Lassoed Love
A Bachelor Oregon cattle king, who had become tired of mavericking around the home corral in single blessedness, ventured into Chicago on a wife-hunting expedition. He scoured the canyons and the foothills of the windy city and finally located a bunch of sleek looking heifers, well fed and trimly built, in a department store. After the boss rancher had weighed him that the brand on the beauties was duly registered, the man from the west galloped into the middle of the bunch and proceeded to cut out the prettiest. He gradually worked her to the edge of the herd as the others shied off, and at the first pitch of his lariat the noose settled down over her and he had little difficulty in putting the cupid brand over the right one. He then rushed her aboard the cars and hiked for the home corral where she is grazing on the richest feed on the green hills of eternal happiness the star of the whole outfit. We'll take cigars, Jock.—Baker Herd d.

Resolution
Resolutions adopted by Hope Chapter No 9 Order of the Eastern Star.
Whereas, the measure of his years being added, the Supreme Master has called to the Great Chapter on High our brother J M Church, and
We are, Although we are, submissive to the Divine Will, believing that "He doeth all things well" we miss one from Hope Chapter whom we dearly loved; not only as a brother in the Order, but as a dear personal friend to each of us, and as a kind and honorable gentleman in his bearing toward all mankind. One who fulfilled every obligation, and who illustrated in his life the sublime virtues inculcated in the teachings of our order. One who gave us advice in our troubles, sympathy in our sorrows and aid in our misfortunes. One by whom the cry of the widow and the orphan was never heard in vain.
Again we are reminded that the messenger of death comes alike to all. One by one the links of our earthly chain fall apart in death to be joined again on the Other Shore.
Therefore be it resolved, That we, the members of Hope Chapter No 9 Order of the Eastern Star do deeply deplore the loss of our brother; and that we extend to his bereaved son and sister assurance of our sincere sympathy.
That our chapter and jewels be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days.
That a copy of these resolutions be entered on the minutes of the Chapter, that a copy be sent to the son and one to the sister of deceased, and also a copy to the public press. Signed:
