OHIO RIVER FLOODS

By Scripps News Association

Maritta, Ohio, March 21.—The Ohio river has passed the 31 foot stage here, and is raising six inches every hour. It is expected that the river will reach the forty foot mark by Wednesday at noon, and this will inundate the entire business portion of the town. It has been raining steadily for twenty hours.

PEOPLE ARE WARNED

Pittsburg, Pa., March 21.—The weather bureau issued the following report at ten o'clock this morning: "Preparations should be immediately made for possibly the greatest flood in years. The Monongahela river shows unmistakeable signs of reaching a very high stage, and heavy rains are falling along its tributaries," The Monongahela river is one of the principal tributaries to the mighty Ohio river, and the high water in the Monongahela will increase the already exceptionally high floods in the Ohio.

10,000 HOMES INUNADATED

Wheeling W Va.—Tht stage of the Ohio River at ten this morning was thirty nine feet, and it is still rising at the rate of four inches per hour. The damage to property is immense. Within fifty miles of here ten thousand homes have been inundated, The railroads are tied up and the mills closed here.

Remains Brought Home

(By Scripps News Association)

San Francisco March 21—The steamer "Almeda", bearing the remains of Mrs. Leland Stanford, arrived from Honolulu this morning.

The "Alameda" was met at Golden Gate by two revenue cutters, with representatives of the Standford University, and relatives of Mrs Stanford on board. As the steamer passed up the bay, the flags on all the vessels in the harbor were at half mast. Soon the quarentine officials completed their customary task, and the "Alameda" was docked and the steel casket containing the remains of Mrs. Stanford was taken off and placed on a special funeral car which was carried to the Southern Pacific depot, at which place the remains were placed on a special funeral train to be conveyed to Palo Alto.

Detectives Reynolds and Cullanden who were sent to Honolulu to assist in the investigation of the death of Mrs. Stanford, were passengers on the "Almeda", and brought with them all the papers in the case gathered at Honolulu, and portions of the organs of Mrs. Stanford; which will be analyzed. The detectives were met on board by the chief of police, the captain of the detectives and the attorney for Mrs. Stanford. A conference was immediately held.

Until the hearse drove off to make room for the carriages hardly a word was spoken. Afterwards bustle and reaction stirred the crowd as they thronged about the gang plant to see Misses Berner and Hunt as they decended. No opportunity was given the newspaper men to speak with either of them. Both of the women were surrounded by several men and hastened into a carriage which drove quickly away, In Miss Berner's carriage were dectives Reynolds and Callumand and her brother. This is perhaps, the most significant fact brought out in days of a series of deeply veiled events.

One of the dectives remarked significantly that the criminal aspects of the case were not yet closed, Detectives Reynolds and Collendan declined to utter a word regarding the case. Their reports will be turned over to their superiors A great crowd gathered at the docks as soon as it was learned that the "Alameda" had been sighted, and for almost two hours waited in respectful silence for the docking of the steamer and the bringing ashore of the casket.

Will Not Fight League

[By Scripps News Association]

Atlanta, Georgia, March 21—President Kavanaugh of the Southern League announced today that his league would not engage in the war against the American league. Griffiths and O'Neill refuse to talk today.

Hotels Closed

Chicago March 21— One hundred hotels, chiefly in the down town district, were closed today by Building Commissioner Williams, for not complying with the provisions of the building ordinance.

Case Drags Slowly

By Scripps News Association

Sheridan, Wyo., March 21—The Cody case is dragging slowly along, and the reading of depositions has consumed two days. The decision is expected about Thursday. The consensus of opinion is that Col. Cody has lost the case and will take an appeal.

Still Continues Search

Paris March 21—The adjournment of congress without making an appropriation for the recovery of the remains of Paul Jores has not interrupted the search. Ambassador Porter has unofficially conducted the search for the last six years, personally meeting the expense. After determining that the body was buried in St Louis cemetery the ambassador purchased the right to make the necessary excavations, running subterranean galleries under the buildings. This has already resulted in the exploration of a quarter of the cemetery.

Although it is possible the coffin may have been surreptitiously removed, it is the ambassador's intention to explore thoroughly every portion of the cemetery, so as to procure either the remains or forever settle the question of their recovery.

MUST SETTLE ISSUE

(By Scripps News Association)

Washington, March 21—It was learned today at the State Department that ten days ago Minister Bowen, was instructed to inform President Castro that the United States would then "pursue its own course" The department has not been informed of the reply of Castro, but it is reasonable to suppose that a seizure of the customs at the ports will follow a refusal.

ELEVEN DEAD KNOWN

[By Scripps News Association]

Brockton N. Y. March 21— The work of searching the ruins of the Grover shoe factory is proceeding slowly today. The body of engineer Rockwell was found this morning. This makes the eleventh body identified, and the fifty fifth recovered. A full list of the employees can not be obtained until the fire proof vault is reached, and will probably not be opened for twenty four hours.

Twelve Men Killed

[By Scripps News Association]

Buda Pest March March 21— An explosion of fire damp in the Drankova coal mine today killed twelve men and seriously injured four. Twelve more are still missing, whose fate is still unknown.
