LADIES SAY

That the way to reach a man's heart is through his stomach. Try it by using Geddes Bros' canned fruits, delicious berries, lettuce, onions, and radishes, just fresh from the garden. We are the first store the farmers call on and of course we get the choice of everything.
We always have the freshest eggs, butter, etc.
Special attention given to phone orders.

omy of the spine, we can easily see cause particular nerves—in fact, the entire nervous system, to become irritated; and, further, by interfering with the normal circulation of the blood and of all the body fluids, the nutrition and the drainage of the whole organism becomes much damaged.

Briefly, then: This spine of invalid ism—of the person "just sick all over" who does not know what really is the matter," becomes the harvest of current medical practice as affording the widest range for medical inference, from general practice to multiple specialism, one phase and experience following swiftly after another, and lastly comes the surgeon in the hope that the knife or cautery may do what drugging would not, to-wit, give health back.

Look at the languid, drooping figure of one thus sick all over. What do you think is needed? Medicine? Will drugs straighten that spine? Will it replace the organs that are sagging and partially dormant? Will it tense those flabby muscles? Does drug medicine accomplish such things? Unfortunately no. We all wish that such healing were possible and that these unfortunate might be cured in such an easy way as by taking drugs.

No, we do not want medicine; but we do want intelligent mechanical intervention in these cases. We want Osteopathy to put these defective spines in order, first of all; and then we may hope for all subordinate symptoms to right themselves. Let us go after first causes and not waste time counter-acting after-effects—dealing with mere symptoms.

Yes, these defective spines can and must be righted; these normal curves can be more or less restored; relaxed ligaments and muscles can be "tuned up" to the point where they will hold the spinal column as it should be held.
Then propped and dragged down organs may be put back in their proper places; but not before! Soon, secondary health effects will appear, namely sluggish blood streams are aroused to activity and begin delivering to starved tissues rich, red blood again, which in turn has been produced through the more perfect assimilation of food.

Is it not plain now, that by the aid of Osteopathy pressures and obstructions are removed, retained poisons are excreted, nerves are stimulated until at length health—vital, robust health—is reclaimed from that vague conglomeration of symptoms common to those "just sick"—Osteopathic Health.

"I remember very distinctly," said an old gentleman in the Waldorf-Astoria to a New York Press man, "the first we inhabitants of Glasgow heard of Tom Lipton. And to think he is now a man of world renown. Tom and I were schoolboys together. Then I went to Eton and lost track of him. I studied law, and when I returned to Glasgow Tom had hung out his shingle as a green grocer in an obscure street. He was competing with well established firms and for three years plodded along almost unnoticed and with only a small number of customers. But one day the Glasgow papers bore an advertisement something like this:

"Thomas Lipton will sell at market price good cheeses filled with coin of the kingdom. The cheeses have been prepared especially and are laden with threepences, sixpences, shillings, half sovereigns and sovereigns."

"This astonishing announcement attracted a lot of attention, and the little shop of Lipton, green grocer, was besieged. He sold his cheese by the pound, and in each slice one was quite sure to find at least a silver coin. What a trade he drew! He sold cheese by the thousands of pounds. It cost him a goodly penny, too, because he gave away in this fashion about £500. But Lipton was established. For years he was known as 'Cheese Lipton,' and each Christmas he would conceive some brilliant scheme along lines that appealed to the public."

$1,687,500

The Bulletin just issued by the United States Government, after months of careful research, shows that in the Western States, the average family purchases annually goods to the amount of $750

On this basis the 2250 families visited with each issue of the Daily and Weekly OB-SERVER annually purchase merchandise to the amount of

$1,687,500

The natural logical conclusion cannot be otherwise than that no wide-awake business man who will take the few moments necessary to convince himself of the accuracy of the above statement, can afford to miss the opportunity of placing his announcements (25,500 each month) before this army of purchasers.

An ad under such conditions, properly taken care of will most certainly bring enormous returns on the investment.
