Special Services at Presbyterian Church

The church was well filled again last night at the evangelistic meeting. The solos by Prof. Powers "The Savior is calling you Sinner" and "Why not say yes tonight" were heart searching and persuasive.

Scripture Reading was 1 King 18:31. Rev Needham said "Two children of Israel had been rebellious people in the wilderness for forty years and after they were brought across the Jordan into Canaan they were still rebellious."

This proud, haughty woman J. rebelled all the army at her command and there fear the Israelites worshipped the Gods of the groves and then it was more popular. Popularity is one of the greatest curses of Jesus Christ. A fashionable church is a holy refrigerator. These tea parties, card parties and dancing parties are the things that interfere with our churches today. The old doctrines of the gospel are not popular today. Jesus Christ was not popular. You could have brought him for a song.

Why are you halting between two opinions, two, that's where is the trouble? Because there are two Gods. You have on one hand God himself on the other hand the God of Ambition and the God of pleasure. There is no neutral ground.

If you walk out of this church tonight rejecting your Savior you are simply a walking corpse, dead while you live. Why halt ye between two opinions?

Our Lord is coming some of these days but we must go down into death and these bodies must be raised and we must stand in the presence of God giving account of our awful life. If we do not take Jesus Christ as our Savior there is a resurrection of the just and unjust. There is such a place as Heaven a home for the children of God. Will you shun the awful future and will you accept Jesus Christ tonight and get ready for the home beyond the skies? How long halt ye between two opinions?

Enjoyable Card Party

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weatherby entertained a number of their friends at a card party at their home. The event was a most enjoyable one, and all who were present will long remember the hospitality of the host and hostess. After numerous and interesting games of cards, the company was delighted with songs by Miss Winifred Way, and by recitations from Miss Mabel Stacey and others. The entire evening was one of unalloyed pleasure mixed with friendly repartee. After the games and the music and recitations, the persons present were treated to a sumptuous banquet. It is reported that Miss Anna Graham received the prize in the card games, but she will not tell the name of it. Those present were: Misses Lena Jones, Edna Parker, Anna Graham, Mabel Stacey, Winifred Way, and Mrs. Frank Pike. The gentlemen who were present were Messrs. Ferguson, Ferguson, Claude Jones, Mitchell, and Mr. Frank Weatherby.

The Marshalship

There is evidently going to be a fight for the marshalship at the coming city election if all run who are rumored to be in the race. There may be others but the following are reported to be sizing up their friends. L. L. Rayburn who has presided over the peace and dignity of the city for the past two years. B. F. Wade who for the past year has acted as night deputy. Frank Childers who in years past served this city as marshal for several terms and J. W. Walden who for several years and later was deputy sheriff. J. H. McLachlen friends since it has been considered a free for all race urged him to enter but up to the present time he has not moved to groom down for the goal.

Elected Delegates

La Grande Camp Modern Woodmen of America met last evening and elected three delegates to attend the Woodman county convention which will be held at Island City the first Wednesday in April. The following were elected as delegates and alternates S. R. Haworth, F. B. Curry, and John Hall; Alternates, Wm. Earls, Hart Watson and A. J. Warren.

Funeral Today

The funeral of the late John Morrison, who died last Tuesday in Portland was held this afternoon at one o'clock at the Presbyterian church the Rev. E. B. Hays officiating. The remains arrived this morning and were met at the train by Giffin and Hogan, funeral directors, and taken to their undertaking parlors on Depot street, and from there taken to the Masonic temple where the impressive ceremony of that order was held. From there they were taken to the Presbyterian church where the funeral sermon was preached. The interment took place in the Masonic cemetery. The deceased was an honored pioneer of this valley and leaves a host of respected relatives and friends to mourn his death.
