A FREE DAY AT THE FAIR

Gates Thrown Open to Children and Others who Had Been Unable to Attend

Observer Special

St. Louis, Dec. 1—Early winter weather has reached this point.

St Louis Dec. 1—The gates of the fair were thrown open this morning to the children and others who from a financial reason were unable to attend the fair. The crowds which took advantages are enormous. President David R Francis was the guest of honor. The Fair was closed with befitting honors. The attendance was a record breaker. The estimated attendance today reached 18,317,457. The day was proclaimed a holiday in all of the schools in St Louis and also throughout the state.

The fair is considered one of the greatest in the history of all fairs.

Colorado Potatoes

Greeley, Col., Dec. 1—A conservative estimate of this season's potato crop in the Greeley district puts it at 15,000 carloads, or 3,000 carloads more than that of last year The selling price is much lower this year than last. Growers generally are selling only enough to pay the immediate expenses of digging The potatoes ripened in the ground and are in excellent shape for keeping. Growers are storing their crops in dugouts, as better prices are expected as the season advances.

Fields at Lone Tree this fall show yields of from 150 to 200 sacks to the acre, For the last three years crops in this section have been damaged by hail and some growers attribute the enormous crop to the hail.

Vote In Utah

Observer Special

Salt Lake, Dec. 1—The official vote of the state of Utah at the recent election shows the highest vote cast for a republican presidential elector to be 52,444 and highest for a democratic elector to 29,031. Roosevelts plurality therefore was 5757.

Negotiations Ended

Berlin Dec. 1—The negotiations which have for some time been pending and hope of the consummation of which have been expressed by all concerned, in regard to the commercial treaty between Germany and Austria Hungary, have been declared off completely and finally.

The semi official papers here are exasperated over what is defined here as the Austro-Hungarian obstinacy, and threaten to denounce the existing treaty and open tariff hostilities as a means of showing Austria Hungary that reciprocity is better than a tariff war.

Gruelty to Horses

Every now and then we notice standing on the street a horse reined up tightly, with an overdraw check-rein.

This holds the horse's neck and head in a very uncomfortable position. There he stands, perhaps hours, holding his head first on one side, then the other, trying to rest his neck from the needlessly cruel position in which he is held.

Perhaps the owner is inside doing some business. Maybe smoking or drinking. Possibly preaching a sermon or attending a prayer meeting. But whatever he is doing he has allowed himself to be thoughtlessly very cruel to his horse.

We always feel like unreining such a horse. Sometimes we really do so. It may be taking liberties with other people's property, but the the end justifies the means.

A horse ought to be reined up when hitched on the street. Otherwise, he is liable to put his head down, trying to reach things on the ground, and he may get his foot over the reins or lines and tangle himself up, to his injury. Therefore, a horse ought to be reined up, so as to keep him from putting his nose to the ground. But he ought to be reined loosely.

The overdraw is a good precaution against runaways, and when properly adjusted to the horse's comfort it is not condemned. But a tight overdraw that compels the poor horse to hold his head high and stick his nose out, is barbarous.—Ex.

NAN PATTERSON SERIOUSLY ILL

New York Dec. 1—Nan Patterson is ill at the Tombs with tonsilitis and a high fever. Dr McGuire, the Tomb's physician, says he thinks the young woman will be able to appear in court Monday when her case is called again

Hospital Burning

Pueblo Colo. Dec. 1—St Mary's hospital caught fire at 1:30 o'clock and is still burning. A high wind is blowing Three hundred patients are in the building. They are being carried out by firemen.

Seize American Vessels

East Port Main, Dec. 1—Ten American fishing craft, eight sailing and two steam, were seized by the Canadian fisheries protective cruiser Curlew and fined for illegal fishing in Canadian waters. It is understood that the fines will be paid and the matter will not involve an international question.

IS HIS SEVENTH TERM.

President Diaz, of the Republic of Mexico, is Inaugurated for the Seventh Time

Observer Special

City of Mexico. The inauguration of Gen. Perfirio Dias as president of the republic of Mexico for the seventh term and Senor Don Ramon Carral as first vice president took place today before the chamber of deputies. The principal streets of the city were decorated with flags and the entire day was given over to games and a general good time and national celebration

Hot Air or Hot Water

While there is and has been more or less talk the past few months with reference to putting in a large packing house, fruit dryer, vinegar works, cereal mills, sash and door factory, machine shops, while out on our rounds we were informed that it was the intention of the parties who alone could accomplish such an undertaking that La Grande would in the near future be heated with hot water from Hot Lake

The Observer interviewed parties who are supposed to be in touch if such was contemplated but they professed to know nothing relating to the proposition There is no question but that there is a large volume of hot water going to waste a few miles distant and such an undertaking could doubtless be accomplished.

Inaugurated Today

Porfirio Diaz will again be inaugurated president of Mexico today in the City of Mexico with great pomp. He was born in Oaxaca Mexico Sept. 15th 1830 and is now over 74 years of age. Diaz has been president of Mexico since 1877—27 years during which Mexico has enjoyed greater prosperity than for any other period of its history. Diaz is of mixed blood, his great grand mother being part Spanish and part Indian.

Let Your Nerves Think for You

Do not deaden a crying nerve with opium, but remove the prod that makes the outcry Nerves are intelligent—they are, in fact, the material basis for human reason—and they do not cry "wolf!" "wolf!" unless there is cause for it. It would be one way to restore confidence in the sheepfold by giving the lambs something to destroy all sense of fear at the approach of the devourer; but it would not make for their welfare Nor does opium, or any other drug which corrupts the faithful guardianship of the nervous system, protect the body against the wolf fang of disease. It simply paralyzes the usual actions and reactions by which the body over comes its enemies and secures its integrity. The osteopathic physician seeks to find the prod that causes the pain of gastralgia, the overwork of St Vitus dance or the lethargy of paralysis. He removes it, when that is possible, and the sensible nerves cease their babble of torment by readjusting themselves to normal activity. Pain is the prayer of the body for relief from oppressive anatomical and physiological conditions—not the asking for nerve intoxication Be reasonable Let your nerves think for you. If they tell you they know there is trouble, go to an osteopath. Your body needs good engineering.

Denver Election Frauds

Grand Jury Asked to Investigate Peabody's Method of Securing Campaign Funds.

(Observer Special)

Denver Dec. 1—Judge Mullins today issued an order calling upon the grand jury to investigate the alleged election frauds alleged to have been committed in the recent city election. RUBBER
With Life in it

When you buy anything in rubber goods it pays to get the kind with rubber in it. Many makers of rubber goods are pliant to the demand for cheapness, and hence the market is flooded with inferior goods that hardly resemble rubber. Quality counts in this line, and we are careful to buy of makers who have a reputation for turning out high grade goods only. You can have confidence in the rubber goods we offer, no matter how low the price is.
