WHAT SOME PEOPLE IN AND OUT OF TOWN ARE DOING.

The regular dances will take place at the Commercial Club Friday evening.

La Grande people are making all preparations for Christmas.

The dance at the Commercial Club last night by the Jollity Dancing Club was the usual social success.

Remember the home cooked dinner and supper to be served by the Ladies of the Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church, Dec. 17th, Armory Hall.

Mesdames Gulling and Lilly will entertain the ladies of the Whist Club at the home of the former tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. K Hug, one of the most prosperous farmers living near Summer ville, was a La Grande visitor yesterday.

Miss Mollie Proebstel and Syra Kahn will entertain the members of the 401 Club at the home of the latter next Monday evening.

Another special feature of the Bazaar to be given by the Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church, December 16th and 17th at Armory Hall, will be the dressed dolls for the little ones. Many will be on sale, large and small.

H W Brooks, traveling representative of the Portland Journal has been in the city the past few days soliciting. He is giving a special rate of $4.-25 per year daily and Sunday. He has secured a large list of subscribers at this rate.

Editor Maxwell, of the Oregon Scout was a La Grande visitor today. Brother Maxwell reports Union at the top notch of prosperity and the Scout about four notches ahead of Union. We acknowledge a very pleasant call from the gentlemen.

The Local Press

The local paper is not regarded with the degree of importance to which it is entitled. The live local paper has a great influence in the community in which it is published. It may be safely assumed that the editor is not only honest and industrious, but he must have ability or he could not successfully conduct a local newspaper. Too often in arranging for picnics or open meetings the value of the local paper is overlooked. The committee on arrangements many times will cheerfully pay the regular price for flaming posters but forget to buy space in the columns of the local paper. Quite frequently, the committee will send to some large city for the posters, then expect the editor of the local newspaper to donate space in his paper for the good of the cause. This is poor policy. The wise committee, when the camp is to have a public meeting, will call first upon the editor of the local paper and buy some space. If $5 or $10 is handed to the editor with a request that he give the coming event a good send off, he can be trusted to do the generous thing and it will be known that the meeting is to be held. If you are not to have a meeting, yet would like to "stand in" with the local paper, have your camp card inserted. This will only cost $5 or $10 a year, but it will be money well expended. We know whereof we speak. Country editors are only human and the members of the wise camp keep in close touch with them and the best touch is to patronize them. Buy camp stationery of them and pay for some space in the columns of their papers.—Modern Woodman.

Decided To Locate

J L Kallan, who recently arrived from the Indian Nation and who has been looking over the valley with a view of locating has found the place he was looking for and yesterday completed the deal whereby he becomes the owner of the Frelagg place. The place comprises one hundred and sixty acres is as good land as can be found in the Grande Ronde valley. It will produce anything from first class mules to humming bird seed. The place is well improved and January first Mr Kallan will possess one of the banner places in the county. Mr Kallan says he has been over a considerable part of this earth and has found nothing which so completely fills the bill as the valley, and he is fully satisfied that he has secured for his own use as good a quarter section as there is in the valley. The consideration was $8,300. Mr Kallan has the ear marks and the road brands of rustling business man and the citizens of this valley are to be congratulated upon securing him as a permanent citizen.

It declares that diseases of the blood other than those due to germs from without are chargeable to the impaired condition of one or more of the bodily organs; and that such impaired condition is due to an interrupted blood or nerve supply to that organ which must be restored to bring back health.
