OREGON STATE NEWS

Salem will build a $10,000 school building this winter, made necessary by the growth of the school population.

For the want of a retaining wall, the sidewalk on an Astoria street was buried for a block November 26, by a landslide, and more is coming.

George Wisener suicided at Bend November 25, by hanging himself to a juniper. No cause known, but "he has been acting queerly for some time."

The evening of November 26, three freight cars on the Columbia Southern were ditched three miles south of Biggs, tearing up the track for 250 feet. No one was injured.

Fifty thousand sheep have been sold in Crook county, Oregon, this year, to outside buyers. Local papers say this is the largest number that was ever sold in that county in any one year.

J H Galbreath, insane, is in custody at Astoria. He spends 20 hours in the 24 shouting at the top of his voice either prayers or curses, declaring that "spirits are in his legs." He is the most troublesome insane person ever in custody in Clatsop county.

Earthquake in Illinois

(Observer Special)

Pittsfield, Ill, Nov 29th. A distinct earthquake was felt in this city this morning and lasted for ten seconds. The shock was felt at five o'clock, and although the people were greatly frightened there was no serious damage done.

Corbett-Nelson Fight

San Francisco, Nov 29—The betting on the Corbett Nelson fight which will be pulled off tonight is ten to four on Corbett, but there is an immense amount of five to ten dollar bets on Nelson. The indications are that this will be a fight that has not been called since the Corbett Britts engagement and there is no more money up on this fight than has been up on any fight since the one referred to.

Both of the men will take weight easily tonight. Nelson on his arrival in the city said, "I will win the fight by a knockout after Corbett is tired out. I am glad to hear of the latest odds for it gives me the chance to make money easy."

Japanese General Not Dead as Rumored— Japanese Use Dogs as Scouts

(Observer Special)

Mudken, Nov. 29—Skirmishes are reported to the eastward of Mudken, but there has been no definite Japanese advances, and at this time there is no material change in the situation. A Japanese prisoner says that General Kuroki is not dead as has been reported among the Chinese. The Japanese are using dogs as scouts, sending them out with ligonards attached to them and they unerringly locate the position of the Russians, and well as give warning of any movement against the Japanese.

ACTS LIKE A RABBIT

A Boy is Hypnotized and Told he is a Rabbit--Hypnotist Can't Break Spell

Duluth, Minn, Nov 28—William Burgeon, son of Adolph Burgeon, a farmer residing near Fertile, Minn, is under a hypnotic spell and imagines he is a rabbit and the spell apparently cannot be broken. Burgeon is 11 years old. He attended an entertainment at Fertile given by a traveling hypnotist who advertised himself as Professor Isalde. Among the volunteers who went upon the stage to be hypnotized was young Burgeon. He was easily hypnotized and when in this condition he was told that he was a rabbit. Later when the professor tried to bring the lad to his senses he was unable to do so. He worked all night without success then left for Minnea to get a nerve specialist, whom he said would restore the boy's mind to its normal condition. The professor has since not been seen, and the father of the boy swears vengeance. William squeaks like a rabbit, but utters no other sound. It is with difficulty that his parents can get him into the house at night. It is feared that the lad will die as his health is wanting fast. The boy has been in this condition for 10 days.
