGHTING AT MUKDEN.

Mukden, Nov. 12—There was a heavy exchange of artillery fire yesterday at the Russian volunteers dislodged a detachment of Japanese infantry from the trenches in front of Lone Tree hill. Comfortable dugouts are being built along the Russian lines and soldiers seem to think they will winter where they are. The idea that Oyama contemplates an attempt to take Mukden is not generally entertained. Both sides seem content for the present with suspension of hostilities.

Electric Possibilities

Lon Cleaver, one of the head push on the Grande Ronde electric scheme, says the electric railroad "must go," and he is in a position to know. Jack Oliver, another man close to the front in railroad circles, says the road "will go." These two opinions are interesting and important just now.—Republican.
